Counsel for Defendant Veres; Co-Counsel for Defendants Robert and Catherine Cox

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF ARIZONA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF YAVAPAI

Defendants Cox, Veres as well as those joined property owners upon whose behalf undersigned counsel have entered an appearance and filed an Answer to Plaintiffs' First Amended Complaint (collectively herein, "Defendants") move for a new trial on the Court's June 14, 2013, Under Advisement Ruling ("June 14, 2013 UAR") granting Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment filed December 28, 2012 ("Plaintiffs' Third MSJ"). This Motion is premised upon Ariz. R. Civ. P., Rules 56 and 59(a), and is supported by the accompanying Memorandum of Points and Authorities and the Record on file, which shall be incorporated by reference.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

For the sake of brevity, a comprehensive timeline of the procedural history of this case is appended hereto for the court's convenience. See Appendix attached hereto.

I. Overview.

As an initial matter, a new trial is warranted because the Court improperly tethered the dispute surrounding enforceability/abandonment of the subject Declaration[1] entirely to Paragraph 2 and to the undated Affidavit of Robert Conlin, which focuses on Paragraph 2 only. See, e.g., June 14, 2013, UAR, p. 7 ("The issue is whether the property remains residential, or whether the property is no longer rural or no longer residential"); Ariz. Ct. App., Cox v. Cundiff, CA-CV 06-0165, Memorandum Decision filed 05/24/07 ("Memo. Dec."), at ¶¶ 19, 20. However, it is crystal clear that violations of the Declaration are not limited solely to Paragraph 2 as they pertain Defendants' abandonment defense. Rather, as detailed herein, the Record is replete with evidence of hundreds of violations of Paragraphs 3, 5, 7, 8, 9, 11, 12 and 16, as well as Paragraph 2, of the CC&Rs. All of this evidence was relevant in determining whether a question of fact constrains the Court from entering summary judgment on the issue of the enforceability of the CC&Rs. More importantly, Plaintiffs never controverted the foregoing evidence. Rather, Plaintiffs only offered as support for their Third MSJ an invalid affidavit and a previously-undisclosed amateur video-recording that fails to fully and accurately depict myriad CC&R violations. See Ariz. R. Evid. 106. In their Response, Defendants pointed out that the Court had determined more than once that there was sufficient evidence establishing that a question of fact existed concerning abandonment of the Declaration, pointing to the Court's April 4, 2005, Under Advisement Ruling that "there is a material factual issue regarding whether the restrictions in this case have been so thoroughly disregarded as to result in a change in the area . . . and amounts to abandonment of the entire Declaration . . . .  The issue of abandonment will have to be litigated before the Court will be in a position to decide the enforceability of any term of the restrictive covenants." [emphasis added]. Therefore, the issue of abandonment should be litigated as opposed to being summarily decided.

Second, the Court's June 14, 2013, UAR was premature as there has been no ruling on Defendants' April 25, 2103, Motion to Dismiss, which is premised upon Rule 19. Thus, until the Court determines the issue of whether all of the indispensable parties have properly been joined, the Court is prohibited from rendering any dispositive rulings herein. Stated another way, once the Court ordered on remand the joinder of all of the Coyote Springs property owners not already named in the litigation[2] as indispensable parties, the Court was affirmatively obligated to ensure that joinder was completed prior to rendering dispositive summary rulings. Because the Court's ruling on the issue of abandonment affects each of the Absent Owners in Coyote Springs Ranch, proper joinder assures that the Absent Owners have their 'day in court'.[3]

[2] Referred to herein as the "Absent Owners".

[3] The purpose of process is twofold: (1) to provide parties with notice of the action and (2) to vest the court with jurisdiction. In the Matter of the Appeal In Maricopa County Juvenile Action No. JS-5860, 169 Ariz. 288, 290-91, 818 P.2d 723, -- (App. 1991). "The trial court lacks jurisdiction to enter judgment adverse to a party when there is lack of proper service on that party." Id. at 291 (citing Kadota v. Hosogai, 125 Ariz. 131, 134, 608 P.2d 68, 71 (App. 1980)). "An adjudication that extinguishes property rights without giving the property owner an opportunity to be heard cannot yield a `valid judgment[ ]'" and required the non-party property owner to be joined." Durham County v. Graham, 663 S.E.2d 467 (App. N.C. 2008) (quoting Karner v. Roy White Flowers, Inc., 351 N.C. 433, 440, 527 S.E.2d 40, 44 (2000)) (cited by Memo. Dec.).

II. The Trial Court Erroneously Granted Plaintiffs' Third MSJ and Its Ruling Should Be Reversed or a New Trial Granted.

A. The Law of the Case Doctrine.

Subject to three exceptions that are not applicable to the case at bar[4], the law of the case doctrine precludes the court from reexamining an issue previously decided by the same court in the same case. Mann v. GTCR Golder Rauner, LLC, 483 F.Supp.2d 864, 870 (Dist. Ct. Ariz. 2007) (citing Hydrick v. Hunter, 466 F.3d 676, 687 (9th Cir. 2006)). All that is necessary is that the issue in question must have been decided (i) explicitly or (ii) by necessary implication in the previous disposition. Id. This point was succinctly stated in Mozes v. Daru, 4 Ariz.App. 385, 420 P.2d 957 (1966), as follows:

> Care must be taken to eliminate "horizontal appeal" or the practice of bringing substantially the same motion before different superior court judges in the hope of eventually finding one who will make a favorable ruling. These are clear abuses and should not be tolerated.

Mozes 4 Ariz. App. at 389, 420 P.2d at -- . In the case at bar, since the date of the Court's April 4, 2005, Under Advisement Ruling ("April 4, 2005 UAR"), holding that the issue of abandonment will have to be litigated, Plaintiffs did not develop any new evidence.[5] Rather, Plaintiffs engaged in a practice not condoned by the Court. However, Judge Mackey's April 4, 2005, UAR is the law of the case, warranting reversal of the Plaintiffs' Third MSJ.

[4] The three exceptions are as follows: the decision is clearly erroneous and its enforcement would mark a manifest injustice, intervening and controlling case authority makes reconsideration appropriate, or substantially different evidence was adduced at a subsequent trial.

[5] The only evidence that Plaintiffs presented in support of their Third MSJ was a video tape of partial views of Coyote Springs property, which Judge Jones did not appear to consider in ruling on Plaintiffs' Third MSJ. It is not addressed in the subject June 14, 2013 UAR.

B. The Law Governing Summary Judgment.

Extreme care should be used in granting a motion for summary judgment. Lawless v. Ennis, 3 Ariz.App. 451, 415 P.2d 358 (App. 1966). In addition, granting summary judgment requires satisfaction of two prerequisites: the record must show that (i) there is no genuine dispute as to any material fact and only one inference can be drawn from those undisputed material facts; and (ii) based upon the undisputed material facts, the moving party must be entitled to judgment as a matter of law. Dutch Inns of America, Inc. v. Horizon Corp., 18 Ariz. App. 116, 118, 500 P.2d 901, -- (App. 1972). "In opposing summary judgment, a party does not have to present its entire case. That is the purpose of a full trial. Rather, the party must only present sufficient facts to show a genuine factual dispute which a jury might reasonably believe." See Lowther v. Hopper Truck Lines, 92 Ariz. 344, 346, 377 P.2d 192, 193 (1962); Ainsa v. Salt River Valley Water Users Ass'n, 6 Ariz.App. 290, 432 P.2d 149 (1967). See Allyn v. United Bank of Arizona, 167 Ariz. 191, 196, 805 P.2d 1012, -- (App. 1990)

All inferences from documents supporting motions for summary judgment must be viewed in a light most favorable to the party opposing the motion. Hall v. Smith, 214 Ariz. 309, ¶ 2, 152 P.3d 1192, ¶ 2 (App. 2007) (citing Bothell v. Two Point Acres, Inc., 192 Ariz. 313, ¶ 2, 96 P.2d 47, 49 (App. 1998)); City of Phoenix v. Space Data Corp., 111 Ariz. 528, 534 P.2d 428 (1975) ("Summary judgment is not to be made a substitute for trial even in the interests of the efficient administration of justice. It is not designed to resolve factual issues but to ascertain whether such issues exist") (citing In re Estate of Accomazzo, 105 Ariz. 137, 460 P.2d 632 (1969)); Berry v. Robotka, 9 Ariz. App. 461, 453 P.2d 972 (App. 1969) ("In determining whether there is any issue of fact, the court should resolve any reasonable doubt in favor of the party resisting a motion for summary judgment."). Summary judgment should not be granted if, on examination of the entire record, it is determined that there is a disputed fact which, if true, could affect the final judgment; litigants are entitled to a trial where there is the slightest doubt as to the facts. Livingston v. Citizen's Utility, Inc., 107 Ariz. 62, 65, 481 P.2d 855, -- (1971) ("Only when there is but one reasonable inference to be drawn from the evidence does the question become one of law for the court") (citing Burlingham v. Gray, 22 Cal.2d 7, 137 P.2d 9 (1943)). In applying the foregoing standards, "summary judgment" should be cautiously invoked and used only when it clearly appears that there are no triable issues of fact...." Lawless, supra, at 456, -- (citing Hoffman v. Babbitt Trading Co., 203 F.2d 636 (9th Cir. 1953)) (emphasis added). Failure to heed this cautious approach deprives the opposing party of a full hearing on the merits, to which they are entitled. Id. This is the case even where "the judge may be of the opinion that he will have to direct a verdict for one party or the other on the issues he should hear the evidence first rather than attempt to try the case in advance on motions for summary judgment. When the case is tried evidence may be produced which would put an entirely different light upon what happened." Id.

Put another way, the law is "well settled" that summary judgment should not be entered unless the facts are clear and undisputed, and if there is controversy on a factual question, judgment should be withheld until proof has been made i.e., a determination following a trial. Phoenix Feed and Seed Co. v. Adams, 78 Ariz. 292, 279 P.2d 447 (1955). And, regardless of who has the burden of proving facts at trial, the party moving for summary judgment has the burden of showing the lack of existence of any genuine issue of material fact. Elerick v. Rocklin, 102 Ariz. 78, 81, 425 P.2d 103, -- (App. 1967). Finally, the Arizona appellate courts have established that affidavits may be used for the purpose of determining whether an issue of fact is presented; however, they cannot be used as a basis for deciding the fact at issue. Frazier v. Consolidated Tungsten Mines, Inc., 80 Ariz. 261, 296 P.2d 447 (1956).

Applying the foregoing law and principles to this case leads to the conclusion that the Court was constrained from entering summary judgment in favor of Plaintiffs and reversal is warranted.

C. The Law Governing the Court's Interpretation of the Declaration of Restrictions.

The law in Arizona governing the interpretation of contracts such as the Declaration was set forth in Employers Mut. Cas. Co. v. DGG & CAR, Inc., 218 Ariz. 262, ¶ 24, 183 P.3d 513, 518 (2008). Therein, the Arizona Supreme Court held as follows:

> When "the provisions of the contract are plain and unambiguous upon their face, they must be applied as written, and the court will not pervert or do violence to the language used, or expand it beyond its plain and ordinary meaning or add something to the contract which the parties have not put there."

Id. at 218 Ariz. 262, ¶ 24, 183 P.3d 513, 518, quoting D.M.A.F.B. Fed. Credit Union v. Employers Mut. Liab. Ins. Co. of Wis., 96 Ariz. 399, 403, 396 P.2d 20, 23 (1964). Assuming that the written instrument is not vague or ambiguous, the Court is constrained to the "four corners" of the instrument, and must disregard parol or extrinsic evidence.

The Arizona Court of Appeals, in IB Property Holdings, LLC v. Rancho Del Mar Apartments Ltd. Partnership, 228 Ariz. 61, 263 P.3d 69 (App. 2011), recently applied reasoning similar to that in Employers in a dispute about an easement among owners of a three-phase apartment complex. Id. at 228 Ariz. at 63, 263 P.3d at 71. The easement in dispute in Rancho stated as follows:

> Grantor hereby grants and conveys to Grantee and its successors and assigns a[ ] pedestrian and passenger vehicle easement over entranceways and vehicle driveways located on Phase I ... as they may exist from time to time, for the purposes of providing pedestrian ingress and egress and passenger vehicle ingress and egress to and from Phase II–III, all as hereinafter limited.

Id. at 228 Ariz. at 67, 263 P.3d at 75 (emphasis added). In Rancho, the two owners of the general partner for the Defendant/Appellant offered affidavits as evidence that provided that "when the easement was granted the parties intended that, if an access point was constructed from the [subject apartment] complex to [a public street called] Bilby Road, access would be blocked by a locked gate and be limited to emergency vehicle use only...." Id. Defendant/Appellant also contended that additional language of the easement provided for restricted use of the easement. Id. That language provided: "[i]t is the intention of the parties that they grant each other reciprocal easements for the sole purpose of limited ingress and egress upon the terms, provisions, conditions, and covenants contained in th[e] agreement." Id. Relying on the foregoing provision, Defendant/Appellant contended that the scope of the easement was reasonably susceptible to the interpretation it offered because the easement was intended to be "limited," and that limitation was for emergency vehicle access only. Id.

In finding the affidavits of the owners of the Defendant's/Appellant's inadmissible parol evidence, the Rancho Court ruled as follows:

> The parol evidence rule renders inadmissible the evidence Rancho offers because it is offered solely to vary or contradict the plain meaning of the easement, not to interpret one of its terms.  The proffered evidence merely seeks to supplant the terms "pedestrian" and "passenger vehicle" with the term "emergency vehicle." Although we first must consider Case and Breen's affidavits and their "allegations made ... as to the appropriate interpretation of the [easement] in light of the extrinsic evidence" offered, we also must consider the language of the writing to determine if it is reasonably susceptible to the suggested interpretation.  The only argument Rancho offers indicating the easement's language suggests it is reasonably susceptible to another meaning is the provision of the easement stating it is for "limited ingress and egress." However, the limitation referred to is clear—the easement is limited by "the terms, provisions, conditions, and covenants contained in th[e] agreement," none of which limit the easement to emergency vehicle use only. And Rancho has offered no explanation why a reciprocal easement that permitted access to emergency vehicles only would have been either necessary or desired by RTC.
> Here, no interpretation of the easement is required because the meaning of its terms is clear. Even in light of the evidence Rancho proffered, the contract language is not "reasonably susceptible" to the interpretation it offered. Thus the evidence cannot be admitted to determine the parties' intended meaning.  Moreover, "one cannot claim that one is 'interpreting' a written clause with extrinsic evidence if the resulting 'interpretation' unavoidably changes the meaning of the writing."  And although Rancho contends the trial court "could not resist the temptation to interpret the language in the Easement according to how it understood the words," the words "pedestrian" and "passenger vehicle" require no interpretation. "At what point [the court] stops 'listening to testimony that white is black and that a dollar is fifty cents is a matter for sound judicial discretion and common sense.'"  Therefore, the court did not err in refusing to admit the proffered extrinsic evidence and in concluding the parties "would be bound by the written agreement."

Id. 228 Ariz. at 67-68, 263 P.3d at 75-76 (citing Taylor v. State Farm Mut. Auto. Ins. Co., 175 Ariz. 148, 152-53, 854 P.2d, 1134, 1138-39; Long v. City of Glendale, 208 Ariz. 319, ¶¶ 28-29 and 34, 93 P.3d 519, 528 (App.2004), quoting 6 Arthur L. Corbin, Corbin on Contracts § 579, at 127 (interim ed.2002)).

In this case, our appellate court found that the interpretation of the Declaration is an issue of law for the court. Memo. Dec., ¶ 19. It found Robert Conlin's Affidavit to be relevant, but only with respect to intent concerning Paragraph 2[6] of the CC&R's. Memo. Dec. ¶ 19. Our appellate court held that the Conlin Affidavit[7] merely affirms that the Declaration ensures both a rural and a residential environment. Memo. Dec., ¶ 20. The Declaration includes "a covenant ... strictly prohibiting trade, business, commercial or industrial enterprises [from] operating . . . ." Memo. Dec., ¶ 19 (quoting Conlin Aff.). [emphasis added]. Significantly, Conlin's Affidavit solely focuses on Paragraph 2 of the Declaration. In reaching its decision, the Trial Court narrowly views the Declaration through the prism of Conlin's 'rural, residential' intent with respect to Paragraph 2. See June 14, 2013 UAR. The Record herein, however, demonstrates a plethora of violations of the Declaration that certainly are not limited to Paragraph 2.

D. Applying the Foregoing Law to this Case Reveals that the Court Improperly Granted Summary Judgment.

In connection with their Motion, Plaintiffs argued that it was the intent of Robert Conlin to create a "rural, residential neighborhood", and which was a premise adopted by this Court. However, the Declaration plainly includes covenants beyond merely the "rural, residential" aspect of Coyote Springs. Mr. Conlin's intent was that Coyote Springs and the properties located therein were to be

[6] "No trade, business, profession or any other type of commercial or industrial activity shall be initialed [sic] or maintained within said property or any portion thereof." Declaration, ¶ 2.

[7] Interestingly, Conlin's Affidavit used terminology not present in the Declaration ("rural" and "residential"). Memo. Dec. ¶ 20.

encumbered by a litany of restrictive covenants with which he expected each of the property owners to comply. Accordingly, the Court should not have adopted Plaintiffs' narrow premise that Coyote Springs was limited to rural and residential property and nothing more. As such, the Court erred in granting summary judgment because its decision was based upon a flawed interpretation of the Declaration. Consequently, that decision must be reversed.

As an initial matter, the Court improperly drew numerous inferences in favor of Plaintiffs as the moving party. As detailed above, the law in Arizona requires that any inferences to be drawn from the evidence when considering a motion for summary judgment should favor the non-moving party, here the Defendants. The Court's June 14, 2013 UAR is in derogation of this well-settled rule.

Defendants provided the Court with an abundance of evidence supporting their abandonment defense in opposing Plaintiffs' Third MSJ. For example, Defendants provided 493 photographs that were attached to Catherine Cox's Affidavit. Those photographs, which are attached hereto as Exhibit "2" and which are summarized on Exhibit "3" attached hereto, revealed the following:

- 79 violations of Paragraph 2 of the Declaration of Restrictions;
- 14 violations of Paragraph 3 of the Declaration of Restrictions;
- 6 violations of Paragraph 5 of the Declaration of Restrictions;
- 85 violations of Paragraph 7(b) of the Declaration of Restrictions;
- 58 violations of Paragraph 7(e) of the Declaration of Restrictions;
- 6 violations of Paragraph 8 of the Declaration of Restrictions;
- 32 violations of Paragraph 9 of the Declaration of Restrictions;
- 116 violations of Paragraph 11 of the Declaration of Restrictions;
- 28 violations of Paragraph 12 of the Declaration of Restrictions; and
- 196 violations of Paragraph 16 of the Declaration of Restrictions.

In all, Mrs. Cox's photographic evidence alone revealed 620 violations of the Declaration of Restrictions and the only inference to be drawn is that the owners of those properties photographed have violated the Declaration of Restrictions in a multitude of ways rendering the knocking on the doors of the owners or taking their deposition unnecessary to establish a question of fact. Cf. June 14, 2013, UAR, p. 7.

Defendants also provided not one but two Affidavits of Sheila Cahill prepared eight years apart reflecting the results of her inspection of each of the properties in Coyote Springs at two different times. Attached to those Affidavits were a total of 1005 photographs. The first set of photographs were taken in 2004 and are attached hereto as Exhibit "4" and the summary attached hereto as Exhibit "5" depict the following violations:

- 20 violations of Paragraph 2 of the Declaration of Restrictions;
- 1 violation of Paragraph 3 of the Declaration of Restrictions;
- 2 violations of Paragraph 5 of the Declaration of Restrictions;
- 4 violations of Paragraph 7(a) of the Declaration of Restrictions;
- 40 violations of Paragraph 7(c) of the Declaration of Restrictions;
- 15 violations of Paragraph 7(e) of the Declaration of Restrictions;
- 4 violations of Paragraph 8 of the Declaration of Restrictions;
- 25 violations of Paragraph 9 of the Declaration of Restrictions;
- 1 violation of Paragraph 12 of the Declaration of Restrictions; and
- 131 violations of Paragraph 16 of the Declaration of Restrictions.

The second set of photographs were taken in 2012 and are attached hereto as Exhibit "6" and summarized on Exhibit "7" and Exhibit "8". Those photographs depict the following violations:

- 41 violations of Paragraph 2 of the Declaration of Restrictions;
- 3 violations of Paragraph 5 of the Declaration of Restrictions;

- 74 violations of Paragraph 7(c) of the Declaration of Restrictions;
- 64 violations of Paragraph 9 of the Declaration of Restrictions; and
- 330 violations of Paragraph 16 of the Declaration of Restrictions.

Thus, from Ms. Cahill the Court received evidence of a total of 775 violations and those violations do not include those identified as a result of Ms. Cahill's review of government records. And while it may be true that many of the violations identified in Ms. Cahill's photographs overlap with those identified and observed by Mrs. Cox in her photographs, Defendants' abandonment argument is bolstered by the fact that two separate individuals made the same observations and identified widespread and wholesale disregard for the Declaration of Restrictions.

However, the photographs were not the only evidence of abandonment provided to the Court in response to Plaintiffs' Third MSJ as well as its predecessor Motions. Rather, Defendants provided the Court with the following additional evidence:

- the Affidavit of Curtis Kincheloe, the owner of Coyote Curt's Automotive Repair Shop located in Coyote Springs, reflecting (i) that he is operating a business in violation of Paragraph 2 of the Declaration of Restrictions, and (ii) the fact that 71 owners of lots in Coyote Springs patronize his business in violation of Paragraph 2 of the Declaration of Restrictions. See Exhibit "9" attached hereto.
- proof that Plaintiffs' themselves patronize Mr. Kincheloe's business operated in Coyote Springs, which Defendants perceive to be a tacit admission that the Declaration of Restrictions has been abandoned. See Exhibit "10" attached hereto.
- advertisements in multiple editions of the Lonesome Valley Newsletter and other advertising mediums for businesses being operated by a host of different business owners operating in Coyote Springs. See Exhibit "11" and Exhibit "12" attached hereto.

And the foregoing does not include those sundry violations noted by Ms. Cahill in her two Affidavits, copies of which are attached hereto as Exhibit "13" sans her photographs which are included in the Exhibits identified above.

As reflected in its April 4, 2005 UAR, the Court considered Ms. Cahill's two Affidavits and sworn testimony in connection with her investigation and review of government records concerning the issue of enforceability of the Declaration. Contrary to the law of the case, in its June 14, 2013 UAR, the Court discounted this critical evidence, calling it "conjecture". June 14, 2013 UAR, p. 7. There are multiple independent reasons that Ms. Cahill's Affidavits create a question of fact. First, a party can present conclusions of experts to survive summary judgment. See Continental Bank v. Wa-Ho Truck Brokerage, 122 Ariz. 414, 418, 595 P.2d 206, 210 (App.1979) (an expert's affidavits at least raised an issue of fact concerning commercial reasonableness to require a full trial.); Mohave Electric Cooperative, Inc., v. Byers, 189 Ariz. 292, 303-04, 942 P.2d 451, 462-63 (App. 1997). Also, as the Court ruled, "even a paid investigator can testify as to personal observations and upon appropriate foundation offer opinions or inferences pursuant to Rule 701, Ariz. R. Evid." April 4, 2005 UAR. See also State v. Amaya-Ruiz, 166 Ariz. 152, 168, 800 P.2d 1260, -- (1990) en banc. Second, although affidavits may be used for purpose of determining whether an issue of fact is presented, they cannot be used as a basis for deciding the fact at issue. Frazier v. Consolidated Tungsten Mines, Inc., 80 Ariz. 261, 296 P.2d 447 (1956). Third, any inferences from the underlying facts revealed by affidavit must be viewed in the light most favorable to the party opposing the motion. Elerick, 102 Ariz. 78 at 81, 425 P.2d at -- (citing U.S. v. Diebold, 369 U.S. 654, 82 S.Ct. 993, 8 L.E.2d 176 (1962)). Finally, in its April 4, 2005 UAR, Judge Mackey ruled that Sheila Cahill could testify as to her observations.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, in its June 14, 2013 UAR, the Court overlooked Ms. Cahill's Affidavit which summarizes the results of her exhaustive investigation. Rather, the Court suggested that Ms. Cahill's finding that a property owner has listed their address in Coyote Springs as their business address was insufficient to establish that the property owner was operating or originating a business from within Coyote Springs in violation of the CC&Rs. The Court also stated that reviewing those records and revealing the information contained therein was insufficient to establish that a question of fact existed regarding what was actually occurring on the properties and it stated that more was required including the taking of the depositions of such owners. In this regard, the Court found:

> Admittedly there are also clear, observable, violations of the CC&Rs, such as, but not limited to, bottled gas tanks not below ground and trash receptacles visible....
> However, the failing of utilizing this approach rather than actually knocking on doors or deposing property owners to determine what occurs on their property ... was never intended to constitute a violation ... or assert violations where violations may not actually exist.

See June 14, 2013, UAR, at p. 7.

This is an erroneous application of the law. Rather, based upon the law of the case established by the Court of Appeals, the Declaration unambiguously and plainly states that no business of any kind, regardless of its nature, scope or extent, is allowed to operate or originate from property in Coyote Springs. Conlin's Affidavit says this was "strictly" prohibited.[8] Because evidence presented to this Court in the form of advertisements and government records demonstrate property owners operating or initiating business from within Coyote Springs, then the logical and only inference to be drawn is that property owners are violating the Declaration. Thus, sworn testimony is not necessary to establish that a question of fact exists.[9] As noted above, the law provides that litigants are entitled to a trial where there is the slightest doubt as to the facts and "only when there is but one reasonable inference to be drawn from the evidence does the question become one of law for the court." Livingston v. Citizen's Utility, Inc., 107 Ariz. 62, 65, 481 P.2d 855, -- (1971) (citing Burlingham v. Gray, 22 Cal.2d 7, 137 P.2d 9 (1943)). It is a clear error of law to fail to draw all inferences in favor of the non-moving party, as occurred in the case at bar with respect to the June 14, 2013 UAR. See

[8] Paragraph 1 of the CC&Rs states that "each and every parcel... shall be know and described as residential parcels."

[9] Defendants, however, have presented sworn testimony in the form of the Affidavits of Catherine Cox, Sheila Cahill, and Curtis Kincheloe.

United Ins. Co. Of America v. Lutz, 227 Ariz. 411, 413, ¶¶ 8 and 20, 258 P.3d 229 (App. 2011); Tessitore v. McGilvra, 105 Ariz. 91, 92-93 459 P.2d 716, -- (1969) (there was sufficient medical testimony in the various instruments on file with court to raise material issues of fact. Therefore, it was error for the trial court to grant defendant's motion for summary judgment). The evidence in the Record was more than sufficient to establish a question of fact surrounding whether the Declaration has been abandoned when inferences are properly drawn in Defendants' favor.

In support of Plaintiffs' Third MSJ and their argument opposing the abandonment defense, Plaintiffs took the fallacious position that parcel-size was an indicator of whether Coyote Springs remains rural, residential. See discussion in Plaintiffs' Third MSJ and the Cundiff Affidavit incorporated therein. Plaintiffs also purported to support this contention only with an amateur video of some areas of Coyote Springs which, unlike the Cahill Affidavits, lack any accompanying description of the property(ies) or activities occurring in or on the properties. A video of partial views of the properties is not sufficient evidence to demonstrate that the CC&Rs remain intact. Cundiff's Affidavit stating that "The three (3) DVD's attached to this affidavit accurately depict the appearance of CSR" is no different that taking a picture of the Courthouse from Whiskey Row and stating that it accurately 'depicts' the Courthouse.[10] Yet, such a picture of the Courthouse does not begin to accurately portray the true state of the Courthouse and its business activities on the premises.

Plaintiffs contend that the video-taped physical appearance reflects that the condition of those properties has remained the same since the Declaration was first recorded in 1974. This contention is, at best from Plaintiffs' perspective, mere "conjecture"[11] and is insufficient to contradict Ms. Cahill's

[10] "We underscore what out supreme court said in Orme School, "[c]onclusory statements will not suffice," 166 Ariz. at 310 . . . ." National Bank of Ariz. v. Thruston, 218 Ariz. 112, 118, 180 P.3d 977, 983 (App. 2008). In the case at bar, Plaintiffs' drive-by videos without any accompanying documentation or information onstitutes a conclusory statement.

ongoing, thorough investigation of the rampant violations of the CC&Rs. And unlike the evidence presented by Defendants that include three (3) separate Affidavits, photographs, and other evidence gathered by different witnesses conducting their own independent site-inspections, Plaintiffs presented no evidence that supports their conclusion and they did not provide the Court with a 'then' and 'now' comparison that would allow for an evaluation of the activities occurring in Coyote Springs.

Furthermore, contrary to Plaintiff's Varilek's assertion, the standard for proving an affirmative defense of abandonment is not "clear and convincing". See Varilek's Consolidated Reply to the Responses to Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment filed by Defendants Cox and Veres, filed February 21, 2013, at pp. 10:24, 15:2-3, and 17:1. The Condos opinion[12] does not announce such a standard. See also American Pepper Supply Co v. Federal Ins Co., 208 Ariz. 307, 309, ¶11 (2004) (civil claims generally need be established only by preponderance of the evidence; jury instruction that required insurer in defending against breach of contract and bad faith claims to prove policy defense of concealment or misrepresentation by clear and convincing evidence rather than by preponderance of evidence was prejudicial and erroneous); Godwin v. Farmers Ins. Co., 129 Ariz. 416 (App. 1981).

In evaluating the foregoing, the Court should consider the following. Relying on Condos v. Home Development Company, 77 Ariz. 129, 267 P.2d 1069 (1954), Burke v. Voicestream Wireless Corp. II, 207 Ariz. 393, 878 P.3d 81 (Ct. App. 2004), the non-waiver provision would be ineffective if a "complete abandonment" of the entire set of Restrictions has occurred. Burke, 207 Ariz. at 399, 878 P.3d at --. The Burke court stated that the test is:

> [W]hether the restrictions imposed upon the use of lots in this subdivision have been so thoroughly disregarded as to result in such a change in the area as to destroy the effectiveness of the restrictions, defeat the purposes for which they were imposed and consequently [ ] amount to an abandonment thereof.

Id. at 133, 267 P.2d at 1071." The Burke court announced the test after stating:

[12] Condos v. Home Development Company, 77 Ariz. 129, 267 P.2d 1069 (1954).

> [T]he non-waiver provision in the [Desert Estates Declaration of] Restrictions is reasonable and that there is nothing arbitrary or capricious in homeowners seeking to prevent a fifty-foot tower -- a prohibited "structure" -- from being erected on a neighboring lot. Without the non-waiver provision, the inaction of a homeowner on one side of the subdivision could result in a waiver of the right of a homeowner on the other side of the subdivision to enforce the Restrictions in regard to an adjacent lot.

Burke, 207 Ariz. at 398-99.

Six years later, College Book Ctrs. v. Carefree Foothills, 225 Ariz. 533, 241 P.3d 897 (Ct. App. 2010), discussed the holding of Burke and articulated a frequency of violation test to be applied in evaluating whether the rule governing abandonment established in Condos and affirmed in Burke has been met. In this regard, the court stated:

> On appeal, we recognized at the outset that absent a non-waiver provision, deed restrictions may be considered abandoned or waived "if frequent violations of those restrictions have been permitted." Id. at 398, ¶ 21, 87 P.3d at 86. But when CC&Rs contain a non-waiver provision, a restriction remains enforceable, despite prior violations, so long as the violations did not constitute a "complete abandonment" of the CC&Rs. Id. at 399, ¶ 26, 87 P.3d at 87. Complete abandonment of deed restrictions occurs when "the restrictions imposed upon the use of lots in [a] subdivision have been so thoroughly disregarded as to result in such a change in the area as to destroy the effectiveness of the restrictions [and] defeat the purposes for which they were imposed[.]" Id. (quoting Condos v. Home Dev. Co., 77 Ariz. 129, 133, 267 P.2d 1069, 1071 (1954)).

College Book Centers, 225 Ariz. at 539, 241 P.3d 897 at --. Thus, College Book Ctrs. regressed in its holding, tethering its analysis to Burke.

In New Jerusalem Baptist Church, Inc. v. City of Houston, 598 S.W.2d 666 (Tex. Civ. App. 1980), a decision from our sister jurisdiction, applied the frequency-of-violation test in determining whether restrictive covenants have been abandoned. On this point, the court stated that the factors to be considered in evaluating whether restrictive covenants have been abandoned are, "the number, nature, and severity of the then existing violation, any prior acts of enforcement of the restriction, and whether it is still possible to realize to a substantial degree the benefits intended through the covenant." New Jerusalem, 598 S.W.2d at 669. Moreover, in Traeger v. Lorenz, the Texas appellate court held that the trial court erred in refusing to submit a separate question concerning abandonment and waiver, holding "[a]s long as there was some evidence to support the issue of abandonment and waiver, it should have been submitted to the jury." Traeger, 749 S.W.2d 249, 250 (Tex. App. 1988). [emphasis added].

Applying the foregoing law to the case at bar requires that the Court find, at minimum, that a significant question of fact exists, as it did in denying Plaintiffs' first two motions for summary judgment. In responding to and opposing Plaintiffs' Third MSJ, as they had in responding to the prior motions for summary judgment filed by Plaintiffs that were denied by Judge Mackey, the record was replete with evidence revealing that the owners of nearly every developed lot within Coyote Springs violated at least one covenant contained in the CC&Rs. The mounting evidence shows violations in the hundreds, readily supporting the inference that the Declaration is abandoned, especially when inferences are drawn in Defendants' favor as this Court is required to do. Based upon the foregoing, the Court should reverse its grant of summary judgment to Plaintiffs.

Finally, it is important to note that in their Replies to Defendants' Responses to each of Plaintiffs' Motions for Summary Judgment, Plaintiffs did not contest, controvert or challenge, in any way, the hundreds of CC&Rs violations that exist in Coyote Springs. Nor did Plaintiffs contest, controvert or challenge (i) the number of businesses operating in Coyote Springs pointed out by Defendants, (ii) the fact that over 70 Coyote Springs property owners patronize one of those businesses, or (iii) Ms. Cahill's assessment that more than 90 percent (90%) of the developed lots were in violation of the Declaration of Restrictions. As such, the Court should have deemed the foregoing admissions as undisputed and uncontroverted evidence of the violations claimed by Defendants. Portonova v. Wilkinson, 128 Ariz. 501, 502, 627 P.2d 232 (1981); and Sato v. Van Denburgh, 123 Ariz. 225, 599 P.2d 181 (1979). Because of Plaintiffs' failure to controvert Defendants' evidence concerning the hundreds of violations in Coyote Springs, it is crystal clear that, at minimum, this evidence establishes a question of fact on the issue of abandonment. See April 4, 2005 UAR, p. 2 ("the Court finds that there is a material fact issue regarding whether the restrictions in this case have been so thoroughly disregarded as to result in a change in the area that destroys the effectiveness of the restrictions, defeats the purposes for which they were imposed and amounts to an abandonment of the entire [CC&Rs]").

Comparing this case to the facts at issue in Burke and College Book Centers reveals a monumental difference. Herein, nearly every developed lot suffers from at least one, and in many instances, several violations of the CC&Rs. Burke and College Book Centers, on the other hand, dealt with a very few number of violations. Candidly, Defendants have provided the Court with substantially more than enough evidence of abandonment to warrant a trial and the denial of Plaintiffs' Third MSJ.

Second, the Court erroneously granted summary judgment to Plaintiffs is that it improperly considered the Affidavit of Robert Conlin in which he stated it was his intent to prohibit certain types of business activities. The law of the case derived from the Court of Appeals Memorandum Decision reveals that the Court's reliance upon the Conlin Affidavit was incorrect. First, the Court of Appeals found that Paragraph 2 of the Declaration was clear and unambiguous with respect to a prohibited activity. Second, it established that no business or commercial activity of any kind is permissible under Paragraph 2. In this regard, the appellate court stated:

> ¶14 In this case the Declaration does not define the terms "business" or "commercial" used in section two of the restrictions. However, "[w]ords in a restrictive covenant must be given their ordinary meaning, and the use of the words within a restrictive covenant gives strong evidence of the intended meaning." Burke v. Voicestream Wireless Corp. II, 207 Ariz. 393, 396, 87 P.3d 81, 84 (App. 2004); see also Chandler Med. Bldg. Partners v. Chandler Dental Group, 175 Ariz. 273, 277, 855 P.2d 787, 791 (App. 1993) ("The controlling rule of contract interpretation requires that the ordinary meaning of language be given to words where circumstances do not show a different meaning is applicable.").

> ¶15 Nothing in the record suggests a specialized meaning for the words "business" and "commercial" in the Declaration, and the ordinary meaning of these terms will be utilized in characterizing the activity that is undisputedly occurring on the subject property.
> ¶17 . . . [N]othing in the Declaration suggests that any one type of business was intended to be excluded from section two of the restrictions. On the contrary, the wording used in the restriction is broad, prohibiting any "trade, business, profession or any other type of commercial or industrial activity."

Memo. Dec. (emphasis added). In considering the Memorandum Decision, this Court stated in its March 5, 2013, Ruling as follows: "As a result of the Memorandum Decision, the provisions of the Declaration have been provided focus...." In considering that focus, the Court of Appeals ruled that, with respect to Paragraph 2 of the Declaration, it must be read broadly and it is intended to prohibit any "trade, business, profession or any other type of commercial or industrial activity" regardless of its type, nature or scope. Paragraph 2 of the CC&Rs does not differentiate between "indoor" and "outdoor" business operations. Memo. Dec., at ¶ 17, sentence nos. 2 and 3. Plaintiffs did not take any action at the appellate court level to challenge the foregoing ruling from Division One. Rather, they let it stand and therefore have waived any argument that Division One's interpretation of Paragraph 2 is not the law of the case. Because the Conlin Affidavit contradicts the plain and unambiguous language of the Declaration of Restrictions, the Declaration must be read and applied according to its express terms. The Court erred in the manner in which it construed the Conlin Affidavit and, as a result, improperly drew an inference regarding whether the businesses operating in Coyote Springs violate Paragraph 2 of the CC&Rs. The Court did not apply the rule of law governing the interpretation of contract documents and improperly considered parol evidence in contravention of the legal standards cited above. See Employers Mut. Cas. Co. v. DGG & CAR, Inc., 218 Ariz. 262, ¶ 24, 183 P.3d 513, 518 (2008); IB Property Holdings, LLC v. Rancho Del Mar Apartments Ltd. Partnership, 228 Ariz. 61, 263 P.3d 69 (App. 2011); D.M.A.F.B. Fed. Credit Union v. Employers Mut. Liab. Ins.

Co. of Wis., 96 Ariz. 399, 403, 396 P.2d 20, 23 (1964); and Long v. City of Glendale, 208 Ariz. 319, ¶¶ 28-29 and 34, 93 P.3d 519, 528 (App. 2004) quoting 6 Arthur L. Corbin, Corbin on Contracts § 579, at 127 (interim ed. 2002). Accordingly, the Court should reverse its grant of summary judgment to Plaintiffs.

III. The Court Improperly Granted Summary Judgment Prior to the Proper Joinder of the Absent Owners.

A. The Authority Governing Defendants' Motion to Dismiss Regarding Plaintiffs' Failure to Join Indispensible Parties.

Rule 12(b)(7) expressly authorizes motions to dismiss for failure to join an indispensible party. On the issue of joinder, the Court of Appeals held that the subject Declaration constitutes property rights that run with the land owned by the all of the owners of property therein, and that those property owners were necessary parties to the case at bar as long as (a) they are subject to service of process and (b) their joinder will not deprive the trial court of jurisdiction. Memo. Dec., at ¶¶ 29, 32, 35 and 36. As a result, the Court was required to determine on remand whether the Absent Owners were also indispensable under Rule 19(b). Id. at ¶ 36.

Following issuance of the Memorandum Decision, Plaintiffs were ordered to address the issue of indispensability. See Memo. Dec., at ¶¶ 36, 37. In accord with that directive, the Court addressed that issue and Ordered Plaintiffs' to join all landowners subject to the Declaration of Restrictions. See March 10, 2008, Nature of Proceedings. Thus, in considering Defendants' Motion to Dismiss and prior to entering any dispositive rulings in this case, the Court was required to determine whether all of the landowners subject to the Declaration of Restrictions have been properly joined. As discussed herein, Plaintiffs have failed to complete the Court's mandate of joinder. As a result, Defendants have sought dismissal. The Court erred in failing to consider and enter a ruling on that request.

B. Because Not All Indispensable Parties Have Been Properly Joined, the June 14, 2014 UAR Holding the Declaration Enforceable, is Premature and any Subsequent Judgment Would be Invalid.

"An adjudication that extinguishes property rights without giving the property owner an opportunity to be heard cannot yield a `valid judgment[ ]'" and required the non-party property owner to be joined." Durham County v. Graham, 663 S.E.2d 467 (App. N.C. 2008) (quoting Karner v. Roy White Flowers, Inc., 351 N.C. 433, 440, 527 S.E.2d 40, 44 (2000)) (cited in Memo. Dec., filed May 24, 2007); Edmunds v. Edmunds, 669 S.E. 2d 874, 882, 194 N.C. App. 425 (N.C. App. 2008). That is precisely the situation here with respect to Coyote Springs property owners who (i) were not properly served with process, (ii) take the position that the Declaration is not enforceable, and (iii) were deprived of the opportunity to be heard on their position.

Over six years ago, the Court of Appeals found that all Absent Owners are necessary parties and remanded the case back to this Court to make a determination as to their indispensibility. Memo. Dec., ¶¶ 36-37. At the March 10, 2008, Oral Argument concerning the issues of feasibility and indispensibility, the Court found the Absent Owners indispensible and that it was feasible for them to be served. In doing so, the Court also Ordered Plaintiffs to join all Absent Owners. See March 10, 2008, Nature of Proceedings.[13] On August 25, 2008, the Court addressed Plaintiffs' failure to join the Absent Owners, finding that Plaintiffs had failed to comply with the March 10, 2008, Order to join, and advised that Plaintiffs would be afforded one last opportunity to join the Absent Owners to avoid dismissal. See August 25, 2008, Ruling.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, as was pointed out in Defendants' April 25, 2013, Response to Plaintiff Varilek's Motion to Require Defendants Cox to Serve the Indispensable Parties with Documents that Comport with Due Process and Defendants' Motion to Dismiss filed pursuant to Rule 19 and 12(b)(7) ("Motion to Dismiss"), not all Absent Owners have been served and properly joined as parties in this case. Further, as discussed in Defendants' Motion to Dismiss, Plaintiffs' multiple errors in attempting to serve the Absent Owners have resulted in the failure to properly join all of the Absent Owners. By way of example, the alias Summonses utilized and served by Plaintiffs to the Absent Owners is directed to them as follows:

THE STATE OF ARIZONA TO:
ALL PROPERTY OWNERS AT COYOTE SPRINGS RANCH, PHASE I

See e.g., alias Summons reflected in Plaintiffs' April 13, 2011, Affidavit of Publication. The foregoing is ambiguous at best for at least two reasons. First, it does not identify a name of an owner of any property within the area described above. Second, it provides only a limited, inadequate and insufficient description of the actual real property involved to adequately put the Absent Owners on notice of this action. In regard to the foregoing, Defendants believe that it is fatal to Plaintiffs that their alias Summonses (i) were not directed to any specific owner, (ii) did not include the legal description of their particular parcel of property in the subject subdivision or (iii) did not describe the actual property governed by the Declaration of Restrictions.

In our view, once Plaintiffs were Ordered to join all of the Absent Owners, Plaintiffs procedurally should have completed five routine steps to properly join the Absent Owners. First, they should have moved to amend the First Amended Complaint to properly name each of the Absent Owners as parties in this case who would be subject to the Court's determination on Plaintiffs' claim for declaratory judgment. Second, assuming the Court would grant such a motion, Plaintiffs should have filed the Amended Complaint that (i) named each of the Absent Owners as parties to this case or in the alternative named them generically as "any and all owners of property governed by that certain Declaration of Restrictions recorded in the Official Records of Yavapai County, Arizona on June 13, 1974 at Book 916, Page 680, (ii) established the jurisdictional basis for each Absent Owners' inclusion as parties to this case (either through their ownership of an individual parcel of real property with that legal description included or through their ownership of a portion of the larger parcel of property governed by the Declaration of Restrictions as legally described therein) and (iii) articulated the relief sought as it pertained to each of the Absent Owners. Third, Plaintiffs should have had the Clerk issue Summonses that were directed to each of the Absent Owner. Fourth, Plaintiffs should have served each of the Absent Owners with the Summonses and Amended Complaint. Fifth, simultaneous with the filing of the Amended Complaint, Plaintiffs should have filed and recorded a Notice of Pendency of Action pursuant to A.R.S. §12-1191(A) (which would have eliminated the existing problem resulting from transfers of properties governed by the Declaration following the Court's Order directing Plaintiffs to join all of the Absent Owners). However, Plaintiffs did none of the foregoing. As a result, the Absent Owners have not been lawfully joined as parties to this case.

The subject of joinder of necessary and indispensible parties is discussed in some detail in the Arizona Civil Rules Handbook, Vol. 2B, Daniel J. McAulliffe, at 216 (2012 ed.), and should provide this Court with necessary guidance. Therein, it states:

> The defense of failure to join a party under Rule 19 may be asserted by motion under Rule 12 or preserved in the responsive pleading. It is never waived and can be raised for the first time on appeal. Riley v. Cochise County, 10 Ariz.App. 55, 455 P.2d 1005 (Ct.App. 1969); City of Flagstaff v. Babbitt, 8 Ariz.App. 123, 43 P.2d 938 (Ct.App. 1968).... Where a "party under Rule 19" has not been joined in the action, and is subject of the Court's jurisdiction, then joinder of that party should be ordered rather than dismissal.

In this case, the Court of Appeals and this Court determined that the Absent Owners are necessary. This Court determined that the Absent Owners are indispensible and upon that determination Ordered their joinder at Plaintiffs' cost and expense. More than five years following the Court's Order requiring joinder, Plaintiff Varilek apprised the Court that not all of the Absent Owners have been joined.[14]

[14] It should be noted that during the hearing during which Plaintiff Varilek's Motion regarding joinder was addressed, the Court inquired of local attorney Jerry Carver whether he believed he had been served and properly joined as a party as he is one of the Coyote Springs property owners whose joinder is required. His response was "no" and he

What should be clear from the docket in this case is that Plaintiffs were provided ample opportunity to join the Absent Owners and they were fairly warned about the implications of a failure to timely and effectively accomplishing joinder – namely the dismissal of their First Amended Complaint. Plaintiffs are the parties who filed the instant lawsuit seeking declaratory relief concerning the entirety of the Declaration of Restrictions. Plaintiffs are the parties who were Ordered to join the Absent Owners in a timely manner. And Plaintiffs are the parties who have failed to comply with the Court's Order as to the timely joinder of the Absent Owners. Accordingly, justice, equity and fairness requires that the Court dismiss this case, especially when taking into account the Court's previous warnings that this case would be dismissed absent Plaintiffs' prompt joinder of the Absent Owners.

Furthermore, in light of the failure of joinder, this Court lacked the authority to enter any dispositive rulings in this case including the grant of summary judgment. That is the case because absent complete joinder, parties who have a right to be a party to this case and present opposition to Plaintiffs' request for summary judgment have been denied the opportunity to defend against the request for dispositive relief thereby denying them due process of the law as such a dispositive ruling affects the title to Absent Owners and affects their legal rights and obligations under the Declaration of Restrictions. Based upon the foregoing, Defendants, pursuant to Rules 12(b)(7) and 19, Ariz. R. Civ. P., request that this Court reverse its grant of summary judgment in favor of the Plaintiffs and that it grant Defendants Motion to Dismiss as a result of Plaintiffs' failure to join indispensible parties. In the alternative, Defendants believe that they should be granted a new trial.

TIMELINE OF CUNDIFF V. COX

May 16, 2003: Complaint for Injunctive Relief, asserting breach of Paragraphs 2, 7(e) and 15 of the Declaration.

March 18, 2004: First Amended Complaint ("Amended Complaint"), seeking same relief sought in the Original Complaint and added two additional Counts – one seeking a declaration that the CC&Rs are valid and enforceable and one seeking a declaration of the parties' "rights, obligations and liabilities" with respect to the CC&Rs.

May 21, 2004: Defendants Cox Answer, asserted affirmative defenses including abandonment and waiver.

July 28, 2004: Plaintiffs filed Motion for Summary Judgment Re: Waiver of Restrictive Covenant Prohibiting Business and Commercial Enterprises ("Plaintiffs' First MSJ"), addressing alleged violation of Paragraph 2 of the CC&Rs.

September 29, 2005: Defendants responded to Plaintiffs' First MSJ, asserting abandonment and unenforceability of the Declaration in its entirety, including the anti-waiver provision. Supporting evidence included: 100+ photographs depicting violations.

December 1, 2004: Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment Re: Defendants' Violations of Restrictive Covenants; Affirmative Defenses of Estoppel, Laches and Unclean Hands ("Plaintiffs' Second MSJ").

January 11, 2005: Defendants' Cox Response to Plaintiffs' Second MSJ.

April 4, 2005: Under Advisement Ruling issued, denying Plaintiffs' First MSJ and granting Plaintiffs' Second MSJ, finding:

> The Court finds that there is a material factual issue regarding whether the restrictions in this case have been so thoroughly disregarded as to result in a change of the area that destroys the effectiveness of the restrictions, defeats the purposes for which they were imposed and amounts to an abandonment of the entire Declaration of Restrictions. The Plaintiffs are not entitled to summary judgment regarding the enforcement of the non-waiver clause.
> THEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment Re: Waiver of Restrictive Covenant Prohibiting Business and Commercial Enterprises is DENIED.

Next, the Plaintiffs seek summary judgment regarding the Defendants' affirmative defenses of estoppel, laches and unclean hands. This motion seeks a legal determination that the Declaration of Restrictions contains an unambiguous and enforceable provision prohibiting trade, business, industrial or commercial use. For the reasons set forth above, there is a material factual dispute regarding the enforceability of the terms in the Declaration of Restrictions. The issue of abandonment will have to be litigated before the Court will be in position to decide the enforceability of any term of the restrictive covenants. The Plaintiffs are not entitled to such a summary determination. However, the facts upon which the Defendants rely to support their affirmative defenses do not rise to estoppel, laches and unclean hands as a matter of law. There are no material factual issues that preclude summary judgment in favor of the Plaintiffs on the affirmative defenses of estoppel, laches and unclean hands.

THEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment Re: Defendants' Violations of Restrictive Covenants: Affirmative Defenses of Estoppel, Laches and Unclean Hands is GRANTED, in part. However, to the extent the Motion seeks a summary declaration as to the enforceability of the Declaration of Restrictions, the Motion is DENIED.

June 24, 2005:	Defendants' Motion to Join Indispensable Parties Pursuant to Rule 19(a), Ariz. R. Civ. P., or, in the Alternative, Motion to Dismiss Pursuant to Rule 12(b)(7), Ariz. R. Civ. P., for Failure to Join Indispensable Parties ("Motion to Join"). In the Motion to Join, Defendants argued that (i) no just and fair adjudication of this case could have been made in the absence of all people who own property in the portion of Coyote Springs governed by the Declaration (individually, "Affected Owner"; collectively, "Affected Owners"), and (ii) absent joinder of the Affected Owners, there would have been a substantial risk that the existing parties in this lawsuit would be subjected to inconsistent obligations regardless of the outcome of the case.
June 24, 2005:	Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment Re: Agricultural Activities ("Defendants' MSJ"), asserting that Declaration does not expressly or implicitly prohibit agricultural uses and activities on the properties within Coyote Springs.
July 18, 2005:	Plaintiffs' Response to Defendants' MSJ ("Plaintiffs' Response MSJ"), arguing that Defendants' agricultural use of their property was a business and commercial activity prohibited by the CC&Rs.
July 26, 2005:	Court's rules on, and grants, Defendants' MSJ.
July 18, 2005:	Court denied Defendants' Motion to Dismiss.

January 19, 2006: Partial Final Judgment lodged by Defendants Cox, which the Court signed on February 14, 2006, as follows:

1. There is no factual issue which precludes the Court from making a determination as a matter of law whether the conduct of the Defendants on the real property described on Exhibit "1" attached hereto ("Subject Property") violates paragraph 2 of the Declaration of Restrictions which was recorded on June 13, 1974 in Official Records of Yavapai County, Arizona at Book 916, Page 680 ("Declaration"), a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit "2".

2. The Court finds as a matter of law that the conduct of Defendants does not violate paragraph 2 of the Declaration as it is not a trade, business or commercial profession or any other type of commercial or industrial activity initiated or maintained on the Subject Property or any portion thereof.

3. The Court finds as a matter of law that Plaintiffs are not entitled to any relief on Count I of the First Amended Complaint.

4. The Court finds as a matter of law that Plaintiffs are not entitled to any relief under Counts IV and V of the First Amended Complaint based upon a violation of Paragraph 2 of the Declaration.

5. Pursuant to Rule 54(b), Ariz. R. Civ. P., there is no just reason for delay in entering partial final judgment in this matter and the Clerk of the Court is directed to enter judgment in this matter as follows:

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED as follows:

1. Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment Re: Agricultural Activities is granted and Count I of Plaintiffs' First Amended Complaint is hereby dismissed with prejudice as are the claims in Count IV and V of the First Amended Complaint seeking declaratory and injunctive relief based upon a violation of Paragraph 2 of the Declaration.

February 17, 2006: Plaintiffs' file Notice of Appeal.

March 8, 2006: Defendants' Cox file Notice of Cross-Appeal and Notice of Posting Cash Bond for Costs on Cross-Appeal.

March 30, 2006: Plaintiffs file Notice of Posting Cash Bond for Costs on Appeal.

May 24, 2007: Division One reversed the grant of Coxes' Motion for Summary Judgment on Count I of the Amended Complaint and also reversed the denial of Coxes' Motion to Join. See Memorandum Decision filed May 24, 2007, 1 CA-CV 06-0165.

March 10, 2008: Court found that all Coyote Springs property owners were necessary and indispensible and entered the following Orders:

(i) Plaintiffs shall join all landowners subject to the Declaration of Restrictions dated June 12, 1974.

(ii) [W]ithin 60 days of [March 10, 2008,] the Plaintiffs shall file a notice with this Court that includes a map of the properties subject to the Declaration of Restrictions as well as a list designating the parcel numbers as well as names and address of each property owner.

(iii) [U]pon filing that notice [referenced in (ii) above], the Plaintiff shall also file a plan for joinder of all the property owners subject to the Declaration of Restrictions.

August 25, 2008: Court found that Plaintiffs failed to comply with Orders pertaining to Joinder, ordered that the cost of joinder would be borne solely by Plaintiffs, and advised that Plaintiffs would be afforded one last opportunity to join the Absent Owners to avoid dismissal:

> While the Court believes that [a finding that Plaintiffs had failed to properly join the Absent Owners] should resolve the matter and lead to the dismissal of the action due to Plaintiffs' refusal to even attempt to join necessary parties over a year after being directed to do so by this Court, the Court of appeals directed this Court to consider whether property owners are indispensible pursuant to Rule 19(b), Ariz. R. Civ. P. so this Court will do so. ***
> The Court finds based upon the factors set forth above that "in equity and good conscience the action ... should be dismissed" since all property owners subject to the Declaration of Conditions are necessary and indispensable parties. The Plaintiffs have delayed this matter long enough. However, the Court will give the Plaintiffs one final chance to comply with the Court's orders for Joinder.
> IT IS ORDERED that in the event Plaintiffs do not take substantial steps to join all necessary and indispensible parties within the next ninety (90) days, this matter will be dismissed.

[emphasis added].

November 23, 2008: Deadline for Plaintiffs to "take substantial steps" to join the Absent Owners.

May 6, 2010: Case to be dismissed in the event the Plaintiffs do not take substantial steps to join all necessary and indispensable parties within 120 days. See May 6, 2010, Under Advisement Ruling (filed May 7, 2010).

November 11, 2010: Court extended Plaintiffs' deadline to complete joinder due to the delay in receiving the Notice to be enclosed with the alias Summonses and First Amended Complaint and Ordered Plaintiffs to complete service within 120 days of July 14, 2010, which was October 12, 2010.

December 7, 2010:	Plaintiffs' Motion for Permission to Serve Remaining Property Owners by Publication, which requested more time to complete joinder.
December 14, 2010:	Defendants' Cox Objection Plaintiffs' Motion for Permission to Serve Remaining Property Owners.
December 21, 2010:	Robert Veres' Joinder in Defendants' Cox Objection to Plaintiffs' Motion for Permission to Serve Remaining Property Owners
January 26, 2011:	Court granted Plaintiffs an additional 90 days (until April 26, 2011) to complete joinder of and service upon all of the Absent Owners, and to file proof of the same with the Court.
April 13, 2011:	Plaintiffs' Affidavit of Publication reflecting publication of a Summons in The Camp Verde Journal, reflecting publication dates of March 16, 23 and 30, 2011, and April 6, 2011.
May 29, 2012:	Status Conference held to address multiple matters including a trial schedule, during which time the issue of service and joinder was addressed. Defense counsel raised the issue of Plaintiffs' filing and recording a Notice of Lis Pendens, suggesting that this should have been done and was appropriate to provide constructive notice of the pendency of litigation in the event of ownership transfers. Defense counsel requested that the Court enter such an Order. That request was denied.
June 18, 2012:	Scheduling Conference was held during which Trial was set for April 16, 2013, and dispositive motion deadline was set for December 28, 2012.
December 28, 2012:	Plaintiffs' file their third Motion for Summary Judgment ("Plaintiffs' Third MSJ") asserting that the Declaration had not been abandoned.
April 11, 2013:	Plaintiff's Varilek Motion to Require Defendants Cox to Serve the Indispensable Parties with Documents that Comport with Due Process.
April 25, 2013:	Defendants' Motion to Dismiss premised upon Rule 19, for failure of Plaintiffs to perfect joinder of all Absent Owners. That Motion remains pending.

Attorneys for Defendants

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT FOR THE STATE OF ARIZONA

IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF YAVAPAI

JOHN B. CUNDIFF and BARBARA C. CUNDIFF, husband and wife; ELIZABETH NASH, a married woman dealing with her separate property; KENNETH PAGE and KATHRYN PAGE, as Trustee of the Kenneth Page and Catherine Page Trust, Plaintiffs, v. DONALD COX and CATHERINE COX, husband and wife, Defendants.	CASE NO. CV 2003-0399 DIVISION 1 AFFIDAVIT OF SHEILA M. CAHILL (Assigned to the Honorable David L. Mackey)

) ss.
County of Yavapai)

SHEILA M. CAHILL, having been duly sworn upon her oath, deposes and states as follows:

1. I am over eighteen (18) years of age and have personal knowledge of the matters set forth herein.

2. I have personal knowledge of, or am otherwise competent to testify as to, each and every fact set forth in this Affidavit.

3. I am a licensed private investigator for Palmer Investigative Services where I have worked since June, 1985.

4. I have been a licensed private investigator for 19 years.

5. I was hired by the Defendants in the above-referenced cause to investigate the conditions of properties, and the existence of business and commercial activities, in what is commonly referred to as Coyote Springs Ranch, which is located along Highway 89A in Yavapai County, Arizona ("Coyote Springs"), and which is allegedly governed by the Declaration of Restrictions for the Coyote Springs Subdivision that were recorded on June 13, 1974, at Book 944 Pages 752-754 ("Declaration").

6. After reviewing the Declaration, my staff and I visited each and every one of the more than approximately 400 properties in the Coyote Springs and took photographs of all of the properties that appeared to violate various provisions of the Declaration. Copies of those photographs are attached as Exhibit "1" attached hereto. These photographs were taken between August 10, 2004 and August 12, 2004. Each photograph was marked with the parcel number.

7, Many of the properties in Coyote Springs are "vacant" according to the records of the Yavapai County Assessor. In our canvas of the neighborhood, we found that the records of the Assessor are not accurate. Many of the properties showing as vacant are not vacant.

8. In all of Coyote Springs, we were only able to find 38 non-vacant properties, or approximately ten percent (10%) of the total properties in Coyote Springs that we viewed, that do not appear to have a violation of the Declaration. Thus, approximately 90 percent (90%) of the properties we viewed in Coyote Springs appear to violate the Declaration.

9. During my investigation, I and my staff observed numerous apparent violations of paragraphs 6, 7(a), 7(b), 7(c) 7(e), 8, 9, 12, 13 and 16 of the Declaration. Below is a listing of specific examples of violations of the Declaration noted and observed that were obvious based upon our visual inspections:

Parcel 401-01-042B	-	The parcel had more than one residence and numerous junk cars on the property in apparent violation of paragraphs 7(e) and 9 of the Declaration.
Parcel 401-01-036	-	This property has a garage but does not have a residential dwelling on it, which is in violation of paragraph 5 of the Declaration.
Parcel 401-01-012G	-	The parcel has more than one residence on the property in violation of paragraph 7(e) of the Declaration.
Parcel 103-01-060F	-	There are also two large metal trash containers visible at the property, one outside the gate on the road and one inside by the new building they are constructing, in violation of paragraph 16 of the Declaration.
Parcel 103-01-089A	-	On this parcel, there is one residence that has been burnt down which is still there, on the south side of the property, while another residence (possibly an apartment house - has numerous doors) is to the northeast of the burnt structure, in violation of paragraph 7(e) of the Declaration.

Parcel 103-01-107B - This property has two residences and exposed propane tanks next to each one in violation of paragraph 7(e) and 16 of the Declaration.

10. I also noted numerous properties where business and commercial activities are being conducted in apparent violation of paragraph 2 of the Declaration. In determining the status of any businesses or commercial activities that are being operated on Coyote Springs properties, we searched the records of the Arizona Secretary of State, the Arizona Corporation Commission, the Arizona Registrar of Contractor, and the Yavapai County Recorder's Office. Our search covered the period from January 1, 1970 to July 20, 2004.

11. Specific examples of business and commercial activities identified included the following:

Parcel 401-01-042B - There are several horse trailers on this property, showing "Alvey Racing Diane Darrel Darcey" and "Saunders Racing Stables", along with the extra residences and all of the horses.

Parcel 103-01-084D - According to the Arizona Secretary of State, Bruce Friss-Pettitt, the owner of the parcel, has an active trademark under the name of "Round Logo, Red, Navy and Cream Colored with All New Again Paintless Dent Removal, Windshield Repair, Interior Repair, Paint Touchup". His address is listed in the corporate records as 8750 E. Faraway Place, in Prescott Valley, which is in Coyote Springs.

Parcel 103-01-078B - Daniel G. Belangeri, the owner, is involved in a lawsuit with Gloria A. Miller as Plaintiff, in the Yavapai County Superior Court case number CV 2003-0851. In this, Gloria Miller states in her complaint that Mr. Belangeri has a mobile home transportation company being operated at the property.

Parcel 401-01-126A&B - Owned by the owners of Wargo Construction, Inc. and Wargo Masonry, Inc. On the records of the Arizona Registrar of Contractors, they are showing a P.O. Box 725, Prescott, Arizona, but use a Prescott Valley phone number, 928-772-3210. However, the property has a block fence around it and the observation of the property demonstrated that it was being used as a storage facility for construction materials, supplies and vehicles.

Parcel 103-01-067F - The owners, Grant and Pamela Griffiths, have a company licensed with the Arizona Registrar of Contractors, and registered with the Arizona Corporation Commission, under the name of New Life Landscapes Inc. The address is listed as 8815 Spurr Lane, Prescott Valley, Arizona, which is the address in Coyote Springs.

Parcel 401-01-037B - The owners, Shawn Timothy Kilduff and Virginia Marie Kilduff, have two licenses with the Registrar of Contractors, and a corporate filing with the Arizona Corporation Commission, under the name of Custom Crete Inc., with their address showing as 9315 E. Spurr Lane, Prescott Valley, Arizona, which is in Coyote Springs.

Parcel 401-01-015C - Owned by Robert Taylor, he is licensed with the Registrar of Contractors, and listed with the Arizona Corporation Commission under the name of R T Contracting Specialists LLC, which appears is being operated at the property. He also owns Parcel 103-01-130E.

Parcel 401-01-015D - One of the owners of the property, Robert K. Gardiner, has a listing with the Arizona Corporation Commission under the name of Valley to Valley Transport, Inc. With the Secretary of State, he has registered the tradename Valley to Valley Transport/Feed, and shows himself as owner at the address of 9690 E. Plum Creek Way, Prescott Valley, which is in Coyote Springs.

Parcel 103-01-065H - William H. Jensen is running a ranching/livestock corporation from this property under the corporate name of Coyote Springs Llama Ranch, Inc.

Parcel 401-01-020E - The owners, Ross Rozendaal and Kara Rozendaal, are members of Dependable Dutchman Excavating, LLC, with the address of 9335 E. Turtle Rock Road, Prescott Valley, which is in Coyote Springs. They are listed with the Registrar of Contractors and the Arizona Corporation Commission.

Parcel 401-01-020D - The owners, Leo M. and Marilyn K. Murphy, are also members of Dependable Dutchman Excavating, LLC. There is also a sign at the driveway which shows "Registered Quarter Horses Prescott Valley, AZ".

Parcel 401-01-005Z - Wiley L. Williams, the owner, currently has a corporation listed with the Arizona Corporation Commission, being Northern Arizona Hay, Inc. The domestic address of the corporation is listed as 9575 E. Turtle Rock, Prescott Valley, in Coyote Springs.

Parcel 103-01-133E - Arthur Gustafson, an owner of this property with his wife Debra Gustafson, have a listing with the Registrar of Contractors, Blackhawk Builders Inc., dba Blackhawk Construction. The property has on it plants, pallets, and buckets everywhere. It definitely looks like a nursery.

Parcel 103-01-056F - Leon H. and Noreen N. Vaughan operate "Arizona Alpacas" out of this property and have three active listings with the Secretary of State's Office for a trademark and tradenames.

Parcel 103-01-056B - Michael Glennon and Diane Glennon, have a corporation listed to this address with the Arizona Corporation Commission under the name of Sparrow Lab, Inc.

Parcel 103-01-057F - Jimmy Ray Hoffman and Nancy Ethel Hoffman have a current license with the Registrar of Contractors, under the name of Hoffman Barns, being a dba of Hoffman Building and Barns, Inc. The Arizona Corporation Commission lists the type of business as Contractor, and the corporation is in good standing. There is also a Financing Statement recorded on June 28, 1996, against the Hoffmans, listing the Coyote Springs Road address, covering all equipment, etc., for their business.

Parcel 103-01-123D - The corporate records revealed that Michael T. Alexander and his wife, Kelly J. Alexander, use the address of 7515 Coyote Springs Road, Prescott Valley, for a corporation named Cobra Enterprises, Inc.

Parcel 103-01-073F - This is a church owned by Living Faith Inc. It is obviously a business being conducted.

Parcel 103-01-073D - Michael A. Kelly is currently listed with the Arizona Corporation Commission as the Statutory Agent, and Manager, of Northland Equipment Rental & Service, LLC. The address listed is 8920 Dreamy Draw Way, Prescott Valley, which is in Coyote Springs.

12. Our investigation is on-going and we will update the foregoing findings as we move forward.

AFFIANT FURTHER SAITH NOT.

DATED this 29th day of September, 2004.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT FOR THE STATE OF ARIZONA

) ss.
County of Yavapai)

SHEILA M. CAHILL, having been duly sworn upon her oath, deposes and states as follows:

1 I am over eighteen (18) years of age and have personal knowledge of the matters set forth herein.

2. I have personal knowledge of, or am otherwise competent to testify as to, each and every fact set forth in this Affidavit.

3. I am a licensed private investigator for Palmer Investigative Services where I have worked since June, 1985.

4. I have been a licensed private investigator for 27 years.

5. I was hired by the Defendants in the above-referenced cause to investigate the conditions of properties, and the existence of business and commercial activities, in what is commonly referred to as Coyote Springs Ranch, which is located along Highway 89A in Yavapai County, Arizona ("Coyote Springs"), and which is allegedly governed by the Declaration of Restrictions for the Coyote Springs Subdivision that were recorded on June 13, 1974, at Book 944 Pages 752-754 ("Declaration").

6. I originally performed my work in this matter in 2004. I now understand that the above-captioned case still has not yet resolved and was asked to update my efforts from 2004.

7. After again reviewing the Declaration, my staff and I visited each and every one of the more than approximately 400 properties in the Coyote Springs and took photographs of all of the properties that appeared to violate various provisions of the Declaration. Copies of those photographs are attached as Exhibit "1" attached hereto. These photographs were taken between February 22, 2012, and March 7, 2012. Each photograph was marked with the parcel number.

8. Many of the properties in Coyote Springs are "vacant" according to the records of the Yavapai County Assessor. In our canvas of the neighborhood, we found that the records of the Assessor are not accurate. Many of the properties showing as vacant are not vacant.

9. In all of Coyote Springs, we were only able to find 30 non-vacant properties, which is less than ten percent (10%) of the total properties in Coyote Springs that we viewed, that do not appear to have a violation of the Declaration. Thus, approximately 90 percent (90%) of the properties we viewed in Coyote Springs appear to violate the Declaration.

10. During my investigation, my staff and I observed numerous apparent violations of paragraphs 6, 7(a), 7(b), 7(c) 7(e), 8, 9, 12, 13 and 16 of the Declaration. Almost all of the properties have a propane tank in open view Others have other violations such as trash receptacles being in open view; junk and abandoned vehicles being on the property; dwellings on the property without a residence being erected; travel trailers or campers on the property; two residences on the same property; or they have more than one violation on the same property. On some of them, the residences themselves are falling apart and are unlivable. Below is a listing of specific examples of violations of the Declaration noted and observed that in our view were obvious based upon our visual inspections:

11. I also noted numerous properties where business and commercial activities are being conducted in apparent violation of paragraph 2 of the Declaration. NEWS FROM VIEWPOINT EAST

WANDERING YARD ART

Remember those pranksters who take things from one property and put them in the yard of another? Well, there are still some pieces of yard art that have not found their way home. Steve Parker currently has two rabbits and a cherub waiting to be claimed. If they might be yours, please call him at 759-2111 before the rabbits start to multiply!

Remember, if you LOSE a piece of yard art or have some sort of vandalism, report it to the police and to one of the Board members. If you FIND a new piece of yard art at your house that does not belong to you, call a Board member. The Board will then attempt to reunite the art with the proper owners. Above all, if you see any suspicious activity, call the police and let them know.

HOMEOWNERS MEETING

At the last meeting (July 22, 2003) the Board voted unanimously to adopt a more stringent fine and lien program as distributed with the July Viewpoint East Newsletter. Let's not let them be used - our CC&Rs are so easy to follow, since they are really meant to make Viewpoint East a great place to live!

Come join in the Open Forum at the next Homeowners Association meetings, Tuesday, August 26, at the Prescott Valley Civic Center, lower level Council Chambers, from 6:30PM to about 7:30PM. In addition to Association business and Open Forum, there are always interestir the meetings and drawings for door prizes to close. Hope to see you there!

Viewpoint East Board of Directors are:
Steve Parker, President

If you need help or want to pitch in as a volunteer, contact the appropriate committee:

- Approval of building, addition or landscape plans is handled by the Architectural Revue Committee (ARC), chaired by Grover Hilgedick. If you need approvals as required by the CC&Rs, call Grover at 775-8462.
- If you have an idea to contribute to the monthly newsletter, contact the Newsletter Committee by calling Lynne Hassing at 775-8751.
- If you want a lovely walk in the fresh air, call Angie Parker, interim head of the Newsletter Delivery Committee at 759-2111.
- If you have a complaint about someone's disregard for the CC&Rs, call Lisa Dill, head of the Compliance Committee, at 772-5215. She and her committee members will try to resolve the problem before it has to go to the fines and liens department at Liberty!
- If you want to be part of the party-planning group, call Angie Parker, head of the Social Committee at 759-2111.

Regional Economic Development Meeting

At the July 11 Prescott Valley Chamber of Commerce Pressing Issue press conference, Joan Laurence, Vice President of Workforce and Economic Development at Yavapai College, and Ron Fain of the Fain Signature group discussed a recent meeting on economic and workforce development.

Ron began by explaining the simple premise that new industry in the area creates new exporters. In local terms, export means that goods and services are "exported" out of the local area, and therefore bring money into the area from outside of it. These two, new industry and new exporters, create more base jobs. "Base jobs" refers to jobs at those companies. Of course, increases and improvements in existing businesses have a positive impact as well. Base job increases also lead to increases in other jobs such as services, hospitality, and retail.

In the interest of promoting economic development and workforce development in Yavapai County, Yavapai College convened a gathering of tri-city leaders in business, government, and education. This group was charged with exploring how an increase in business diversity in the region could grow our economy.

Jobs are at the core of economic development, so the group needed to think about what the base job population is today, and how to add to it. In addition to base jobs, the percent of supplies and materials each business buys locally also impacts the economy. If a local manufacturer, for example, can not only create an item, but also buy the packaging for it locally, even more money flows into the local economy. Otherwise, dollars leave the area too rapidly.

Joan Laurence was glad to note that almost everyone asked to the meeting was thrilled to participate. Almost 50 people attended, and 30 of those committed to ongoing participation. Yavapai College will continue to support the effort, but Joan noted that "this needs to be driven by private sector business leaders." The public sector, government, education, economic development and chambers of commerce can support the efforts, but it's the business sector that must take the plunge.

"The tri-city area has typically taken a shotgun approach to brining in new industries, and supporting existing businesses," Ron noted. The meeting led to a recommendation to target four key industries:

* Healthcare - support current and add to capabilities
* Aeronautical - building on our success with aerospace manufacturers, ERAU, the airport)
* Agri-business, pharmaceutical, bio-industry and nutraceuticals
* Sports - envisioning a large multi-sports complex to boost the quality of life in the area

Forecasts cited indicate that, if growth continues as expected, 6000 more base jobs will be needed to support the larger regional population in the next 7 years. Each base job, at a core industry or company, leads to even more jobs being created in service and supporting areas.

Several outside speakers on economic development were present to support the tri-city efforts. Ken Poole, the head of Regional Business Competitiveness at George Mason University spoke on the need for regional cooperation in order to be competitive, Dan Olmstead talked about the role of private sector support, and Mark Lapman complimented the group on the high level of regional cooperation already in evidence. For example, the mayors of Chino Valley, Prescott, and Prescott Valley were all at the meeting. The next economic meeting will be held in August, when the group will decide on the forward movement required, and begin to push for commitments and support.

Pressing Issues July, 2003

Each month, the PV Chamber hosts a half hour show on current issues and information in the PV area. Catch it on cable channel 13 throughout the month. Speakers at July's Pressing Issures were Ron Fain, of the Fain Signature Group and Joan Laurence, Vice President of Workforce and Economic Development at Yavapai College and discussed issues from a recent meeting regarding our areas economic and workforce development. (See article on page 10.) Also at the pressing issue meeting, Mary from the Better Business Bureau gave some great tips on recent scams and schemes to watch out for. Jennifer Miller, our friendly law enforcement representative gave a briefing on the recent National Night Out and informed us that Arizona is the top state in the nation for auto theft?

When a Picture Really is Worth a Thousand Words.....

While many forms of dementia, particularly Alzheimer's disease, can rob a person of much of their memory and cognitive ability it is only when you see a sufferer painting that you realize there are still sparks of memories deep inside each person. Through the creation of art, people with dementia can increase awareness of self and others, help in coping with stress and traumatic experiences, enhance cognitive abilities and increase self-esteem. Let us not forget that many great artists suffered from depression and other mental illnesses that kept them from social interactions but allowed them to create the masterpieces we see today.

Today it is very easy and relatively cheap for anyone to begin a painting class with their loved one. Many chain stores craft departments have shelves and shelves of watercolors, oils, acrylics and tons of ancillary art equipment at very reasonable prices. And the fortunate thing is that to create an enriching experience for your loved you are not required to buy expensive high quality paints and equipment. The important point is to let your 'class' have fun and express themselves. My current art class is full of gifted "dabblers" who use potted water paints, sponges and old paintbrushes to create stunning interpretations of pictures I pull from calendars, magazines and travel posters. Some of my "dabblers" have painted before but tell me that they have not had the opportunity or funds to continue their hobby and many say, "I always wanted to try that". At this stage in their lives it is extremely rewarding for me to let these wonderful people do something they have not done for years or do something they have always wanted to do.

But in the meantime, if your loved one would benefit from an informal art class but you don't have time to organize and lead the session come join us at THE CENTERS ADULT DAY CARE in Prescott (445-6384) and Prescott Valley (775-3563) where each weekday from 8am to 5pm a variety of activities including arts and crafts, ceramics and scrap booking are offered. Or if your needs are for classes in a residential setting call THE MARGARET T. MORRIS CENTER where Susan Rheem our Executive Director (445-6633) will be happy to meet with you to discuss your family's needs.

For a virtual tour of either facility contact us on the web at www.adultcareservices.org

Keeping Your Balance Can Help You Avoid Investment Pitfalls

The road to investment success is filled with potholes. Financial markets are rocked by wars, scandals and political turmoil. Today's "sure thing" turns into tomorrow's "never was." Prognosticators conveniently forget their mistakes and trumpet new recommendations. What's an individual investor to do?

For starters, you can keep your balance. By building a balanced portfolio, and taking a balanced view of your expected returns, you can help make steady progress toward your long-term goals - and typically avoid a lot of frustration and disappointment.

How can you build a balanced portfolio? First, you need to recognize that the term "balanced" means different things to different investors. Suppose, for example, that you are by nature an aggressive investor, willing to take greater risks in exchange for potentially high returns. In your eyes, a properly balanced portfolio should be more heavily weighted with growth stocks than with fixed-income vehicles, such as Treasury bills and Certificates of Deposit. Conversely, if you are willing to sacrifice potential future growth for greater relative stability of principal, then you might view a balanced portfolio as one that has greater percentages of bonds and government securities and smaller percentages of equities.

In other words, the concept of "balance" is somewhat in the eyes of the beholder. Still, no matter what your risk tolerance is, you'll almost certainly need some amount of diversification - some exposure to a wide variety of high-quality investments. By spreading your investment dollars among stocks, bonds, Certificates of Deposit, Treasuries and other securities, you can help maintain your balance - especially in the face of market downturns that may hit one asset class particularly hard.

While building a balanced, diversified portfolio is a key ingredient to investment success, it's not the only ingredient. You also need to maintain a healthy balance, in your mind, between what you hope to achieve with your investments and what is realistic. During the late 1990s, many investors got "spoiled" by years of double-digit returns on their stocks. Yet, when viewed in a historical context, these huge returns were clearly aberrations - not the norm. But ever since early 2000, when the bubble burst on the raging bull market, a lot of people still anticipate the day when they'll once again get those annual returns of 15 percent or more on their investments.

This is a dangerous way to look at investing. If you delude yourself into thinking that those 1990s-style returns will be back soon, you will make mistakes with your investment choices, and, just as importantly, you will never be satisfied with the more realistic 6 or 7 percent returns.

By basing your long-term plans on reasonable rates of return, and by staying invested through all types of markets, you may maintain your psychological balance, even in the face of the market corrections and downturns that are inevitable.

So, there you have it: two types of investment balance to strive for. First, build a diversified portfolio of high-quality investments that's balanced according to your investment personality, time horizon and long-term goals. Second, balance your passionate hopes for investment success with a cold-eyed view toward what's possible and likely. If you can keep these balancing acts going, you'll be prepared for just about anything that comes your way.

What Should You Do, When a Business Closes? The Better Business Bureau Has Some Suggestions For You!

You have been working with a company when you find that business is no longer answering their phones or has "closed their doors." What do you do when the company you've been doing business with or expect further service from has suddenly gone out of business? Trying to locate a company that has gone out of business can be difficult.

The Better Business Bureau suggests the following:

·Go to the last known location to see if the company has posted any instructions or signs. If not, ask neighboring companies if they know what may have happened. If the business was located in an office building, you should try contacting the landlord of the building.

·Send a letter to the company's last known address asking the owner to contact you. Even if the business is closed, the mail may be subject to a forwarding order. You can also pay a visit to your Post Office to see if the company has a forwarding address.

·If you don't know the names of the principals, check with your city or county clerk's office. This may require a personal visit and you may be charged a small fee.

·If the business is regulated, such as attorneys, doctors, engineers, employment services, new car dealer, etc., contact the licensing agency. If you're not sure whether the company is regulated, contact your state's Department of Licensing & Regulations office. They will be able to tell you how to contact the appropriate regulatory authorities.

·Contact the Clerk of the Bankruptcy Court in the area where the company was located to see if the company may have filed for bankruptcy.

·Contact your local Better Business Bureau. The BBB does not trace companies, but it does receive information daily on a number of changes in business locations and ownerships and may be able to help you.

·If you are successful in locating the owner and the business is not in bankruptcy, you are still owed your services, product, or money. Closing a business does not relieve the owner of his or her obligation to you. If you cannot obtain an appropriate settlement from the company, file a complaint with the Attorney General's office, with Small Claims Court, or seek the help of an attorney.

If the company has filed for bankruptcy, you should file a claim with the Bankruptcy Court. The court will suspend the company's obligations to creditors and customers until it approves a plan to reorganize or liquidate the company. Under the plan you, as a claimant, may or may not get all or part of what you are owed.

Yavapai County Sales Tax Increased again...as of July 1, 2003. The Yavapai County Board of Supervisors voted to increase the County Jail Tax. The new county rate for most business classifications will be 0.25% or .0025. That would be 25¢ (previously 20¢) tax on a $100 transaction. Exceptions include nonmetal mining (0.156% or .00156), hotel/motel (0.275% or .00275), jet fuel excise tax (0.152% or .00152). The total combined state and county rate for most transactions will be 6.35%. For Prescott Valley, the total sales tax is now 8.68% or .0868, for most things. INSURANCE CLAIMS HISTORY: Potential Hi Jinx to Real Estate Transactions and Real Estate Values

In representing the buyer of a duplex recently a contingency was added to the contract requiring the seller to provide a CLUE report (Comprehensive Loss Underwriting Exchange) to the buyer for his approval or disapproval during the 15 day inspection period. Failure to have done so could very well have led to a dire termination of the contract.

CLUE Reports, provided by Choice Point, provides underwriters with both the claims and damage history of a property. In the case of the duplex my client was purchasing there had been 3 claims by the seller for damages to the interior by a renter in the past two years. Many insurance companies will no longer consider coverage for properties with multiple claims in the past three years. This duplex was no exception. (In fact many insurance companies will reject a property with even one claim relating to mold or water damage-the industry is especially skittish after suffering 9 billion dollars in losses last year).

After contacting four insurance offices we finally found an agent who could procure coverage through an outside underwriter for a premium of $1,500,00-three times the rate for an untainted property of this kind. Plus there was no assurance that the provider would not drop my client over the slightest claim in the future. Needless to say my buyer was none to pleased and the contract was ready to be withdrawn on the last day of the inspection period.

Fortunately, however, the existing underwriter finally acknowledged that the previous claims, which had been filed on consecutive days, actually stemmed from a single event. That insurer was then able to offer acceptable coverage at a reasonable premium and the deal was saved.

Had the contract not called for the CLUE report my buyer might not have discovered the insurability problem until well after the inspection period, and perhaps even to near the close of escrow to have found a remedy. Furthermore, the seller had not mentioned the properties damage history in the SPDS (Seller's Property Disclosure Statement). He may not have felt this omission significant since the cabinets and carpet were replaced as compared to repaired. However, had the transaction fallen through at the last minute due to non-insurability the return of earnest money could well have become a point of contention. And naturally each party would feel grievous over the inconvenience and lost opportunity.

Although the number of sales which have fallen through at the last minute as a result of CLUE related problems in obtaining insure is rather small, the problem was virtually none existent until recently. In the past the CLUE data base was used by insurance firms primarily to check for fraud and screen for consumers with a history of numerous claims. If a nervous insurance industry chooses to further shun properties with even minor damage history, provision of CLUE reports could become an essential disclosure issue and a prudent addition to all real estate contracts involving physical structures.

A recent internet article by Liz Pulliam Weston posted on MSN provides a lengthy discussion regarding use of the CLUE data base. Given the current state of the insurance industry she makes five suggestions to protect your property's insurability.

1) Keep your home in good repair-especially with regards to your roof, paint & plumbing-areas where water damages could occur which scares the insurance industry most.

2) Keep your deductible high and pay for smaller expenses out of pocket.

3) Don't tell your insurer about problems unless you're sure you'll file a claim (I'd like to note that this does not imply that omissions are acceptable on the SPDS)

4) Think twice about water-related claims, especially if you plan to sell within a few years. Liz Westen suggests you might be better off paying for the repairs than to have you home branded as high risk and I would like to note that some insurance companies are canceling coverage after paying water/mold related claims

5) Consider getting a copy of your CLUE report. If you've been rejected for insurance coverage you can get a copy of the CLUE report for free. Via the internet I found a web site that provides five year CLUE reports for both homes and autos. The site is www.choicetrust.com. Their fee is currently $12.95.

NEWS RELEASE FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE - July 10, 2003 Contacts. Chris Sexton, Environmental Health Manager: (928) 771-3123

Health Department Cautions of West Nile Virus as Monsoon Approaches

As the monsoon and mosquito breeding season approaches, Yavapai County Health Department warns that yard maintenance and personal protection are critical to avoid exposure to West Nile Virus (WNV).

Although mosquito surveillance around the county and state has produced no evidence of WNV, and no human cases have been confirmed, the general consensus among environmental health professionals is that the virus is likely to appear in Arizona this year.

"There is a good chance of West Nile Virus showing up in the state in the next couple months," said Chris Sexton, manager of Environmental Health at the Department. The Department receives most of its mosquito complaints from mid-August through mid-September, according to Sexton. "We need to maintain our vigilance by clearing our yards of items that can hold water and by taking personal protection measures," he added.

By the end of 2002, WNV had spread across the continental United States and was found in mosquitoes, animals or humans in every state but Oregon, Nevada, Utah, and Arizona. As of July 7, 2003, 28 states reported WNV activity. The first human case in 2003 was confirmed in an elderly South Carolina man this week.

WNV is found most often in birds and is spread to other birds, animals and, occasionally, humans by mosquitoes (mosquito-borne) that have fed on infected birds. WNV is similar to other mosquito-borne viruses commonly found in Arizona such as the St. Louis Encephalitis Virus and the Western Equine Encephalitis Virus.

The virus is feared most for its threat of the rare, but serious and sometimes deadly illness West Nile encephalitis (swelling of brain tissue). WNV has been well established in Africa, Eastern Europe, West Asia and the Middle East for many years, but the United States received its first reports in New York City during the summer of 1999.

Most people infected with WNV have no noticeable symptoms, but some may experience mild to moderate symptoms 3-15 days following infection. Mild symptoms of West Nile virus include fever, head and body aches occasionally accompanied by skin rash and swollen lymph glands. More severe symptoms may include headache, high fever, neck stiffness, disorientation, coma, tremors, convulsions, muscle weakness, paralysis, and rarely, death.

Persons who suspect that they have symptoms of West Nile Virus should contact their physician as soon as possible, but should be aware that no one has contracted WNV in Arizona to date.

Arizona has established a surveillance network in order to detect and monitor the appearance of WNV in the state in humans, mosquitoes, birds, horses and other animals. ARBOnet, an electronic surveillance system established by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and used by each state, has aided in monitoring the spread of disease across the country.

Participation in the surveillance process by Arizona physicians, veterinarians, and health officials is critical for early detection and response to the virus. Residents may also play a key role in surveillance by reporting dead birds, a possible indication of virus infection. If you encounter a bird that has not been dead long, contact the Yavapai County Health Department at (928) 771-3149.

To best avoid mosquito bites:

· Use insect repellent containing DEET (N, N-diethyl-meta-toluamide), with concentrations of 30-35% DEET for adults and 15% for children. Do not use repellent on infants. Repellents containing concentrations of more than 35% DEET do not provide additional protection. Note: whenever insecticide or insect repellent is used, be sure to read and follow the manufacturer's DIRECTIONS FOR USE, as printed on the product.

· Avoid being outdoors for long periods of time at dawn, dusk, and in the early evening when mosquitoes are most active and likely to bite

· Wear loose-fitting, long-sleeved shirts and long pants when outdoors.

· Spray clothing with insect repellent containing DEET. Mosquitoes may bite through thin clothing.

· Install or repair window and door screens so that mosquitoes cannot get indoors. Avoid leaving doors and windows without screens open.

· Vitamin B and "ultrasonic" devices are NOT effective in preventing mosquito bites.

· Horse owners may want to talk to their veterinarian about an experimental WNV horse vaccine.

Prevent attracting mosquitoes outside the home:

· Eliminate standing water sources from around your home such as blocked or clogged gutters, leaky pipes and air conditioners, bottles, buckets, old tires, toys, and any other objects that may hold water. Standing water is a breeding area for mosquitoes. Swimming pools and fountains do not pose a threat as long as water is kept circulating. Swimming pools that are not maintained need to be covered at all times (covers should be drained of pooled water frequently).

· Control irrigation. Fill low spots and level yards and/or pastures. Water should never stand more than three days.

·Change water in birdbaths, planters, and animal watering dishes at least twice weekly.

· Mow the lawn regularly. Overgrown yards, especially if they contain tree holes or stumps, can also be attractive breeding sites for mosquitoes.

· Share mosquito control measures among neighbors. Knowledge helps to prevent potential problems.

For more information on West Nile Virus, please visit the Yavapai County Health Department website at http://www.co.yavapai.az.us/departments/health/PrepResp/WestNile.aspx , or call (928) 771-3149. More information can also be obtained at the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention website, http://www.cdc.gov/ncidod/dvbid/westnile/, the Arizona Department of Health Services website, http://www.hs.state.az.us/phs/oids/vector/wnv_surv.htm, or by calling the State Public Health Hotline at (800)314-9243.

NEWS RELEASE FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE - July 9, 2003 Contacts: Sandra Halldorson, Director of Nursing, Yavapai County Health Department (928) 771-3122

Yavapai County Sees Increase in Viral Meningitis

Many county health departments across the state have observed an increase of aseptic (viral) meningitis cases in 2003, and Yavapai County Health Department is no exception. As of July 9, the Health Department already received 12 reports of viral meningitis for 2003; 11 cases were reported for all of 2002.

Maricopa County had 181 cases of viral meningitis reported as of June 20, compared to 74 cases reported by that time in 2002. While viral meningitis can be serious, it is a relatively common infection and is rarely fatal.

Viral meningitis is an inflammation of the lining of the brain caused by a virus. Symptoms of viral meningitis include sudden fever, headache, stiff neck, drowsiness or confusion, and nausea and vomiting. Symptoms usually last from 7 to 10 days and most often result in complete recovery. Anyone can become infected but children aged seven to 14 and persons with weak immune systems are more prone.

Viral meningitis is contagious, but preventable. The virus can be spread through direct contact with respiratory secretions (e.g., saliva, nasal mucus) or the stools of an infected person. Thorough and frequent handwashing and good hygiene can help prevent the spread of the virus.

Bacterial meningitis, which has similar symptoms as viral meningitis, is much more serious and may cause disability or death if not promptly treated. Anyone concerned that they may have meningitis should see a physician as soon as possible. Please contact the Yavapai (928) 771-3122.

Movie Review

It is summer and the time to have fun at the movies and I did just that at, "Spy Kids 3-D: Game Over." It is the third and supposedly last in the Spy Kids saga. This time, we find young Juni Cortez (Daryl Sabara,) still upset at the way he felt betrayed by the OSS, and is out working on his own. He not only has broken professional ties, but is separated himself from his family. After many attempts to contact him, the president tells him that his sister, Carmen (Alexa Vega), has been taken prisoner by a master criminal known as the Toymaker (Sylvester Stallone).

The Toymaker has devised a plan to get all of earths' children to buy his virtual reality game, "Game Over," and trapped them inside it. Juni goes into the game to release Carmen and then shuts the game off. While inside the game the film is in three dimension (3D) and the audience is required to wear special optical glasses (provided by the theater), in order to get the affect. Not wearing the glasses will make the picture quite distorted. Juni is allowed by the game to bring in one person with him to help him on his cause. He brings his grandfather (Ricardo Montalbon) to help.

They run into many obstacles in the multi-leveled game, including young beta testers who are seeking the great prizes that are supposed to be at the end of the way. Grandpa causes some problems because he holds Toymaker responsible for the loss of the use of his legs 30 years earlier. It is fun to watch the group travel on to the finish.

"Spy Kids 3D: Game Over," does not have a large believable or realistic plot but it does entertain the audience, young and old. The 3D effects are largely successful but, as usual the glasses are bothersome, especially for those who must wear them over regular glasses to be able to see the movie. Its really is the Juni Cortez show and most of the feature cast from the first two movies, including Antonio Banderas and Carla Gugino have limited screen time. It was fun and interesting to see the effects at work. Enjoy!

Travis Black, Coyote Springs Resident, has been traveling 2 months in Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, Kansas and Texas with his hazer, Dick Aronson, who is a champion calf roper, and Bo Bilel, steerwrestler. Travis is currently #1 in the Grand Canyon Pro Rodeo Association (as of 8/1/03) and won 3rd place in the 1st go around and 5th overall in steer-wrestling during the past 4th of July Prescott Rodeo. Travis rides Dicks horse, but has a practice horse named Einstein, that he uses several times a week when he is not on the road. Congratulations Travis. It is nice to hear local does good.

Steerwrestling, also known as " Bulldogging" is said to have been developed by a cowboy named Bill Pickett. What started out as an act of frustration, with Pickett being unable to retrieve a steer from dense underbrush while on horseback, has become the rodeo world's fastest rodeo event. In fact, competitive times at major events only take 3 to 5 seconds. Steerwrestling is a timed event of rodeo. The competing cowboy and his assistant (called a hazer), must chase down a 500 pound steer while mounted on horseback. once in position, the bulldogger must transfer his weight from the horse, posititoning his body on the horse's right side. Once in this posotion, the bulldogger rests his weight on the steer's back until the steerwresler's horse runs by the steer. Once the bulldogger lands on his feet, he must either stop the forward motion of the steer or change the steer's direction of travel before he can legally throw the steer to the ground with all four feet and the nose lying in the same direction.

LAST CHANCE TO CLAIM WANDERING YARD ART

Remember those pranksters who take things from one property and put them in the yard of another? Well, there are still some pieces of yard art that have not found their way home. Steve Parker currently has a little Dutch girl and a cherub waiting to be claimed. If they might be yours, please call him at 759-2111 before they are placed in a new home for a worthy cause.

AUGUST HOMEOWNERS MEETING

Jim Grimm of the Yavapai County Jeep Posse opened the last Homeowners Meeting (August 26) with a terrific overview of how the Posse works and with whom, some of the rescue and fire evacuation missions they've been on over the past year, their parade and special event duties, and who can and how to volunteer for the Posse (and no, you don't need a jeep). If you missed the meeting and want more information, call Jim at 759-0747 .

The Board updated the Homeowners on the positive financial balances of Viewpoint East HOA, progress on some of the problems and resolution of others that have been brought before them, and opened the floor to lively discussion of what was on Homeowner's minds.

The meeting closed, as usual, with drawings for two door prizes: this time two large pillar candles donated by Prescott's own Armadilla Wax Works Candle Factory Store on Highway 69 in Prescott. With the way the storms have ' electric light could come in really handy. Thanks, Armadilla!

The next Homeowners Association meeting is Tuesday, September 23 at the Prescott Valley Civic Center, lower level Council Chambers, from 6:30PM to about 7:30PM. In addition to Association business as presented by the Board, there is the ever-lively Open Forum where all Homeowners are welcome to ask question and offer suggestions to the Board and each other. Hope to see you there!

Coyote Springs --is a well established rural community that allows horses etc., has CC&Rs and approx. 10 acre minimums and up, individual wells and septics, great surrounding views, main road into Coyote Springs paved, side roads are graded dirt, telephone service in most areas.

SAVE COYOTE SPRINGS

Litigation is now in progress to stop the commercial activity being carried out by Prescott Valley Nursery / Growers, at the front of Coyote Springs.

Our community is residential. If we let this kind of activity continue, we risk the gradual breakdown of all restrictions, including subdividing into 2 acre parcels. Then anything goes. The beauty of our wide-open spaces and peaceful places is being threatened.

If you want to keep our CC&R's alive and working on our behalf, please join with us in the effort.

For more information, contact: Alfie at 928-710-8287, Kathy (not me) 602-494-6466, or John at 928-772-8370.

The following letter was handed out to various landowner which reads:

Dear Landowner, A group of land/home owners in Coyote Springs have banded together to stop the commercial activity of the Prescott Valley Nursery / Growers at the front of our community. litigation is in progress.

They went through the area to find those who are in violation. Your parcel was on their list. We feel that they are grasping at straws on some of these accusations. We will be trying to contact you for more information. If would be greatly appreciated if you would call one of us so that we can rectify this as soon as possible. We have a deadline to meet.

If we are unable to contact you in person or by phone, then we will have to assume that they are right.

Diversification Can be a Life Saver

Edward Noble was one of those people who understood that variety is the spice of life. In 1913, he approached Clarence Crane, the inventor of the peppermint Life Saver, with the idea of producing the candy in a variety of flavors. Crane didn't want any part of this plan, so he sold Noble all rights to the candy for $2,900.

Today, Life Savers is a billion-dollar business, and the reason Noble became owner of it -- and not Crane -- was because he knew the value of diversification. He didn't base his success on the sales of just one flavor of candy. He knew that by offering a variety of flavors, he could appeal to more people. At the same time, he protected his business should any one flavor fall from grace with the public.

Like Edward Noble, smart investors understand the value of variety. They know that variety is the foundation of a good investment plan. Whether you call it diversification, asset allocation, or simply "not putting all your eggs in one basket," the benefits of spreading your dollars among a variety of investments cannot be overstated.

One of the main benefits of choosing a variety of investments is that you have some protection should one of those investments experience a downturn. No single investment performs well under all conditions. In fact, different types of investments sometimes go in opposite directions. For example, when the stock market declines, bonds generally perform well and vice versa. Owning both types of investments will benefit you in nearly any economic environment.

Diversification also protects against loss of purchasing power. Having all your money in fixed-income investments, such as bonds and CDs, will not allow you to keep up with inflation. Why is this important? Consider for a moment what has happened to the price of bread over the past 50 years.

Year $1 would buy:

1950 Nearly five loaves of bread (Bread cost 22 cents per loaf.)

1970 Three loaves of bread (Bread cost 33 cents per loaf.)

1990 One loaf of bread (Bread cost 89 cents per loaf.)

2002 Not even one loaf of many brands of bread.

So, although you usually know exactly how much a fixed-income investment will return at maturity, what you don't know is how much purchasing power that money will retain. Placing a portion of your assets in growth invest- ments, however, has historically allowed you to outpace inflation.

Another benefit of diversification is that it offers the potential for better returns. Consider the example of two individuals, each with $10,000 to invest. Investor A uses the entire amount to purchase U.S. government bonds paying 5 25 percent. Twenty-five years later, his investment is worth more than $54,000.

Investor B, however, decides to spread his nest egg among five different types of investments. The first Auto Insurance - Keeping the Cost Down!

Trying to beat the high cost of auto insurance? With hundreds of auto insurance companies writing policies offering a variety of coverage options, shopping for a policy has become such a confusing task that many people don't bother to comparison shop. Driving expensive high-performance cars, getting stopped for moving violations, putting a lot of miles on your car each year, and having a young driver at home can run up your insurance costs sharply. But how big a premium you pay also depends on the levels of coverage you buy, so consider your choices carefully.

There are discounts available to auto owners that could help shave dollars off your premium. In most instances, you'll have to inquire about the rate reductions for which you may qualify; agents don't always volunteer this information. To help you save money on your premium, The Better Business Bureau suggests you consider the following:

·Combine policies with one carrier. Most owners with two or more cars will know that it makes sense to insure all their vehicles under one policy. But you can also get a multi-vehicle discount if you insure a trailer or recreational vehicle on the same policy as your car. Also, many auto insurers will reduce your car premium if you buy other coverage from them, such as, homeowners' and life insurance. But don't switch carriers unless the rates for the other policies are competitive.

·Buy a car that costs less to insure. Expensive high-performance cars are fun to drive, but they're costly to repair and the premiums can run two to three times higher than less expensive cars.

·Equip your new car with safety gear. An approved alarm system or other devices that deter thefts can get you a savings of five to ten percent. Air bags for both driver and passenger can reduce injury, and costly medical bills in an accident, and may qualify you for a discount.

·Maintain a good driving record. No claims or traffic tickets for 36 months may qualify you for a reduced premium. Drivers over the age of 50 with a clean driving record may also be eligible to claim a rate reduction.

·Drivers who hold their driving below 7,500 miles a year generally qualify for a discount, and lessening or eliminating your use of a car to commute can trim your premium.

·Having a teenage driver in your home with a good academic record, can qualify you for a discount. Also if your child attends a college that is more than 100 miles from home and doesn't take a car along, that may qualify you for a discount. If you own more than one vehicle (and your insurance company allows it), add the teenager to your policy as the occasional driver of your least expensive car - and make sure he or she drives that car only.

·According to the Federal Citizen Information Center "Make sure the insurance company is licensed and covered by the state's guaranty fund. The fund pays claims in case the company defaults. Your state insurance department can provide this information."

·Check with The Better Business Bureau for a reliability report on the insurance company that you are considering.

Pressing Issues August 2003

By Kristin Jacobsen

Each month, the Chamber hosts a half hour show on current issues and information in the PV area. Catch it on cable channel 13 throughout the month.

This August's Pressing Issues hosted HUSD Superintendent Dr. Henry Schmitt, Kathleen Gadberry for the Light the Night fundraiser, John Yoder for Boys and Girls Clubs, Carl Bauer and John Wright for Save the Elks Theater, Suzy Arnold and Joella Mortillaro on PV's 25the anniversary, and Ron Fain Making Economic Sense.

School Superintendent Dr. Henry Schmitt

Superintendent Schmitt notes that he is already taking action to improve the schools, primarily through community involvement. He met with the public, and from that set out five major goals. Each school board member will be responsible for a sub-group focused on one of those goals. "I'm very task-oriented," says Schmitt. "I'll look at the data and put together an action plan." Two areas he discussed were outsourcing where possible, and community involvement. He asks, "Do our programs prepare students for their future, for jobs or for college? The business community needs a skilled workforce. We need to ensure that we provide the right education for that." His plan is to partner with the business community to identify the needs, and also encourage business involvement in meeting those needs. He'll ask businesses to "walk the talk" and help make education realistic for learners. Superintendent Schmitt describes the current board as "high impact, one of the better boards I've worked with." He sees a bright and positive future for HUSD!

Light the Night

What a line up of activity as the summer draws to a close! Our Prescott Valley Chamber of Commerce is a powerful force supporting many local non-profit activities. The Leukemia and Lymphoma Society is running a Light the Night walk to support their mission to find a cure for major types of cancer. They also provide services to patients, such as matching them with cancer survivors for support, providing patient education programs at schools, and providing a website with extensive cancer information: (www.leukemialymphoma.org).

Tour De Pee Vee

The Boys and Girls Club to hold their first annual Tour De Pee Vee, on Sept. 13th at 7:45am, calling for Hot Feet to Burn up Prescott Valley and collect funds for the club. The Boys and Girls Club asked for runners, sponsors, and volunteer helpers. The tour was for walkers, short distance runners, and half-marathoners. See bgccy.org for more information.

Elks Theater

Perhaps you're more interested in watching than doing - then Save the Elks Theater! Carl Bauer notes that, "it's not a building or a theater, it's an historic tradition."

PV Silver Anniversary Grand Finale

The activities of PV's Silver Anniversary Celebration at the Civic Center for Friday August 22, was discussed as well as an aerial photo will be taken of the whole crowd.

Economic Sense

In more serious matters, Ron Fain talked economic sense about our neighbors. He noted that people are naturally concerned about their neighborhoods. We don't want our neighbors painting their homes with polka-dots or playing loud music all night. Being good, supportive neighbors is important. Prescott Valley is a good neighbor in this area because we provide an attractive, affordable community for people to live in. We have many new homes to offer and various types of older homes, with lots of options to choose from. We also spend many of our dollars in the surrounding areas, giving them both income and tax revenue. Prescott Valley, Chino V[illegible] omic sense together!

Websites for Kids

The Internet is loaded with resources for kids. Parents – take some time with your children to visit the sites listed here. www.ala.org/parentspage is a good starting point. "Great Web Sites for Children" is sponsored by the American Library Association. The site is organized by subject, and contains hundreds of links to useful sources of information for kids. www.bandwidthmoms.com can be used by dads too! This site will help you to help your children with their homework. It's indexed by age group, from pre-school through college. www.yahooligans.com is like the standard Yahoo! index to the Internet, only it's designed for kids. Yahooligans is an excellent "home page" for your kids. www.ajkids.com – Ask Jeeves for Kids is similar to Yahooligans. Like the grown up version of Ask Jeeves, you can ask questions and Jeeves will find the answer for you. Try "Why do I need to sleep?" ww.thinkquest.org/library contains more than 5,000 web sites, every one built by kids for kids to use and learn. www.kids.gov – Our tax dollars are at work here. Kid.gov has links to THOUSANDS of government agency sites designed for kids. Most of them are really well done, too. www.nick.com – The official site for the Nickelodeon TV channel. http://kids.discovery.com is produced by the folks from the Discovery Channel. www.beritsbest.com is another "portal" for kids, with links to hundreds of great sites. I like this site because it's comprehensive and contains no advertising.

Somewhere, Someone is Wearing a Tube Top in Church....

Cell 'phones are ringing in Restaurants, Theatres, and Libraries. A girl is staggering under the weight of an Air Conditioner, on a 90-degree day, as a nearby boy watches with interest, idly enjoying a Cold Beverage. And everywhere, the Elderly, the Infirm, and the Pregnant are standing up on busses. Something has to be done! Fess up, Dear Reader-have you committed one of the above faux pas? When you think of Etiquette, do you think of which fork you should use or whether or not you should hold out your little finger when drinking tea? Although I receive questions like that all the time, Etiquette for the modern age centers on the skills required to build and maintain lasting relationships with others. Naturally, treating those closest to us with kindness and respect nurtures personal relationships; but knowing the do's and don'ts of building business relationships is absolutely essential to the bottom line. In short,Good Etiquette = Good Business. (Your Mom may not have taught you some things.)

Be sure to look for the upcoming issues where we will explore Business & Social Etiquette for Today. October-Using Technology with Good Manners November-Wise Ways at Company Holiday Parties December-The Art of Gift Giving Please feel free to send in Etiquette questions to Robin Binkley Success Concepts, c/o Lonesome Valley Newsletter at 6425 E. 2nd St., Ste C. Prescott Valley, AZ 86314.

And incase you are wondering where the word etiquette actually came from. I (of course) thinks it is rather interesting. The word literally means a "ticket" or "card," in French. Around the Fourteenth century, Monarchs set up certain rules to govern social behavior. One particular Monarch (I can't remember his name at this writing) had a member of his court put little signs out on the lawn reading (literally in English) "Stay off the grass". Those little signs, tickets or cards were called "Etiquettes". When you see old movies or spoofs on early Kingdoms and they are holding up signs to tell the people to "Laugh" or "Applaud". Those signs are called "Etiquettes".

Of course our world has changed tremendously since then (thank God). But, we still have codes of conduct governing everything from introductions to cell phone use.

three turn out to be good choices. He places $2,000 in an international investment that averages a 15 percent annual return, $2,000 in a growth-and-income investment that averages 10 percent annually, and $2,000 in a tax-free municipal bond paying 5 percent.

His other two investments are not as successful. One breaks even, and the other is completely lost. How badly do these two investments hurt his return? At the end of 25 years, Investor B has more than $96,000, roughly 44 percent more than Investor A.

This example illustrates the importance of diversifying by type of investment. Investor B's portfolio included a growth investment, a growth- and-income investment and a fixed-income investment. It's also important to choose a variety of investments within each category.

For example, with growth and growth-and-income investments, such as stocks and stock mutual funds, many investors concentrate too much of their money in companies that are familiar, such as consumer goods and utilities. Others lean too heavily on what's hot, like technology stocks. Stocks and stock mutual funds should represent a variety of companies and industries. Diversifying this way could protect you from negative events in any one company or industry.

You can also diversify the fixed-income portion of your portfolio. These investments could include bonds with short-, intermediate- and long-term maturities. This practice, called laddering maturities, protects you against interest-rate fluctuations. When interest rates fall, you have money invested at higher rates. When interest rates rise, you have money available to invest at those higher rates.

The specific mix of investments that's right for you depends on your needs for safety and return. Ask a professional to review your investments to make sure they're adequately diversified. The few minutes you spend evaluating your portfolio can be a priceless investment. As Edward Noble discovered, diversification can be a life saver.

Movie Review

Are you ready to hit the fall movie lists? Let's take a look at one of the best family films to come out in quite some time! It is the remake of the Disney Film "Freaky Friday, starring Jodie Foster." This one stars Jamie Lee Curtis and is a great film for almost all members of the family. Some of the very youngest members may get lost, but it is incredibly funny for everyone else.

When teenage daughter and mother seem tobe at constant odds with each other someone decides to intervene and give each the others point of view. This places them in each others body and they are not allowed to change until each does an un-selfless task for the other. The problem is the mother is getting remarried and the daughter is finally talking to her "dream date." Craziness continues as no one but the two has any idea what is going on.

This leads to many crazy situations and is worth seeing again just to laugh. This is a sleeper hit of the late summer and is sure to sell many copies when offered on VHS and DVD. See it alone or with your family. Just see it!!

The next item for review is definitely not for all members of the family. It is the extremely "R" rated "Freddy VS Jason." This movie is as violent and sexual as all of the previous titles of both films. The interesting thing about this movie is if you enjoy the genre, this just might be the best of all of them. The film tries pretty realistically to tie the two together and keeps a decent plot going through the gore and destruction.

Freddy (Robert Englund) has been forgotten by the teens of Elm Street and can only return by the violent path left by the murderous Jason. The only problem is once he starts nobody, including Freddy, can turn Jason off. There are some great horror scenes tons of carnage to keep fans happy until the eventual sequel.

Each films is great in it's own and will be enjoyed by different audiences. Both are currently showing at Harkin's Prescott Valley 14 at 7202 Pav Way Prescott Valley. Call 775-7444 for times. Remember to tell them I sent you.

Bradshaw Mountain Wildlife Association was founded in 1995, as a non-profit corporation dedicated to the rescue and rehabilitation of injured, orphaned and abused wildlife. Our ultimate goal, being wildlife rehabilitators is to release the animals back into their natural environments allowing them a second chance to live the life they were meant to. Unfortunately this isn't always the case, we do have permanent residents that will have to live here in captivity due to their injuries, or other limiting factors.

We are on call 7 days a week to rescue injured animals. Generally most of our rescues come from concerned citizens who call us to help animals they have come across. We also get calls from Game and Fish, local police departments and local fire departments. Many animals have been hit by cars, mauled by dogs, fallen into pools, or are orphaned and need some help. (At this time we are only rescuing wildlife mammals, we do not rescue or rehabilitate any birds)

After rescuing the animal, we bring them back to the facility and assess their injuries. After giving them the proper medical attention they need, we feed them and care for them until they are well enough to survive on their own. If they have sustained severe injuries or have become too used to humans they might not be releasable. Then they become permanent residents here, or we might transfer them to another animal facility. Currently we have about 150 residents at Bradshaw Mountain Wildlife Association.

What to do if you find an injured animal:

•If you find an injured, orphaned or abused wildlife, PLEASE CALL US IMMEDIATELY (Remember it is illegal to keep wild animals as pets and you can get into trouble for having one of these animals in your possession without proper licenses). (928) 632-9559

•Do not try and treat the animal yourself, leave that to the experts. Many times, people who mean well, actually cause more harm to the animal, by not getting it the proper medical attention the animal needs, and many times then its too late.

•Even if it is a baby, wild animals can still be dangerous and can carry many diseases that could harm you, your family or your pets.

•Leave the animal where you found it, we have proper equipment to catch these animals safely and we know how not to get hurt

•If you find an injured deer - do not touch it; leave it exactly where you found it. Due to Chronic Wasting Disease, all rehabilitation facilities have been instructed by AZ Game and Fish not to help treat these animals, due to the risk of CWD getting to the AZ deer population. We are not allowed to work with any deer this year - even babies. So, please do not touch any deer!

Without caring citizens, who are concerned about animals and local wildlife, we wouldn't be able to do what we do. Being a non-profit organization, we are not funded or get any funding through the state, or local agencies. We rely solely on donations to be able to feed, care and give the proper medical attention to the animals. We spend about $ 10,000 a month on food, medical supplies, veterinary bills, misc. supplies,and building and housing materials ways much needed and always appreciated, and can be sent to HC 34 Box 5234 Mayer, AZ 86333. If you would like to find out more information about Bradshaw Mountain Wildlife Association, or to get information about becoming a volunteer, or to be put on our mailing list please call Heather or Alie at (928) 632-9559. Other items we are in need of are: gift cards to Home Depot, Petsmart, Petco, Olsen's Grain, Safeway, & Albertsons. We also need: towels, cleaning supplies, animal bowls, blankets, building materials, a reliable 4WD SUV for animal rescues and a tractor.

How I Spent My Summer

(I thought this might be appropriate seeing school just started and I use to have to do this when I was young). This summer has been pretty busy. The week after 4th of July I moved, put before that I had to put up fencing for horses, plus get the July's NL out, plus pack, then move, after moving, unpack somethings, (I still haven't unpacked everything). Then before you know it the August NL was due. All this while working a full time, plus job, at Noble Graphics & Printing. Then we sold this business. Then it's help rearrange the offices, learn new programs, including Windows XP and get the print jobs out in a timely matter. (Boy, I think I was working more after it sold than when I owned it with my partner) Then is was on to September's NL. Well, I had good intentions on getting it out sooner then this, I always do of course, but things happen. For my Sept issue, the horses decided the grass was greener on the other side of the fence, so it's off to fix the bent fence, put up extensions and string the wire, at the same time the motherboard on my main home computer went down and I couldn't back up my work, couldn't get out on the internet to send it via email, so I took the whole computer into the office and we networked it together with one at work, transferred the files, then backup the files to take home on a 100 zip drive because the CD backup programs weren't the same. Got home, worked on the NL and my zip went down, too, too old. Couldn't backup again. So then it's off to the store the next day to get a new 250 Zip (for $60) and I am back in business at home. Then on Sat. morning, I took my files to work, and guess what, no 250 zip at work. There's a 750, but the boss took it home, so off to the store to buy another 250 Zip for work. Back home and I finally completed the Sept. issue on Sun night.

I really enjoy doing the Lonesome Valley Newsletter, sometimes I wonder how I have the time or energy to get it out and I don't have more spelling or grammar errors. But I do, even now while working a full time job at Noble Graphics & Printing, (the new owner is keeping me on for a long while). By the way, stop by and meet him, he has brought some new and better equipment to Noble Printing's already great services and is very knowledgeable about the printing industry, even 4 color. (This newsletter is no longer part of Noble Graphics & Printing). So when I am late, I am sorry, but things happen and I have to live diversification, as Dick Palmer of Edward Jones current article in this issue of The Lonesome Valley Newsletter states.

Till next month, take care. Kathy Noble, the Editor

Community News

The Viewpoint --One of Northern Arizona's largest and most impressive and affordable master-planned community with a Homeowners' Association, sensible CC&Rs and stunning panoramic views of mountains, sunrise and sunsets. Other features: paved streets with winding sidewalks for free easy living; city water and sewer, and underground utilities, including cable TV; friendly neighbors and dedicated school and park sites; Park Ridge, an exclusive gated community with a water feature.

For more information about The Viewpoint, please call (928) 775-2000 or visit their web site at: www.viewpointaz.com. The Viewpoint Real Estate Office is located at 7218 E. Horizon Way, Prescott Valley, in The Viewpoint, just north of 89A on Viewpoint Dr.

The Viewpoint East

Guest Speaker at the September Viewpoint East Homeowners meeting was Ralph Haven of Red Arrow Real Estate. In addition to teaching everyone to understand "realtor-speak", he discussed the effect of curb appeal on sales and the incredible increase in value of Viewpoint homes since 1998. According to his research, a 1500 square foot home that sold in 1998 for an average price of $114,000 sold for an average price of $153,000 in 2003! If you bought in 1998, it would be a great time to refinance and get rid of that pesky PMI in addition to reducing payments because of lower interest rates. If you'd like Ralph's help, call him at 772-0330. Thanks for the updates, Ralph!

There was quite a discussion regarding the improvement of Viewpoint Drive north of the entrance to Pronghorn Ranch. One of the concerns was the removal of the streetlight that lit the Pronghorn entrance prior to the road changes. Another concern is that no aesthetic improvement (not a bush, not a tree, not a wildflower!) is planned because eventually the road will be expanded to four lanes. A suggestion was made that homeowners start a heavy letter-writing campaign to the Town Council and suggest replacing the streetlight and some kind of improvement for the ???? years before the road is widened. If you agree, get that pen going!

The latest weed cleanup and roadside blading of Viewpoint Drive is courtesy of Mary Catherine Ball of The Viewpoint - Thanks! It is certainly an improvement over the town's weed control.

One of the questions that came up during Open Forum was on garage sales. Although the Viewpoint neighborhood-wide sale is in the spring, a homeowner was wondering if at any other time. The Town of Prescott Valley allows homeowners to have three sales a year without a business permit, so you don't have to wait for the next neighborhood sale to clean out that garage!

The next Homeowners Association meeting is Tuesday, October 28 at the Prescott Valley Civic Center, lower level Council Chambers, from 6:30PM to about 7:30PM. If you have concerns, complaints or congratulations to offer, come on out and speak your mind! November's meeting will be on the 25th.

Poquito Valley – is a rural community that allows horses, etc. and has 2 acre minimums and up. Individual wells and septics required, graded dirt roads, telephone service in some areas, great surrounding views.

October 9, 2003
RE: THE IMPORTANT ROAD MEETING from Tuesday, Sept. 30th

Gregory P Coe, President of Coebilt, Inc., who is building several homes in our area, addressed the meeting with a proposal to improve our road. His proposal included delivery, placement and pack ABC, (4,500 tons per mile installed to MAG standards) 6" thick over a 22" area on top of the existing road with 2 coats of 1/2" thick each of Chip Seal. It also includes raising about a 400' area North of Sparrow Hawk Rd, 30" with culverts placed under to divert the water around the flood area. This project would start sometime next June, when it is hot and be completed in about 1 month. With it being June of next, before construction would be done, it was stated in his letter "this gives the community 8 months to raise the necessary funds to complete this project for a 3 mile distance north of the cattle guard". Total projected costs for the 3 miles including sales tax, $216,000; for just two miles, plus sales tax, the cost would be $155,403. It was also stated in this letter that if 90 families participated in this project,) for the three miles) the cost would be $2,400 or $300 a month for 8 months. The road would still be a private road until it was decided to see IF the county would take it over. It was not clear how long this road would last or guaranteed, before it would have to be re-sealed or some kind of maintenance would have to be done. AGR Paving & Sealing Contractors, Inc. and JBT Contractors were the companies he used in his bid.

Mr Coe stated also, there would be no charge or costs charge by his company to oversee this project. Monies would be paid into an escrow company that could cost $4,500 (included in bid). His is redefining his proposal for the next meeting.

Also at this meeting, was Larry Tarkowski of the Town of Prescott Valley. (Because this was just a preliminary meeting and how many people would attend or be even interested in doing anything with the road was not clear, so he was asked to attend and not Phil Bourdon of the County). (Phil Bourdon of the county will be at future meetings).

And attend he did and offer some very interesting and helpful things to consider. Just some of them:

- Make sure you use only one company to do the whole job encase you have any problems or liability issues. This way you only have one company to address and we do not have a problem that one company saying the other compnay handles that problem;
- Keep in mind, do you really want to go into the road business? Do you really know what is involved in building a road to last?
- And Really think about the liability factors.

There was alot discussed at this meeting. But the one main thing that came out of this meeting was that 90% of the people in attendance, want to do something. (Approx. 100 people) (It was not clear how many people raising their hands live there or if only one person per property owner household raised their hand).
WHAT has not been decided yet.

Some of the next steps:

• Consolidate a good list to get information to all the property owners who own property in Poquito Valley, on what is happening; (This was done before this newsletter went out)

• Set other meetings and hopefully have more property owners attend to hear what is being proposed;

• Have county representatives attend to inform us of more things to consider and what is involved if we form a road district and have the county do the road.

• Find out who will handle the money we pay to and how and when it will be distribute and who will be assessed, etc.);

• Mr. Greg Coe submit a new proposal which includes sidestreets and driveways being leveled and chip sealed to road level with culverts where needed;

• Other votes to see which way the majority wants to go.

Phil Bourdon of the counties Public Works has been called and is more than happy to attend the next meetings as well as other county officials.

No date or time has been set as of print. Hopefully sometime in November. It will be put in the next issue of the Lonesome Valley Newsletter, also, check the road news box by mail boxes / church for more information.

Please attend future meetings and get involved on doing something or nothing and have a voice on the out come.

Regarding the School Bus Route Extending

Residents of Poquito Valley met last spring with the HUSD Transportation Dept. The out come of this meeting is that they are willing to extend the bus route further out Poquito Valley Rd. However, in order to do so, they need to know who is in need of transportation to elementary, middle or high school and where you are. If you are driving your children to the church or all the way to school, this is your chance to request extended bus service at no cost to you. I am compiling the information now. So, if you will please contact me and also your neighbors to spread the word. I can be reached at 928-775-4690, Don Bauer. PS, the information needed for each student is: Student's name, school, your contact phone number and nearest cross streets, (example, Poquito Valley Rd & Fatheree).

ATTENTION POQUITO VALLEY RESIDENTS

Coyote Springs --is a well established rural community that allows horses etc., has CC&Rs and approx. 10 acre minimums and up, individual wells and septics, great surrounding views, main road into Coyote Springs paved, side roads are graded dirt, telephone service in most areas.

We would like to thank all the concerned residents who have taken the time and effort to sign the petition to halt all future STRICTLY COMMERCIAL development in Coyote Springs.

At this time we have succeeded in halting any further expansion at the nursery location and are continuing our research disproving their allegations that 31 other commercial businesses are in operation in our community.

To avoid any misunderstanding we do not believe that having an answering machine and home computer at your residence constitutes a commercial operation at that location as alleged by Prescott Valley Growers

With apologies for stealing a line from the late Charles Schultz* there is nothing like the feel of a roly-poly puppy, furry mewing kitten, bouncy, twitching bunny or some other little furry creature. For me life would be very empty without animals and for many people who never had children, animals in every form are heaven sent. I know that like many others I have never lived in a house without animals and my life would be considerably emptier without their unconditional love and companionship.

For many years doctors and therapists have applauded the therapeutic effects that stroking an animal, caring for a pet or just being in the company of such exuberant bundles of joy has on many people. Sadly, it is also true that one of the pleasures one may be forced to give up when one gets older is having a pet to care for. There is nothing quite like the "wanted and needed" feeling one gets when a homecoming is greeted by a deliriously happy furry friend. On a cold winters night (not that we get that many in our area) a warm pet in your lap or on your feet really chases the cold away. And, what about the positive effects of a walk with your dog, a ball of string game with your cat or if you are lucky enough a slow horse amble through the mountains watching those breathtaking sunrises and sunsets we see every day.

Letting go of beloved pets is always a tough decision and many families reluctantly decide that their elderly loved one (and the pet) would be safer going their separate ways. As well as the safety aspects that have to be considered when a senior loved one is involved with a pet, the problems of care and hygiene can also be major problems. But for someone who is a lifetime pet owner this separation can be devastating.

For any family caring for a loved one with Alzheimer's disease or other form of dementia taking over the responsibility of an animal would be the last thing on their "wish-list". But you don't have to own an animal to enjoy its company or the therapeutic effect it may have on your loved one. Many local pet stores have animals that can be viewed, some even let you hold and stroke them. Shelters and Humane Societies love visitors and although they may ask for a donation to help their center it is well worth a couple of bucks to see the joy on the face of a loved one interacting with an animal. A visit to the zoo or a county fair can also be a beneficial if you go when there are no crowds and you can take time to slowly visit, albeit at a distance, with each animal. Also we at The Center's in Prescott and Prescott Valley have frequent dog, cat, bird and even miniature horse visits which delight and warm the hearts of our participants. Keeping alive the memories of a loved one with Alzheimer's disease is always important keeping them in touch with anything from their earlier life is better. Everyone needs to feel needed and appreciated and animals have a way of letting you know that in their book you are the greatest.

If your loved one would benefit from attending The Center give us a call at THE CENTER in Prescott (445-6384) or Prescott Valley (775-3563) and our social worker will be happy to give you a tour and discuss payment options with you. Save Now! Your Retirement Clock Is Ticking

Most individuals know they need to save for retirement, but often they aren't sure where to begin. "How much do I need to save each year?" "Can I maintain my current standard of living?" "When can I afford to retire?"

To begin developing a plan, you need to answer the following questions:

1. At what age do you plan to retire?
2. How many years will you spend "in retirement?" When estimating, you should plan to live to age 90 or 95.
3. How much do you expect to receive from Social Security? Your local Social Security office should have an "Earnings and Benefits Estimate" form for you to complete and submit. You'll receive a report that estimates your personal Social Security payments at age 62, 65 and 70.
4. What other sources of income do you expect? Does your employer provide a company-sponsored pension plan? If so, check with the plan administrators to see if they can estimate your monthly benefit or lump sum.
5. How much do you currently have set aside as retirement savings? Include IRAs, savings accounts and company retirement plans (like 401ks, profit sharing or money purchase pension).
6. How much income will you need in retire ment? This is always a difficult question to answer. Most individuals assume that their expenses will go down upon retirement. That may be true -- you may no longer have a mortgage payment, but you'll have utilities, maintenance, insurance and property taxes on any home that you own.

Budgeting for medical expenses, including insurance, is a must. Below is a list of items to help you begin thinking about your "true" annual expenses.

Housing, Recreation, Transportation, Gifts/Contributions, Food, Home Care, Clothing, Maintenance, Travel, Taxes, Personal Care, Insurance, Medical, Other.

Once you have gathered this information, ask your investment representative to prepare a savings projection for you. In only a few minutes, you will have a good idea of what you need to save today for the retirement you deserve tomorrow.

Coupon Booklet Promotions - Are They Worth the Money?

Local organizations, including schools and non-profit agencies, may use the proceeds from sales of coupon booklets as a fund-raising opportunity. While most consumers purchase a coupon booklet simply to support the organization and its cause, others may consider the purchase only as a means to save money - which can be a mistake. While the plethora of discounts offered may be valid and useful, The Better Business Bureau advises you to consider whether or not you will be able to take full advantage of the savings offered.

Local businesses participate in coupon booklet promotions as a way of attracting new customers. The booklets are typically designed, developed and sold by marketing companies. In deciding whether or not to buy a booklet to save money, you should add up the cost of any shipping, handling or "processing" fees and determine whether you will use enough of the coupons to make it worth your money. Some of the participating businesses may not be conveniently located to you, are for products or services that you might not normally buy, or largely go wasted before the expiration date.

It is also important to understand the terms and conditions of use, such as whether or not a purchase is required in order to receive a "free" gift. Other restrictions may apply to the date or time a coupon may be redeemed. To find out more about the restrictions, you can call in advance to double-check the coupon acceptance policy of the store or restaurant.

Coupon booklets may save you money and, at the same time, introduce you to new stores in your area. But you should be wary about any claimed savings that may be misleading or exaggerated. You should also check the marketing company out with The Better Business Bureau before buying a coupon booklet.

Of Course I Love You, Didn't You Get My E-Mail?

Netiquette: Using technology effectively to communicate with others both personally and professionally with knowledge, understanding and courtesy.

E-Mail Etiquette, more commonly referred to as "Netiquette" has inspired an incredible relatively new medium for communication. Remember, that however you choose to communicate with others there will always be Common Courtesy, Social Graces and Socially Acceptable Behavior. These are all terms used in a civilized society where humans interact with one another. Cyberspace is not any different. How you will be perceived, the type of human being that you are or for that matter are not, your credibility, your levels of professionalism and ethics will be reflected by how you communicate with others online.

The Least You Need To Know.

1. Ask how they like to be communicated with. Many people may still consider e-mail an impersonal tool of communication and that might effect your relationship in a negative way and you may never know why. Of course, many people strongely prefer e-mail over other methods. Take the time to find out their preferred method of communication simply by asking, "Would you like me to e-mail, call or fax you?"

2. When sending an e-mail, it is necessary to use a salutation as you would in a letter. Consider that you would never walk up to somebody and jump into the subject at hand without saying "hello", "how are you.?" etc.

3. Always remember that there are ways for anyone to read what you send out in Cyber[illegible]e~Now and in the Future Be sur[illegible] Cox 0819

4. Maintain the thread of communication. If several e-mails are required to finalize one issue, leave the prior e-mails for viewing. It is always disturbing to receive an e-mail that reads "That's a great idea!" and not have a clue what they are referring to.

5. Try to control your message length. People are communicating more and more with e-mails and you don't want your e-mail put on the back burner because it will take them way too long to get through it. With regards to those of you who might be newbies, please repeat after me. "I will not forward any dumb joke or unimportant emails to my friends without their permission." "I understand that by doing so I may fill up their in box and cause other important email to bounce." "I understand that most folks have seen those emails a million times and find them very annoying." "I know that by forwarding these so-called humorous emails I may offend people who do not share my sense of humor or who are just plain sick of receiving so many." That wasn't too bad was it? You will no longer be tempted to forward those jokes or frivolous e-mails that instruct you to forward to your friends! Read them if you must then hit delete. Ask first before sending if it is not specifically apropos to the person you are forwarding to and you know they will want to receive it.

6. If possible, try to use only one subject per e-mail. This helps when the recipient needs to forward the information to other parties and when they are filing their e-mails in folders.

7. Use of graphics or large attachments is a no-no without the receipients consent. Many folks new to the online world do not realize how large documents, graphics or photo files are. Guess what? They are large enough to fill someone's e-mail box and cause their other mail to bounce! Get in the habit of compressing anything over 100,000 bytes. (You can view file sizes in Windows Explorer. Simply right click on the file name and choose properties.) Check out WinZip for these purposes. Do not send unannounced large attachments to others because you think that photo or file is cute or cool or neat. Even when sending business files, always compress and ask permission first! To send large files that take a long time to download may not respect the other person's time, reflect their sense of humor, point of view or may even max out their email box is inconsiderate at best, possibly destructive.

8. On those occasions where sending a group of people the very same e-mail is necessary, as a courtesy to those you are sending to, please list all of the recipients e-mail addresses in the BCC field. (Blind Carbon Copy - from the old days when typewriters used carbon paper to create identical copies of a document when it was being typed.) When an email address is designated in the Blind Carbon Copy field, the recipient will get a copy of the email while their email address remains invisible to the other recipients of the email - some of whom they may or may not know. Long lists of e-mail addresses at the beginning of any email is an immediate sign that the sender is either a novice/Newbie - or doesn't care to respect other's privacy. None of which are complimentary perceptions! E-mail addresses are like phone numbers. Only the owner of the e-mail address or phone number is the one to authorize whom they want to have it and make it public. Many folks prefer to decide themselves who has their e-mail address. By sending mass mails to a list of folks, you have made that decision for them - and that is bad, very bad. Let those you correspond with determine for themselves who they will make their -email address known to - do not make that decision for them! By listing handfuls of e-mail addresses in the e-mail headers for all to see is inconsiderate of each recipient's right to privacy.

9. Emotion has no place in an email document Save cute acronyms and smiley faces for close family and friends only. If you receive a nasty email - do not respond immediately - if at all. People are very bold and overly critical on the other side of this screen. In my experience they tend to not hesitate to point out things they think you need improvement on while not even noticing the good or positive points on the very same issue. Many times these folks are simply trying to get a rise out of you (this is called trolling). If you do not have something nice to say, or at the very least sternly professional - just hit delete.

10. You are more vividly on display through e-mail than you may realize. Understand that you will be on a continual learning curve. All of us are. This gig is changing constantly - the only consistency is change! Just as you learned how to record a voice mail message or use a fax machine cover sheet, you will need to learn the code of conduct for e-mail use. If you do not have the desire to learn, and do not make the effort to understand the "culture" of the technology in which you are participating, you will not be taken seriously by fellow Netizens. You also may get some curt emails from other Netizens pointing such issues out to you - some may not be as nice as others. Do not fire back at them! Use situations like that as an opportunity to learn from.

Please feel free to send in Etiquette questions to Lonesome Valley News to P O Box 26227, Prescott Valley, AZ 86312.

Dual Agency If Act of Behalf of Buyer

Q. The real estate agent represents the home builder in a subdivision. A buyer signs a disclaimer acknowledging that the real estate agent represents the homebuilder. During the course of the transaction, however, the real estate agent answers questions for the Buyer, assists the Buyer in preparing th contract, explains the terms of the contract to the Buyer and provides other helpful information to the Buyer. Is the real estate agent a Dual Agent representing not only the homebuilder but also the Buyer?

A. Probably. If the real estate agent furnishes information and advice to the Buyer, and acts on behalf of the Buyer, the real estate agent will be deemed to be a dual agent. In other words, the analogy of "walks like a duck, talks like a duck" would be applicable, despite the written disclaimer of agency signed by the Buyer.

Movie Review

Well movie-goers here are couple of movies you might want to fall into this Autumn. The first one is the new crime-drama< "Out Of Time," featuring Denzel Washington. He plays the police chief of a small Florida community. The problems he is currently having with his personal life get mixed in with his profession when a crime is committed and he may be linked. His life seems to be unraveling in front of him.

Things get worse when his soon to be ex-wife is put in charge of the case. There are many turns and twists and some great action. Dean Cain (Lois & Clark), plays a great heavy as the ex-pro football player husband of Denzels teen sweetheart. Jay Billingsly provides great comic relief as the towns low key medical examiner.

"Out of Time, is definitely worth the time to check it out. Another good effort for Mr. Washington. It is rated PG-13 and has some language, violence and adult scenes.

Next up we check out whether the Rock can be considered an actor or just a wrestler flexing his muscles on the big screen. In, "The Rundown," the Rock portrays a collector for a rich and powerful man who probably did not make all his money legally. When someone needs something returned he is called. The first assignment is to grab a football championship ring from a pro quarter back that owes $50,000 in gambling debts. The problem is he is in a private club flanked by a half-dozen of football toughest players.

Piece of cake-- well not really.Speaking of cake Rock is also a great chef with dreams of getting out of this business to open his own restaurant, he just needs the money

His boss says he will give him the money and out of their deal if he goes to the Amazon and return his son, who is wanted by one of his "associates" in Chicago. He agrees and the fun begins. The son is looking to find an ancient relic, which is also sought by local rebels and the man that owns and runs the town and his thugs.

The movie gets a little slow just before half-way but catches up and makes it up the rest of the way. Some fight scenes with the rebels and monkeys combine action and comedy.

"The Rundown," Is no Indiana Jones but could be close to "Crocodile Dundee." It was enjoyable and I feel we will be seeing the Rock in more movies and less wrestling rings.

Both of these films are currently playing at Harkins Prescott Valley 14 Theatres, at 7202 Pav Way, Prescott Valley. For times call 775-7444. Tell them I sent you.

HOME SAFETY TIP-DRYER SAFETY

Central Yavapai Fire District wants to remind you that clothes dryers are among the most common types of equipment involved in home fires.

To avoid such fires CYFD advises:

- Clean the lint filter before or after each use, and wipe away any lint that has accumulated around the drum.
- Make sure the dryer is plugged into an outlet suitable for its electrical needs.
- Do not run the dryer without a lint filter.
- Do not leave the dryer running if you go out, in case it malfunctions.
- Make sure that the air exhaust vent pipe is unobstructed and the outdoor vent flap opens readily. Remove vent hose at least once a year and check for lint build up.
- Keep combustibles, such as boxes and clothing away from the dryer.
- Have your dryer periodically serviced by a professional to make sure they are in top condition. We take our appliances for granted, but we must take care of them to ensure that they operate safely.

HOME SAFETY TIP-STORING GASOLINE

With the price of gasoline spiraling out of reach, it's tempting to stockpile gasoline. But NEVER store gasoline inside your home. The fumes from a can of gas can explode under the right conditions. You should always store gas in a proper container (never glass) and store it away from areas such as a garage, furnace room or any area containing an appliance with a pilot light or ignition source. Whenever you use gasoline, be sure to do it outside where the fumes can disperse in the air. And remember, never smoke around gasoline.

As always, if you have any questions please contact the Community Risk Management Division of Central Yavapai Fire District at 759-9933.

Politeness costs nothing and gains everything.

The Viewpoint --One of Northern Arizona's largest and most impressive and affordable master-planned community with a Homeowners' Association, sensible CC&Rs and stunning panoramic views of mountains, sunrise and sunsets. Other features: paved streets with winding sidewalks for free easy living; city water and sewer, and underground utilities, including cable TV; friendly neighbors and dedicated school and park sites; Park Ridge, an exclusive gated community with a water feature.

For more information about The Viewpoint, please call (928) 775-2000 or visit their web site at: www.viewpointaz.com. The Viewpoint Real Estate Office is located at 7218 E. Horizon Way, Prescott Valley, in The Viewpoint, just north of 89A on Viewpoint Dr.

The Viewpoint East

Guest speaker at the October Homeowners meeting was Mary Hawkes of the Greater Prescott Better Business Bureau with outstanding information for Homeowners to avoid scams. Some of the most frequent are the "I have just enough left from the big job I just finished to..." fix your roof, paint your house, seal-coat your driveway etc. - and for an unbelievably low price! Mary gave everyone present a good lesson in contractors and contracts, what to look for, ask for and insist on. If you have any questions regarding the validity of a business or charity, need information or a business, or want to file a complaint about a less-than-pleasant experience, the BBB can really help.

There have always been spectacular holiday decorations at The Viewpoint East, so this year the social committee has put together a decorating contest, open free to all residents, with winners decided by residents! The votes will be counted and the winners announced at a holiday gathering at the cul-de-sac on the east end of Summit View Drive. The rules? Simple! Just be sure to have your decorations up by December 7 so community members can wander the neighborhood between December 7th and 14th to view your handiwork. At the holiday get-together on Sunday, December 14th, ballots will be counted and winners announced as we share hot cider, hot chocolate and lots of goodies and good cheer. Come be a contestant or a judge, but come on out! For more information, check your newsletter or call Angie Parker or any member of the Social Committee.

The next Homeowners Association meeting is Tuesday, November 25 at the Prescott Valley Civic Center, lower level Council Chambers, from 6:30PM to about 7:30PM. If you have concerns, complaints or congratulations to offer, come on out and speak your mind!

A Planned Proposal for Road Work

The plan would include the road from The Viewpoint pavement to the cattle guard. The planned work would include rolling the loose silt into the road base, water and roll the base to a hard pack while crowning the sides again. The cost would be $4,000. Harry Van Aken, pastor of The Vineyard Christian Fellowship, is heading the drive for the funds and can be reached at 772-8477. We have $1,600 of the $4,000 collected. Please help if you can. This would improve the worst part of the road.

No time and date has been scheduled as of yet for the something being done on the road from the cattle guard back. Every effort is being made to make sure that this time something will be resolved on our road. So please watch for updates in our road news box and future issues of this newsletter for more information. And please try and attend future meetings to get involved on doing something or nothing and have a voice on the out come. Is the time near?

In the mean time, donations of $25 per homeowner, monthly, are still being accepted for the Poquito Valley Road escrows acct: Your maintenance payments can be mailed to:

Yavapai Title acct # M05001010

Volunteers: Karen Benson 772-8358 - Linda Pope 759-3470 - Ted Moxley 775-6203.

MAIL BOXES ARE STILL AVAILABLE!

There are only 6 boxes left. When they are gone, they're gone! Those wanting to have a mail box, please call, Ted Moxley at 775-6203, or stop by 7220 E. Moonlit Dr. Prescott Valley, AZ 86314- (Off Poquito Valley Rd.) and:

- Turn in your name, home address and phone number.
- Pick-up your key there
- And pay a one time cost of $82 for the key.

Regarding the School Bus Route Extending

Residents of Poquito Valley met last spring with the HUSD Transportation Dept. The out come of this meeting is that they are willing to extend the bus route further out Poquito Valley Rd. However, in order to do so, they need to know who is in need of transportation to elementary, middle or high school and where you are. If you are driving your children to the church or all the way to school, this is your chance to request extended bus service at no cost to you. I am compiling the information now. So, if you will please contact me and also your neighbors to spread the word. I can be reached at 928-775-4690, Don Bauer. PS, the information needed for each student is: Student's name, school, your contact phone number and nearest cross streets, (example, Poquito Valley Rd & Fatheree).

ATTENTION POQUITO VALLEY RESIDENTS

Those who are now getting their mail delivered to your mail box in Poquito Valley, please notified me at 925-6610 or drop a note to PO Box 26227 Prescott Valley, AZ 86312 of your old address. Help keep the costs down. Thank you. Also, anyone not receiving a copy of The Lonesome Valley Newsletter can still pick one up at the information board near the Vineyard Church / mail boxes or contact me to add you to the mailing list.

Pronghorn Ranch is located north of Highway 89A, off Viewpoint Dr, between The Viewpoint and Coyote Springs Subdivisions and in front of Antelope Meadows.

Antelope Meadows --is a rural community with HOA, and sensible CC&R's and allows horses etc., great surrounding views. Individual wells and septics, lot sizes, 2 - 5 - 10 acres, graded dirt roads at this time.

Various information from the Nov. 4th meeting: Ken Bulter volunteered to be AM property inspector. There was talk on the road maintenance, bids, costs, how far, etc. and how exciting it is going to be to have a road maintenance program; and that Liz Story is collecting names of the people who are upset about the road belonging to Pronghorn Ranch (that protion between were the pavement ends and the 1st house north, at Acre Way). She will submit this list to the Pronghorn Management Co. to see what, if anything, can be done. Please write to her at 303 E. Gurly, Ste 501, Prescott, AZ 86301. Note, AM bares no responsibility for this portion of the road.

The next general HOA meeting will be Tuesday, December 9th, at the Prescott Valley Civic Center, room 331, at 6:00pm and the next executive board meeting will be Nov. 11th. It is very important that we have as many people attend our meetings and vote for various things, such as the road. We are currently in the process of electing new board of directors. The following AM owners have been nominated so far: David West, John Shannon, Jim Frommer, Bill Durham, Rachel Hay or/and write-ins. The association has 198 members. According to our bylaws, fifty-one percent of those eligible to vote constitute a quorum. Therefore, in order to validate the election, 99 ballots must be received and the due date is Friday, Dec. 5th. Please mail to the address below ASAP. Ballots have been mailed out by Tammy. The five candidates that receive the highest number of votes will be seated as directors for a term of one year.

The architectural committee would like to thank those property owners who have responded by sending in their plot plans and complying with the requirments of the architectural committee.

Just a Reminder: PLEASE, OBEY SPEED LIMIT SIGNS, EXCESS SPEED DAMAGES THE ROAD.

Antelope Meadows residents, did you know you can receive a free post office box at the Prescott Valley Post Office, Robert Rd & Hwy. 69 /frontage road? Until the post office delivers mail in your area, in Antelope Meadows, the post office box is free! Call Gary Heinicke at 772-4406 for more information.

Coyote Springs --is a well established rural community that allows horses etc., has CC&Rs and approx. 10 acre minimums and up, individual wells and septics, great surrounding views, main road into Coyote Springs paved, side roads are graded dirt, telephone service in most areas.

It is hard to believe that just two years ago, on November 13, 2001, the paving portion on Coyote Springs Road was completed. Boy time goes by when you are driving on a paved road and not dirt and mud. But please remember to obey the speed signs.

There are mail boxes still available in front. Contact Prescott Valley Post Office and ask for Gary Heinicke or Donna at 772-4406.

Prescott Ridge -- is located on the beautiful, nearby western slope of Mingus Mountain. This community has hilltop and hillside home sites with unsurpassed views of the surrounding mountains and Prescott Valley. Equestrian parcels are available and lot sizes range from 10 to 50 acres. YOU ARE NOT ALONE...

What do Ronald Reagan, Rita Hayworth, Barry Goldwater, Burgess Meredith, Sugar Ray Robinson, Iris Murdoch and Aaron Copeland all have in common? Apart from being famous for their talent to entertain or their achievements in leadership, philosophy or the arts they were all diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease. This truly debilitating disease has no set pattern of whom it will attack and it does not matter whether you are rich or poor or have the best medical attention money can buy. Worldwide estimates of those suffering from Alzheimer's disease come in at around 20 million, 4 million of whom are in the United States. And according to some estimates by the year 2050 this worldwide number could exceed 60 million.

While doctors and researchers use medical terms like "plaques", "tangles", "lesions" and the like they still don't know what causes Alzheimer's and reiterate that there is currently no cure. This grim prognosis might lead many to just avoid coming to grips with the disease when avoidance is the greatest enemy in the fight against it. Just think back a couple of decades when cancer was never spoken about and "the big C" was an instant death sentence. Now I defy anyone to tell me they don't know someone with cancer and many of those stricken live a productive and active life. Avoidance is usually caused by fear leading to denial of symptoms resulting in delayed diagnosis and intervention. Or maybe the fear is "abandoning" a loved one to an institutional environment.

Knowing and recognizing the symptoms of Alzheimer's disease can make a difference in the progression of the disease and the impact that it has on family and friends. But be aware that many conditions other than Alzheimer's disease affect memory, cause confusion, make recognition of certain things difficult and decrease judgment or cause loss of interest in life. A good history and physical exam by a trusted physician can often rule out one's worst fears or start a course of action for a loved one with these changes. In either case, education and assessment are preferable to denial and worry.

Whatever your personal circumstance you are not alone as the wonderful staff at ADULT CARE SERVICES have spent over twenty years helping sufferers, families and caregivers cope with many forms of memory loss and dementia. ACS addresses the more personal side of these diseases and focuses on how everyone concerned can learn to better cope with the difficulties these diseases bring to daily living. Whether your need is for residential or daytime care services ACS can help.

Our day care center in Prescott and our new facility in Prescott Valley provide a safe nurturing environment where socialization, medical monitoring, therapeutic crafts, art classes and word and board games can be enjoyed Monday through Friday from 8am to 5pm.

If your loved one would benefit from attending The Center give us a call at THE CENTER in Prescott (445-6384) or Prescott Valley (775-3563) and our social worker will be happy to give you a tour and discuss payment options with you. Or if your needs extend to a residential setting call THE MARGARET T. MORRIS CENTER where Susan Rheem our Executive Director (445-6633) will be happy to meet with you to discuss your family's needs. PV Recruits Volunteers for Park Ranger Program

Prescott Valley, Ariz. - Prescott Valley has 13 public parks that can benefit from volunteers who are willing to join the Volunteer Park Ranger Program.

Interested persons may attend the next Park Ranger Program meeting scheduled for 9AM, Wednesday, November 12 in Conference Room 428 in the Civic Center, 7501 E. Civic Circle.

"We are encouraging volunteers who are willing to patrol the town's parks and report any maintenance issues, concerns or suspicious activities," said Patti Evans, Parks and Recreation director. "Considering the town's growth and commitment to its citizens, a dedicated group of caring individuals can help us as we work to upgrade and protect all of our parks."

Volunteers will be asked to commit to patrolling a park for a minimum of four hours per month during daylight hours. All participants will be issued identifying caps, vests, and shirts. The department also will provide training and support.

Question: Do you need a Real Estate Agent (Buyer's Realtor) for a new home purchase?

Answer: Yes. Buyers concerned about costs should be aware of the difference inherent in working with sales agents who are employed by the developer, rather than traditional real estate agents (Realtor). An agent employed by the developer has the developer's best interests in mind. The developer's agent DOES NOT work for, nor represent you, the Buyer!

Builders commonly require that a Buyers Agent (Realtor) be present, and sign in, the first time a prospective buyer visits a development. If your Realtor doesn't go with you on your first visit, you will not have buyer representation to ensure that everything that you are contracting for will be fulfilled. If you do visit a development with a Realtor, be certain that your Realtor stays with you throughout the entire process. BEWARE, typically, developer's agents will inform the buyer and their agent that they will take care of the entire process after the sales contract is signed. A competent Buyer's Realtor will stay with the Buyer throughout the entire process, including and up to the time of taking possession of your new home.

Prescot Valley Historical Society Jean Cross Tour

Though we think of Prescott as being the center of historical central Arizona, much of this history is in the Prescott Valley area. The very beginnings of this history may be found on a prominent hill at the West end of Prescott Valley - Glassford Hill.

When approached from the East, a cone is visible in the center of this hill which is the remains of an eruption 10 million years ago - for this hill is a now defunct volcano, we hope!

Then, about 10 thousand years ago, mammoth roamed Lonesome Valley. In 1985, remains of these animals were discovered protruding from the Aqua Fria Wash. These bones were excavated by paleontologists from Northern Arizona University and Sharlot Hall Museum with the help of the Yavapai Chapter of the Arizona Archeological Society. They are now at Sharlot Hall Museum. Prehistoric horse and camel remains were also found.

Prehistoric people roamed the area about 1000 years ago. Many such sites may be found throughout the Valley. Chief among these is the Fitzmaurice Ruin located along the South side of Lynx Creek. This ruin consists of a 27 room pueblo with about 24 out-lyers (one or two room sites) surrounding the pueblo. These rooms were about 15'/18' and were entered through the roof since no entrances into the rooms were found. The rooms of the pueblo were built into the hill in steps, giving the appearance of a multi storied structure. It is believed that it might have been a regional center since most of the Prescott culture people lived in pit houses and pueblos were rare in the area. Granite, shist and basalt rocks were used in its construction.

This was a very convenient location for such a habitation as water was abundant as was food since antelope, deer, rabbits, pack rats and birds were readily available. Wood was also nearby but with approximately 100 people living in the area, this commodity could be rather quickly depleted since it would be used for heat, cooking and firing pottery.

And speaking of pottery, the most prevalent type was what is called Prescott grayware, which was mostly a utility ware though some decoration is found which are usually rather crude geometric lines. Intrusive pottery as well as other artifacts originating in neighboring and distant regions attest to the trading which must have taken place.

This trade occupation may also be surmised by archeologists due to the presence of argillite quarries and a large deposit of jasper, known as Perkinsville jasper, to the North of Lonesome Valley.

Argillite is found throughout the Southwest and as a soap stone is relatively easy to carve. Prehistoric people carved fetishes and other ceremonial objects of this stone. Jasper was flaked into tools such as scrapers and abraders. Both of these materials would be excellent trade items.

November/December Lawn & Landscape Check List

November: Flowers: Cut back to the ground any perennials left standing and mulch well. Mulch around pansies and continue to water at least twice a week or as needed. They will wilt when dry. Plant bulbs now. Protect roses from winter damage by mulching well over the crowns of the roses. Do not prune roses at this time of year. Glads and dahlias should be dug and stored in sand or vermiculite for the winter in the higher elevations above 5000 feet. Spritz to keep just barely moist. In warmer locations, mulch well and water once before winter. Gardens-add manure now to sit through the winter. Grapes/Berries: Prune grapes now. Berries-summer flowering varieties should be pruned now, spring flowering varieties bloom on new growth so leave these alone. Lawns: Cut back on watering to once or twice a week and fertilize with low nitrogen fertilizer. Trees: fertilize with low nitrogen fertilizer. Yard cleanup begins, shred and compost leaves. Chip small branches and add to compost. Irrigation Systems: Shut down/off irrigation/sprinkler systems before the weather get too much colder and there is freeze damage.

December: Trees/shrubs: Shrubs can be pruned now, pyracantha, cotoneaster, euronymus and junipers. Trees can be pruned as well, but better to wait until January or February after most snows are through in higher elevations. Snows can cause breakage and pruning would have to be repeated. Not many chores now, holidays will be arriving and then there will be time to spend with all the new seed catalogs and planning next year's garden.

And if you buy a Christmas Tree this year, consider a living tree you can plant in your yard. But leave it outdoors until just before the holidays, keep it on the patio or deck and be sure to water it while it is sitting there at least two or three times per week. Before bringing your living Christmas tree in the house, spray it with "Cloud Clover", a antitranspirant which helps keep the tree from losing moisture while in the house. Do not leave in the house for more seven days, make sure it is at least ten feet from any source of heat and out of direct sunshine from a window and water daily with a tray of ice cubes. By keeping the rootball cold, the tree will be less likely to go into a growth cycle. Use only miniature lights on a living tree and use light weight ornaments so as not to bend the branches. When your week is over, place the tree in an unheated garage, storage shed, carport or under a wide overhang for at least a week. This is to acclimate it to colder temperatures slowly. Make sure to water it at least every other day as well. Plants in containers dry out faster than those in the ground. When it is time to plant, (Evergreens can be planted in the winter without damage if done right), dig a hole twice as wide as the container and slightly deeper. Mix the soil from the hole with appro Cox 0843 ice about 1/3 of the mixture back in the hole. If the tree is in a burlap bag in the container loosen the twine that ties it at the trunk of the tree, but do not remove the burlap. Fiber containers can be planted: however, it is better to remove them if possible, because they take a long time to break down in the ground. Set the tree in the hole at the depth that it is in the container. Backfill around tree with soil mixture and tamp down. Water well. A newly planted tree should be watered weekly during the winter. The planting itself can become a tradition in which the whole family can participate. Source: Down to Earth/Sunset Western Garden Book

We have a whole lot to cover this issue so let us begin. We have a long awaited finale to an epic trilogy, a Disney animated film and a wild and crazy early-holiday film for all.

Let us start with the third in the brilliant Sci-Fi Action trio,"Matrix: Revolutions." We find Neo, (Keanu Reeves) Morpheus, (Laurence Fishburne) and the rest trying to defend Zion from a final and potentially fatal attack from "the machines." It is an intense and intricate story to be told by directors Larry and Andy Wachowski. Do not attempt to view this without seeing the first two but as soon as you do see # 3. It is well worth it and has some incredible effects and some wild storylines. I will not divulge any secrets, but you must see and be amazed yourself. Too bad it all ends, now. It is just over two hours long and rated R. Too bad it has to end. Or does it? Do we smell prequel?

"Brother Bear," is a continuing effort by Disney animation to bring out lesser or unknown stories for children to the big screen. This has been a change of pace the last few years instead of retelling old fairytales and folklore. Some critics and Hollywood types have not been in favor of this turn. I for one enjoy the switch especially this one.

It is the story of a Native American teen, who on the trail of murderous grizzly bears is magically turned into one himself. Through his adventures with nature and various other animals he discovers secrets he never imagined existed. He runs into and follows a young bear cub who he hopes will help him find a way to become human again. They are constantly amused and perplexed by the strangest pair of Moose,(meese, mice, mooses,) whatever, they are hilarious and steal the show. They strangely remind me of the MacKenzie Brothers. (It is the Great White North is it not.)

Another great part of the movie is the music, written and performed by Phil Collins. This should be a Disney keeper for a longtime and a great G rated film for everyone.

The holiday film is a PG rated one called simply, "Elf." It is the story of a child, (Will Ferell) who is raised by elves as one of their own. He is forced to find his real family in New York, after all realize that he just does not fit into the elfin world. This is where the fun begins as he leaves his sheltered life behind and finds out just how different the human world can be. Ferrell has a great supporting cast of Ed Asner, James Caan and Bob Newhart. Some jokes are a bit thin but go and enjoy it for what it is a fun holiday film.

All of these films are currently showing at Harkins Prescott Valley 14 Theatres,7202 Pav Way, Prescott Valley, call 772-7444 or go online at harkinstheatres.com for showtimes. Next month we will talk about some long awaited films. Until then, tell them I sent you.....

Thanksgiving Dinner and Wines

By C.C. Ware The Liquor Barn

Every year, I wonder which wine I will recommend to my customers for a memorable Thanksgiving dinner. My basic recommendation is to drink what you like first. We hear from experts which wine will go best with certain food groups, but if you don't like white wines, you wouldn't like a white with turkey dinner either.

But because Thanksgiving is the quintessential American holiday, I generally recommend only American wines. For turkey's game-like quality, I have found a fat, oaky Chardonnay to be a good match. Even better is a crisp and fruity Pinot Noir or Zinfandel. I generally avoid strong reds as they will overwhelm the taste of the bird. Sweet side dishes like cranberry sauce and candied yams are best matched with sweet white wines like Riesling or Chenin Blanc. Stuffings accented with herbs are better matched with Gewurtzraminer.

If you serve ham instead of turkey, I would consider fruity Pinot Noir or Riesling. Sweetness in the wine will react perfectly with the saltiness of the meat.

If you are still confused with what to get, pick the wines you normally enjoy drinking. White Zinfandel is the most consumed wine today. Sweetness in White Zinfandel will make any food you consume taste better. But keep your guests in mind.

Other artifacts found in local sites are bone tools, metates, manos, polishers, projectile points (mostly of obsidian from the Flagstaff area), shell and even a few copper bells from Mexico. Oddly enough, there is no evidence of gold. However, turquoise, malachite, azurite, hematite, seemed to be popular in making such decorations as beads, pendants and points.

Although Prescott Culture people lived mostly in pit houses, a few pueblo sites may be found as are hilltop forts - so called because there is little evidence found that these structures were habitation sites and are believed to have been signaling sites since they appear to be within eye sight of each other and could therefore be used to warn neighbors of approaching enemies. A series of such sites extend from the southern Bradshaw Mountains north through Williamson Valley.

The Fitzmaurice Ruin has been heavily potted and in the 1930's a man named Simons engaged in this practice and even built a house on one ruin. Bryon Cummings, an archeologist, excavated three madders and five rooms in 1933. Franklia Barnett, a Yavapai College Professor, excavated several rooms in 1974 and a report on this excavation is available.

At the present time, the Fitzmaurice Ruin is on Fain Park property and is protected by a fence though vandals still visit the site. Tours can be arranged through the Parks & Recreation and the Prescott Valley Historical Society. For more information, please call 775-2[illegible]

Advertising is essential for our ever changing town of Prescott Valley and the Tri-City area. But at times, can be an expensive cost of doing business. When you can, try and let the merchant you are using know how you heard about their company and / or services. Whether it is from the newspaper, phone book, website, word of mouth, newsletters, their literature, vehicle sign or building sign, etc. Money spent wisely on advetising will help our town and merchants survive and prosper and be there the next time you need their services!

Cold Weather Safety Tips

Wood Stoves and Fireplaces-

· Be sure the stove or fireplace is installed properly. Woodstoves should have adequate clearance (36") from combustible surfaces, and proper floor supports and protection.

· Woodstoves should be of good quality, solid construction and design and should be UL listed.

· Have the chimney inspected annually and cleaned if necessary, especially if it has not been used for some time.

· Do not use flammable liquids to start or accelerate any fire.

· Keep a glass or metal screen in front of the fireplace opening, to prevent embers or sparks from jumping out, unwanted material from going in, and help prevent the possibility of burns to occupants.

· The stove should be burned hot twice a day for 15-30 minutes to reduce the amount of creosote buildup.

· Don't use excessive amounts of paper to build roaring fires in fireplaces. It is possible to ignite creosote in the chimney by overbuilding the fire.

· Never burn charcoal indoors. Burning charcoal can give off lethal amounts of carbon monoxide.

· Keep flammable materials away from your mantel. A spark from the fireplace could easily ignite these materials.

· Before you go to sleep, be sure your fireplace fire is out. NEVER close your damper with hot ashes in the fireplace. A closed damper will help the fire to heat up again and will force toxic carbon monoxide into the house.

· If synthetic logs are used, follow the directions on the package. Never break a synthetic log apart to quicken the fire or use more than one log at a time. They often burn unevenly, releasing high levels of carbon monoxide.

Furnace Heating-

· Have your furnace inspected annually to insure it is in good working condition.

· Be sure all furnace controls and emergency shut-offs are in proper working condition.

· Leave furnace repairs to qualified specialists. Do not attempt repairs yourself unless you are trained to do so.

· Inspect the walls and ceiling near the furnace and along the chimney line. If the wall is hot or discolored, additional pipe insulation or clearance may be required.

· Check the flue pipes and pipe seams. Are they well supported? Free of holes and cracks? Soot along or around seams may be an indicator of a leak.

· Is the chimney solid? No cracks or loose bricks? All unused flue openings should be sealed with solid masonry.

· Keep trash and other combustibles away from the heating system.

Portable Heater Safety

As the temperature drops, portable heaters are frequently used in different areas to "take the chill off." Unfortunately they are also found to be the source of ignition in many fires, both commercial and residential. If you must use portable heaters please remember these safety tips:

Cox 0846

· Make sure your model has a safety switch that will turn the unit off if it tips over or overheats.
· Prior to use check the cord for any damage.
· Never run a portable heater on an extension cord.
· Keep any heater at least 3 feet away from combustible material.
· Never leave the heater unattended, unplug it if you leave the area.
· Keep heaters out of high traffic areas.
· Make sure they are listed for indoor use.
· Propane heaters used with portable propane tanks are not for use inside the home. Any fuel burning heater can cause carbon monoxide buildup. ALWAYS insure proper ventilation, i.e. leave a window open.

Other Fire Safety Tips-

· NEVER discard hot ashes inside or near the home. Woodstove ashes can retain possible ignition heat for UP TO A WEEK. Place them in a metal container outside and well away from the house.
· Never use a range or oven as a supplemental heating devise. Not only is it a safety hazard, it can be a source of potentially toxic fumes.
· If you use an electric heater, be sure not to overload the circuit. Use only a power strip or a heavy duty extension cord that is rated for the amp load.
· Avoid using electric space heaters in bathrooms, or other areas where they may come in contact with water.
· Frozen water pipes? Never try to thaw them with a blow torch or other open flame, (the pipe could conduct the heat and ignite the wall structure inside the wall space). Use hot water or a UL labeled device such as a hand held dryer for thawing.
· If there is a fire hydrant near your home you can assist the fire department by keeping the hydrant clear of weeds (or snow) so in the event it is needed, it can be easily located.
· Be sure that every level of your home has a working smoke detector at the minimum. For good coverage you should have them in bedrooms, hallways and in heavily occupied areas like the living room. Be sure to check and clean the detectors on a monthly basis. Change the batteries every year whether or not they seem worn out and replace the smoke detector itself every 10 years.

Please contact the Community Risk Management Division of the Central Yavapai Fire District at 759-9933 if you have any questions.

Is Your Vehicle Ready For Winter?

Cold weather is fast approaching. Here are a few simple things to check to prepare your vehicle for winter.

Windshield Wipers – Replace inserts if they are hard or split. Change the fluid in the windshield washer reservoir to a fluid that contains an antifreeze protection.

Tires – There should be plenty of tread to ensure good traction and the best set of tires should be on the front of the vehicle. Also, have the pressures checked regularly.

Battery – Have it load tested to determine if it is in good condition for winter. Check the water level in all cells, even on maintenance-free types. If low, add distilled water until you see a "fish eye." Remove cables, clean posts and cable ends thoroughly to remove all corrosion, reinstall cables, tighten and spray with sealant.

Radiator – Fluid should be a mixture of 50% antifreeze and 50% water. (Straight antifreeze is just as bad as straight water!) Optimum protection is when the antifreeze is set to -34 degrees and the pH level is between 9.8 and 10.2.

Drive belts – Use a flashlight to look at the inside of the belts for weather checks or cracks and have them replaced as needed. Save the old belts to carry as spares in case of emergency.

Lights – Check headlights, turn signals, taillights and brake lights for proper operation.

IS WEST NILE VIRUS HERE TO STAY?

Fall is here bringing nighttime temperatures well below 50°F and signaling an end to this year's mosquito breeding season. Thankfully we may rest from the bothersome mosquitoes that are common during the summer and early fall months.

Now is a good time to talk with your veterinarian about having your horses vaccinated for West Nile Virus. The manufacturer recommends giving two intramuscular doses of 1 milliliter each, 3 to 6 weeks apart, followed by an annual booster. Studies conducted on the effectiveness of the vaccine demonstrate the vaccine is very effective in protecting horses against West Nile Virus.

Of the four horses in the tri-city area that have manifested symptoms of West Nile Virus and have been diagnosed as having West Nile Virus, one has been confirmed with the disease and the other three are considered probable cases. One of the four horses was euthanized as a result of the disease.

The County Health Department expects to find West Nile Virus in mosquitoes, birds and horses next mosquito season. It appears that West Nile Virus is here to stay.

Stolen Property Recovered with Citizen and Police Help (Prescott Valley, AZ - October, 2003)

A local business owner deserves a banner himself for his help in recovering a banner stolen from the construction site of Augie's Place restaurant across from Harkin's Theater. This hero, who prefers to remain anonymous, was coming out of Harkin's Theater at one evening and saw a group of youth removing a large colorful banner from the fence surrounding Augie's Place. "I knew that there was a restaurant going in there," he says. "Why would they be taking that sign down at night?" He jotted down the license plate number of the truck the youth were using. Thinking it might have been a prank pulled by friends of the restaurant owner, the man watched for the banner to be replaced. "I stopped by Augie's a few times, until I got hold of him and asked him what he wanted to do. He wanted the banner back so I let the police know." The man says, "That kind of thing is expensive. I know being in business myself that you not only lose the money for the sign but you lose the potential business too."

Officer Pat Ruiz took the call. "The police tracked the license plate number and had my banner back to me in two days," says Augie Perry, restaurant owner. "I'll take it as a compliment to my designer that the banner is so attractive, but those banners cost upwards of $100 to print." He also notes that the helpful attitude of the helpful businessman and the prompt action of the PV Police reflect the attitude that attracted him to place this restaurant in the heart of Prescott Valley. "These are the kind of people I want to serve."

Congratulations to all the homeowners who decorated their homes for Christmas. Viewpoint West really outdid last year and the judging was difficult for the 12 judges. First place ($50.00 gift certificate to Augies) went to Joe & Loyanna Marshall at 7463 Pinnacle Pass Drive. Second place ($25.00 gift certificate to Zeke's) went to Don & Kim Hesketh at 7234 Pinnacle Pass Loop. The homeowners on Viewscape Court had the most decorated court and John & Mary Bodie at 7233 Pinnacle Pass Loop had a beautiful handmade nativity scene. Congratulations to the winners and all who decorated. Next year we hope to have more prizes.

A Planned Proposal for Road Work

We are ready to begin the planned work on our road from The Viewpoint pavement to the cattle guard. The planned work will include rolling the loose silt into the road base, water and roll the base to a hard pack while crowning the sides again. The cost would be $4,000. The pastor at The Vineyard Christian Fellowship is heading the drive for the funds. We have $3,400 of the $4,000 collected. Please help if you can. This would improve the worst part of the road. We are waiting for the OK from the Viewpoint management to start.

Donations of $25 per homeowner monthly are still accepted for the Poquito Valley Road escrows acct: Your maintenance payments can be mailed to: Yavapai Title acct # M05001010 P. O. Box 1900 Sierra Vista, AZ 85636. Volunteers: Karen Benson 772-8358 - Linda Pope 759- 3470 - Ted Moxley 775-6203.

There are now 0 MAIL Boxes available. The boxes are near the Vineyard Church. Those still interested in having a mail box here, please call, Ted Moxley at 775-6203, address is 7220 E. Moonlit Dr. Prescott Valley, AZ, 86314 (off Poquito Valley Rd.).

Regarding Poquito Valley's portion of the road, on November 26th, Ted Moxley and Kathy Noble met with Bev Staddon of the Yavapai County Board of Supervisors regarding what is involved in forming a county road improvement district. (If this is the way the majority of the property owners want to go vs keeping it a private road and we contract the people ourselves to do something with the road). At this point, a date of Thursday, February 19, 2004, at 6pm at the Vineyard Christian Church, has been set to decide what we will do. This will be a very important meeting for all property owners of Poquito Valley to attend because we should have the necessary information needed by the county by this time to petition for a road improvement district, if this is how it turns out. There will be several votes taken, which maybe the final ones. Please mark your calendars and attend this very important meeting. Your input and understanding of this issue if very important. There will be various people from the County to answer any questions you may have. Also, if you sell, buy or currently own property in this area, please make sure you contact the County Assessors Office to make sure they have the your most updated address and information. This will save time and money down the road.

The n[illegible] before this meeting is to have a legal description and map of properties and boundaries that will be part of this district. Several people are working on this for the meeting.

For more information about forming a road improvement district, you can go to the county's website at: www.co.yavapai.az.us Go to Departments, then Special Districts, then County Road Improvements Districts. If you still need additional information, contact: Bev Staddon, Clerk of the Board / Special Districts Coordinator, Yavapai County Board of Supervisors at 1015 Fair Street, Prescott, AZ, 86305, (928) 771-3209, email, bev.staddon@co.yavapai.az.us

More information next month or watch for additional information in the road news box by church.

Regarding the School Bus Route Extending

Residents of Poquito Valley met last spring with the HUSD Transportation Dept. The out come of this meeting is that they are willing to extend the bus route further out Poquito Valley Rd. However, in order to do so, they need to know who is in need of transportation to elementary, middle or high school and where you are. If you are driving your children to the church or all the way to school, this is your chance to request extended bus service at no cost to you. I am compiling the information now. Contact Don Bauer at 928-775-4690. The information needed for each student: Student's name, school, your contact phone number and nearest cross streets, (example: Poquito Valley Road & Fatheree).

2003 President's Report

AMPPOA has had a very busy and challenging year with our primary goals including:

1. Hiring a new property manager
2. Hiring a property inspector
3. Securing a contract for road work and maintenance

The Board of Directors has worked very hard this year to find a new property manager who could be more accessible and efficient in following through with the needs of our association. July 1st, we hired Tammy Mikkelson to take over the management of AMPOA. Tammy and Deanna Poppenberger spend many hours sorting through property owners' files and developing an organized system to better accommodate the property owners. Tammy has done an excellent job and we're very lucky to have her as manager of our association. We have a P.O. Box and phone/fax number to help expedite communication between Tammy and the property owners.

Our new property inspector is Ken Butler. Ken has accepted the job with enthusiasm and we feel he will be very efficient in following through with completioin of inspections related to our CC&Rs. Thank you Ken!

The road situation continues to be one of our top priorities and we have recently signed a contract with an individual to begin grading Antelope Meadows Road. The Board is aware that the road is in terrible shape and we're hopeful that our new independent contractor will bring it up to a good drivable condition. He will also be maintaining the road throughout 2004. Part of the worst section of the road is the responsibility of Pronghorn Ranch. Deanna has contacted a representative from Pronghorn Ranch and he, in turn, is contacting someone to grade their part of the road which extends up to Acre Way. The ro Cox 0857 to 3-4%. This

The Architectural Committee meetings appear to be going smoothly. Carmen Bowling reports that new members are welcome to join the committee.

I would like to personally thank all the Board of Directors members for their work this past year: Deanna Poppenberger, Treasurer, David West, Vice-President, Gillis Bowling and Jim Durham, members-at-large. A very special thank you goes out to Deanna Poppenberger for her countless hours of making phone calls, filing and refiling paperwork, meeting with Tammy, etc. Had it not been for Deanna's hard work and commitment, we would not have made the progress that we have made this year, particularly since July 1st when we hired a new property manager. THANK YOU DEANNA, you've done a great job and we all appreciate you!

Colleen Pouquette,
Past President AMPOA Board of Directors

The Board of Directors and committee members work on a volunteer basis for our association. Input and participation from property owners is vital to the association being able to function and support the community. Please consider volunteering for a committee or helping out in some way.

Mingus --is a planned community with homeowners association and CC&Rs. Average lot sizes are 1/2 acre with all Prescott Valley Town servers, paved streets.

The Mingus subdivision has developed 119 lots to date with a total buildout of 466 lots when all eight phases are completed. In the first phase we have only 6 lots remaining for sale, and have at this point sold over half of the lots in phase 2. We have just in the last couple of weeks been given the engineering and survey information for the third phase of the development and hope to have the approval and consent to begin construction from the Town of Prescott Valley by the end of Dec. The 3rd phase is a total of 51 residential lots and also includes a portion of our first park site in the subdivision. At this point [illegible] as to when the park will be constructed or even what the final park structure will consist of. It will be owned and maintained by the Town and it is a little to early in the process to even guess as to the final design and time frame. As an approved subdivision in the state of AZ we adhere to the guidelines as to when we offer lots in future phase for sale, and as such, we will be waiting for the State of AZ Dept. of Real Estate Public Report for phase 3 before we begin selling the newest lots. We do have a list for people to contact as soon as lots can be purchased and would welcome potential buyers to pick a lot if they have been waiting for the 3rd phase. As soon as we are able to sell those lots the buyers on that list are the first ones to be contacted and offered the opportunity to purchase.

We have over 60 homes either existing or being constructed in Mingus and anticipate another good year of both sales of lots and new homes in 2004.

Mingus sub-division is located off Highway 89A, east of Yavapai Downs Fair Grounds. For further information, please call: (928) 775-4525 or visit their on site sales office at: 13218 E. Buckshot Road, Prescott Valley, AZ 86314 or e-mail them at: kimhorn@kimhorn.com (temp. email address)

News Release

Landline phone service is on the way...

Poquito Valley and Antelope Meadows are scheduled to be two of the newest areas to be served by the growing independent telecommunications provider, Midvale Telephone (MTE). MTE is a family-owned local telephone service provider with nearly 100 years experience serving rural, remote areas and more recently has specialized in providing service to the pockets of unserved residents carved out by larger companies.

Bigger isn't always better...

Those larger companies expanded their service areas to a point, and then stopped - leaving miles of unserved territory throughout Arizona, including the Prescott area. When Qwest made clear their preference to not serve Poquito Valley and Antelope Meadows, Midvale stepped up, went before the Arizona Corporation Commission and is now approved to serve the area. Midvale customers will enjoy personal customer service and state of the art technology. "All of our new exchanges are DSL capable," states Karen Ellison, MTE's assistant manager.

The key question... When?

There is still one pending issue before the Arizona Corporation Commission in Midvale's application. MTE asked the Commission to approve local calling or "extended area service" between its customers and those served by Qwest in the Prescott area. Several residents have already made the effort to testify before the Commission, but they want more information, so they have scheduled a hearing for February 26, 2004 at 6:00 pm at the Prescott City Hall Chambers located at 201 South Cortez in Prescott. All interested parties should attend that meeting and make their views known.

For more information... Contact: Karen Ellison at 800-462-4523 or kjwill@ruralnetwork.net.

Midvale has been approved for Poquito Valley and Antelope Meadows. They will start at Esteem Way and go all the way North to the fence line at the end of Poquito Valley Rd. and they will start at Sparrow Hawk Rd. and go North to the fence line at the end of Antelope Meadows Rd. They also have other rural areas around Prescott Valley they are currently putting in service for. The reason for the meeting in Prescott with the ACCand Midvale is to get the EAS, which is Extended Area of Service, so that all our calls will not be toll calls. So the more people that show up at the meeting the better. They are trying to get everyones opinion on the matter. The amount of years doing business has nothing to do with toll calls it depends on if we can get the EAS. The Corrporation Commission is theones that have to approve the EAS. If there is'nt enough of a turn out for the meeting they will probably not approve the EAS and all our calls except other people with Midvale service would be a toll call. This not only means we would have to pay for just about every call we make, but the people who call you will have to pay also. Please attend this important meeting.

TAKE A LITTLE TIME TO "SMELL THE ROSES".....*

The holidays are for many a stressful time when energy levels seem to dip and there doesn't seem to be as many hours in the day as there were last week and this energy shortage can get particularly acute for those trying to balance a job and family commitments as well as caring for an elderly loved one.

A recent Harvard Medical Bulletin suggests that a major wish by middle-aged people and even those as young as 35 would be to have more energy and a little time for themselves. And just for the record, outside of a medical reason such as fibromyalgia, anemia, low thyroid, depression or reaction to a specific prescribed medication, the most common cause of persistent fatigue is stress and your emotional response to it. Regardless of the cause of ones stress you don't need to suffer in silence. There are several easy, quick and free ways to reduce stress levels, ease your mind and get back into balance even if your actual workload doesn't change.

To boost energy and improve coping skills try just a few key changes in your lifestyle. I know it's not easy with everything else going on but take small steps and you'll see big results.

•Take a few minutes and "be somewhere else". Pick up the 'phone and chat with a friend, write about your feelings in a journal or note to a friend (a trouble shared is a trouble halved), light a scented candle and take a warm bath, curl up in a comfy chair, close your eyes and meditate, put on a head set and escape with your favorite music.

•Lighten your load. Learn to say "no" to optional work assignments, social invitations and more than your share of volunteering. (If you spread yourself too thin no-one benefits.)

•Get Physical. Exercise with a group or just walk around the block, get into the garden and get some fresh air while you're raking those leaves. (Activity will release stress hormones that make you feel energized and increase the amount of time you spend in deep sleep, when energy is most restored.)

•Go to bed! Try to develop better sleep habits like going to sleep and waking at the same time each day, avoid long naps and only use the bedroom for sleep. Get rid of the TV and the books, watching TV or reading until you doze off is not recommended.

•Eat for Energy. Keep energy levels high by eating a balanced diet and drinking lots of water. Small frequent meals are preferable as they supply your brain with a steady supply of nutrients and limit caffeine and alcohol (especially before bed).

•Don't Smoke! It's an old nag but it really is not good for your body as a whole and nicotine can make it hard to fall and stay asleep. If you must have a cigarette, pipe or cigar, NEVER smoke in bed... drowsiness and fire are never a healthy combination.

But if any/all of these things really are impossible for you to achieve you still need a break. Respite is available for an hour a day, all day or just now and again. If you can't cope any longer and know your loved one needs monitoring during the day give us a call at THE CENTER in Prescott (445-6384) or Prescott Valley (77[illegible]ich, take a tour and discuss payment options with you and you can rest assured that your loved one is being cared for with people of their own age in a safe nurturing environment where socialization, medical monitoring, therapeutic crafts and games are enjoyed from 8am-5pm each weekday. Or if your needs extend to a residential setting call THE MARGARET T. MORRIS CENTER where Susan Rheem our Executive Director (445-6633) will be happy to meet with you to discuss your family's needs. WINNER ANNOUNCED FOR OLD DOMINION FOOD DRIVE DRAWING

Prescott, AZ-In October, Old Dominion University started a Holiday Food Drive and Drawing. For anyone bringing in food for the local food banks and/or shelters, an entry blank could be filled out for the drawing December 15, 2003. We would like to thank everyone for their participation in this community action food drive, and say that our container was filled!

The winner of the drawing was Billie Smith of Yavapai College Student Services. She won a beautiful copper earring and necklace set generously donated by the Jerome Historical Society Mine Museum Gift Shop manager, Christine Barag.

On the drawing entries was a space to identify the charity to whom you wished the food to be given. The charity named the most times was the Yavapai Food Bank, and was therefore distributed to them.

We all know that hunger never takes a holiday, and while our minds seem to be focused on sharing more during holiday seasons, there are those in need throughout the year. To try to help remedy this situation, Old Dominion University Prescott campus will continue to take donations at Bldg. 3, Room 117. The container will remain in the front lobby in hopes of continued giving.

Take Stock of Your Daily Routine for Investment Opportunities

Some investors find the thought of investing in the stocks of individual companies somewhat intimidating. After all, how do you possibly decide which companies, out of literally thousands, to choose?

A good place to start is by taking a closer look at the products and services you use in your own daily routine. Consider a typical day in the life of an average American.

At 6 a.m., the alarm clock rings, interrupting your peaceful slumber. You reluctantly roll out of bed and head for the bathroom, where you turn on the light (Emerson Electric) and take a shower (Johnson & Johnson).

On the way to work, your cellular phone rings. It was your spouse reminding you to stop and pick up your new window blinds (Home Depot). You also needed to go to the store (Wal-Mart) and grab some Coppertone (Schering-Plough)for your vacation next week.

At work, you turn on your computer (Dell Computer), then return a few phone calls (SBC Communications). Before you finish your second cup of coffee (Starbucks), it's time for lunch. You stop by the ATM machine (Bank of America) then grab a quick hamburger and Pepsi (Pepsico).

On your way home from work that night, the cellular phone rings. It's your spouse, reminding you that you need to stop by the pharmacy (Walgreen Co.) for a prescription (Johnson and Johnson).

At home that night, you start a load of laundry (Clorox) while dinner cooks. Later that evening, you and your spouse discuss what color to paint the living room and the possibility of purchasing some new furniture (Leggett & Platt).

These are typical of the goods and services average Americans use every day. Many of these products are provided by companies whose stocks can be purchased publicly. Of course, your loyalty to a particular product doesn't guarantee that company's success, but it does provide a good starting point in your search for an attractive stock investment. By discussing the company with an investment professional, you can determine if the stock provides an attractive investment opportunity or if another company might better suit your investment needs.

Safe Online Shopping Tips

Whether you are shopping, banking or investing on the Internet, the BBB and the Federal Trade Commission encourage you to make sure your transactions are secure and your personal information is protected. The following tips are suggested:

- Before you provide any personal financial information to a web site, check the site's privacy policy. Find out how your information will be used or shared with others and what security features are in place to protect your information from being fraudulently obtained.
- Keep your personal information private. Do not disclose your address, telephone number, your Social Security number, bank account number or email address, unless you know who is collecting the information, why they are collecting it and how they will use it.
- Make certain the web sites you frequent are owned by reliable businesses. Look for trustmarks or seals from trusted third-party organizations, like the Better Business Bureau's BBBOnLine program, that indicate the business has met high privacy protection and other safe e-commerce standards.
- Give payment information only to businesses you know and trust, and only when and where it is appropriate. Never give your password to anyone online; even your Internet Service Provider. Do not download files sent to you by strangers or click on hyperlinks from people you do not know. Opening a file could expose your system to a computer virus or a program that could hijack your modem.
- Keep records of your online transactions and read your email. Merchants may send you important information about your purchases.
- Review your credit card and bank account statements promptly and carefully, each and every month. Look for errors or unauthorized purchases. Notify your credit or debit card issuer immediately if your credit or debit card or checkbook is lost or stolen, or if you suspect someone is using your accounts without your permission.

For more information on how to protect your privacy online, visit the BBBOnLine web site at www.bbbonline.org.

To obtain reports on companies or charities, or to receive a list of BBB member companies in a particular type of industry, visit us online at www.arizonabbb.org or call The Better Business Bureau of Central/Northern Arizona in Phoenix at 602-264-1721 or toll free (from area codes 928 and 520) at 877-291-6222. Prescott Valley Extends Sewer Rehabilitation Projects Deadline

Prescott Valley, Ariz. - Construction on two Prescott Valley sewer rehabilitation projects continues because of conflicts with other utilities discovered at two locations on Tonto Way. These utilities must be moved so the sewer installation can continue.

The construction schedule is modified as follows:

Project began: Monday, October 20, 2003

Project ends: Monday, February 2, 2004 (instead of the projected date of January 19, 2004)

Construction Location:

·Spouse Drive from Agua Fria Drive to Viewpoint Drive, and

·Tonto Way from Tonto Circle, across from Spouse Drive, to Marigold Lane

Construction Hours:

Regular construction will take place from 7:00am to 5:00pm, Monday through Friday

Detour Information:

During work hours, Spouse Drive and Tonto Way will be closed to through traffic. The town will coordinate with residents whose driveways are in the construction zone areas.

- Open trench construction on Tonto Way is scheduled to end on January 30, 2004.
- Open trench construction on Spouse Drive is scheduled to end on Friday, January 30, 2004.

The Spouse and Tonto sewer projects include rehabilitation of an existing sanitary sewer line, accomplished by laying a new sewer line parallel to the existing sewer line and then switching sewer connections to the new line. The old sewer line and manholes will be left abandoned in place, but not in use. This approach provides continuous sanitary sewer service to adjacent residents. Workers will repair the road surfaces after completion of the trench work. All trenches will be filled, covered, and/or protected every night. The schedule is subject to change due to inclement weather and other circumstances.

Citizens may experience temporary disruptions in traffic, parking availability, and temporary increases in noise/dust levels during the construction of this project.

Questions and concerns can be directed to Kimberly Moon, utility engineer with the Town of Prescott Valley and project manager, at 759-3083.

Start the New Year Safely!

The Central Yavapai Fire District wants to remind you about some of our safety concerns.

Recently we had another structure fire caused by fireplace ashes! Fireplace ashes can stay hot enough to ignite flammable materials for up to a week. Always put your ashes into a metal container, pour water over them, stir and store away from the house and any combustibles including fences and firewood.

Another constant concern is the use of household extension cords. The small white or brown extension cords commonly used in homes are inadequate for appliances and other electrical equipment and are not safe. It is very important that you use surge suppressor type power strips. They are heavy duty, protected and come in a variety of lengths up to 21 feet. These should even be used for holiday lights.

This is the time of year to change the batteries in your smoke alarms. Change it whether or not it is worn out. Did you know that smoke alarms wear out? If your smoke alarm is more than 10 years old you need to replace it. Take the time to vacuum your alarm with the brush attachment or use canned air when you are changing the battery. This will help to eliminate false alarms.

Did you buy yourself or your child a bike helmet for Christmas? If so, make sure it's worn whenever a bike, skateboard, scooter, skates or other piece of equipment is ridden. If you didn't buy one please consider doing so now. Brain injuries can occur in even minor spills when the rider is not wearing a helmet.

While we're on the subject of transportation safety, do you and your passengers buckle up? Don't forget to put babies and small children into the appropriate safety seats.

Please have a safe New Year and feel free to call us with any questions at 759-9933.

To the readers of the LONESOME VALLEY NEWS LETTER. From Central Yavapai Fire District Station 59, YOUR FIRE STATION! We are located at Hwy 89-A and Viewpoint Dr. We respond into the Antelope Meadows, Poquito Valley Ranch, Coyote Springs areas and other areas. We respond to fires and are the closest paramedics to you. In our business, time is precious. Every second could mean more heart muscle dies, or brain cells from seizures to strokes. In a fire it could mean the life of a child or loved one. Please help us find you! There are streets without signs and homes without numbers. While it is true we will find the fires, heart attack and stroke victims put out little to no smoke at all. Remember, in our business time is not on our side, please help us to find you quicker! Please put up street signs at your intersections and address numbers on your houses and gates, your life could depend on it.

Movie Review

All right readers, we will get into a new review and then I'll give you my special Top Ten of 2003. Currently out is, Cold Mountain, a civil war movie. It stars Jude Law as a confederate deserter who realizes that the war is lost. The love of his life, played by Nicole Kidman, is waiting for him and trying to make a go of her farm with the help of an angry drifter, Renne Zellwiger.

The cinematography and settings are quite good. The major problem comes with the casting, especially the two lead women. Kidman does not even come close to being a southern woman just waiting for her man to return. Zellwiger tries hard, but does not pull it off, as a woman down on her luck trying anything to get by.

Many stars say that they want to go "out of the box," from their image in a film but they should learn their limits. The film still has merits and is worth the time to watch it.

Cold Mountain, is currently playing at the Harkins Prescott Valley 14 Theatres at 7202 Pav Way. Check Harkinstheatres.com for showtimes.

Here I go, breaking new ground. Today, I will present the Cinema Sam Tri-City Top 10 Peoples Movies of 2003. I have been around the area listening to the most important people, you the movie goer, and here are my findings. 10. League of Extraordinary Gentlemen, the group adventure film with Sean Connery got audiences in the mood for fun. 9. Old School, the wild and too wooly film that should have been called the Old Guys Animal House. 8. Freaky Friday, this movie has been remade several times for tv but is probably the best. Could be the best live action family film of the year. 7. Seabiscuit, thought as one of the best. Many of the regular movie goers found it was too dry and long. 6. Elf, a good holiday film but a bit too obnoxious and repetitive. 5. The Cat In The Hat, only Mike Myers could pull this off, but he used too many tactics better suited for Austin Powers in this adaptation of a kids' book. 4. Bringin Down the House, Queen Latifah and Steve Martin had a mega hit with this film about mismatched online penpals. 3. Finding Nemo, the best family film this year. The Disnet animated blockbuster had a stellar voice over cast and a great story. 2. Bruce Almighty, Jim Carrey at his best,no doubt. Very few people did not see this film and less had negative words for it. Fantastic. 1. Drum roll please! There should have been no doubt, the best movie of the year was, THE LORD OF THE RINGS: THE RETURN OF THE KING. How much more can I say, everyone loved it.

Stay tuned for next month for more reviews and the Stinkers of 2003. Until then, go to Harkins and tell them I sent you. CINEMA SAM. For showtimes or inquires, contact Harkins at 775-7444 or go online at: harkinstheatres.com. The Awakening

A time comes in your life when you finally get it..... When in the midst of all your fears and insanity you stop dead in your tracks and somewhere the voice inside your head cries out - ENOUGH!

Enough fighting and crying or struggling to hold on.

And, like a child quieting down after a blind tantrum, your sobs begin to subside, you shudder once or twice, you blink back your tears and through a mantle of wet lashes you begin to look at the world through new eyes.

This is your awakening.

You realize that it's time to stop hoping and waiting for something to change, or for happiness, safety and security to come galloping over the next horizon. You come to terms with the fact that he is not Prince Charming and you are not Cinderella and that in the real world there aren't always fairy tale endings (or beginnings for that matter) and that any guarantee of "happily ever after" must begin with you, and in the process...a sense of serenity is born of acceptance. You awaken to the fact that you are not perfect, and that not everyone will always love, appreciate or approve of who or what you are ... and that's OK. (They are entitled to their own views and opinions.)

And you learn the importance of loving and championing yourself, and in the process...a sense of newly found confidence is born of self approval.

You stop complaining and blaming other people for the things they did to you (or didn't do for you) and you learn that the only thing you can really count on is the unexpected. You learn that people don't always say what they mean or mean what they say, and that not everyone will always be there for you, and that it's not always about you. So, you learn to stand on your own and to take care of yourself and in the process... a sense of safety & security is born of self-reliance.

You stop judging and pointing fingers, and you begin to accept people as they are, and to overlook their shortcomings and human frailties and, in the process... a sense of peace & contentment is born of forgiveness.

You realize that much of the way you view yourself, and the world around you, is a result of all the messages and opinions that have been ingrained into your psyche. And you begin to sift through all the crap you've been fed about how you should behave, how you should look, how much you shouldn't weigh, what you should wear, where you should shop, what you should drive, how and where you should live, what you should do for a living, what you should expect of a marriage, the importance of having and raising children. You learn to open up to new worlds and different points of view.

And you begin reassessing and redefining who you are and what you really stand for. You learn the difference between wanting and needing, and you begin to discard the doctrines and values you've outgrown, or should never have bought into to begin with, and in the process ... you learn to go with your instincts.

You learn that it is truly in giving that we receive. And that there is power and glory in creating and contributing, and you stop maneuvering through life merely as a "consumer" looking for your next fix. You learn that principles such as honesty and integrity are not the outdated ideals of a bygone era, but the mortar that holds together the foundation upon which you must build a life. You learn that you don't know everything, it's not your job to save the world, and that you can't teach a pig to sing.

You learn to distinguish between guilt and responsibility, and the importance of setting boundaries and learning to say NO. You learn that the only cross to bear is the one you choose to carry, and that martyrs get burned at the stake.

Then you learn about love. Romantic love and familial love. How to love, how much to give in love, when to stop giving, and when to walk away. You learn not to project your needs or your feelings onto a relationship. You learn that you will not be more beautiful, more intelligent, more lovable, or important because of the man or woman on your arm or the child that bears your name You learn to look at relationships as they really are and not as you would have them be. You stop trying to control people, situations, and outcomes. And you expect the same from them. You learn that just as people grow and change and not always for the better, so it is with love ... and you learn that you don't have the right to demand love on your terms ... just to make you happy. And, you learn that alone does not mean lonely...and you learn that by being with the wrong person you are missing not meeting the person that may be right for you.

And you look in the mirror and come to terms with the fact that you will never be a size 0 or a perfect 10 and you stop trying to compete with the image inside your head and agonizing over how you "stack up." You also stop working so hard at putting your feelings aside, smoothing things over, and ignoring your needs. You learn that feelings of entitlement are perfectly OK....and that it is your right to want things and to ask for the things that you want...and that sometimes it is necessary to make demands.

You come to the realization that you deserve to be treated with love, kindness, sensitivity, and respect, and that the truth is very important in any relationship, whichever it is, and you will not settle for less because you know the meaning of your worth.

And you allow only the hands of a lover who cherishes you, to glorify you with his or her touch ... and in the process you internalize the meaning of self-respect. And you learn that your body really is your temple. You begin eating a balanced diet, drinking more water, and taking more time to exercise.

You learn that fatigue diminishes the spirit and can create doubt and fear, so you take more time to rest. And, just as food fuels the body, laughter fuels our soul, so you take more time to laugh and to play.

You learn that, for the most part, in life you get what you believe you deserve ... and that much of life truly is a self-fulfilling prophecy. You learn that anything worth achieving is worth working for, and that wishing for something to happen is different from working toward making it happen.

More importantly, you learn that in order to achieve success, you need direction, discipline, and perseverance. You also learn that no one can do it all alone and that it's OK to risk asking for help. You learn that the only thing you must truly fear is the great robber baron of all time. FEAR itself. You learn to step right into and through your fears, because you know that whatever happens you can handle it, and to give in to fear is to give away the right to live life on your terms.

And you learn to fight for your life and not to squander it living under a cloud of impending doom. You learn that life isn't always fair, you don't always get what you think you deserve, and that sometimes bad things happen to unsuspecting, good people. On these occasions you learn not to personalize things.

You learn that your God isn't punishing you or failing to answer your prayers, it's just life happening. And you learn to deal with evil in its most primal state - the ego.

You learn that negative feelings such as anger, envy, and resentment must be understood and redirected, or they will suffocate the life out of you and poison the universe that surrounds you.

You learn to admit when you are wrong and to build bridges instead of walls. You learn to be thankful and to take comfort in many of the simple things we take for granted, things that millions of people upon the earth can only dream about; a full refrigerator, clean running water, a soft warm bed, a long hot shower.

Slowly, you begin to take responsibility for yourself...by yourself, and you try to make yourself a promise -- to never betray yourself and to never ever to settle for less than your heart's desire.

And you hang a wind chime outside your window so you can listen to the wind. And you make it a point to keep smiling, to keep trusting, and to stay open to every wonderful possibility. Finally, with courage in your heart and with your God by your side, you take a stand, you take a deep breath, and you begin to design the life you want to live as best as you can.

To The Lonesome Valley Newsletter & Residents of Lonesome Valley,

A LITTLE ROAD HISTORY,

In October of 2001, as an "Owner-Operator", ASSOCIATED GRADING WORKS began work grading Antelope Meadows Road from the Town Boundary south of Acre Way for about 3 miles North under contract to flat blade grade and open side ditches. That work was completed in November, 2001. The road South of this was at that time unusable and traffic was using the side trails outside the R/W easement. A contract was negotiated and that portion of the road was ripped, repaired and made useful in December, 2001. In February 2002, a maintenance agreement began for flat blade grading, bi-monthly, on that portion of the road North of the Town Boundary.

The continuing drought caused hardpan conditions to develop along with dust on the road making it impossible to grade out potholes and washboard without ripping first, adding an unacceptable cost. The maintenance agreement was dropped for it was better to leave the road alone with hardpan and minimal dust, than to scrape up loose dirt to blow away in the wind.

In August, 2002, a proposal was submitted to rip the hardpan, re-grade and compact a new roadbed starting at the then fence line of the developing Pronghorn Ranch Subdivision on a per mile cost. That contract was accepted and work began on the first mile. However, some objections occurred and the contract was nullified after the first mile was completed. Others then assumed the maintenance responsibilities.

In February of 2003, a new Work Order was authorized for ASSOCIATED GRADING WORKS to maintain Antelope Meadows Road on a per hour rate for each unit used and cost of water. Certain areas were designated to be worked while staying within a set budget. This arrangement worked very well and the road received adequate maintenance for the cost incurred.

In late September, 2003, apparently this arrangement was interrupted by action of the Board of the Antelope Meadows, P.O.A. Although notice was required by the Work Order agreement, no complaints, or notices of any kind have been received concerning grading operations by ASSOCIATED GRADING WORKS, L.C.

The last grading work done by the above was September 18/19, 2003. All grading after that date was one by others and ASSOCIATED GRADING WORKS,L.C. accepts NO responsibility beyond the above date.

The New Year will bring some upgraded equipment and attachments to ASSOCIATED GRADING WORKS, which is oriented specifically to solve most of the problems associated with maintaining dirt roads of this type. The more efficient process of ripping, crushing, compacting and shaping the roadbed utilizing just one piece of heavy equipment will reduce overall cost while building a more stable and long lasting surface. More about this process in upcoming advertising and publications in the near future.

ASSOCIATED GRADING WORKS wishes to thank all the residents of Lonesome Valley and hope the new year brings joy and prosperity to everyone.

Advertising is essential for our ever changing town of Prescott Valley and the Tri-City area. But at times, can be an expensive cost of doing business. When you can, try and let the merchant you are using know how you heard about their company and / or services. Whether it is from the newspaper, phone book, website, word of mouth, newsletters, their literature, vehicle sign or building sign, etc. Money spent wisely on advetising will help our town and merchants survive and prosper and be there ' ervices!

Community News

The Viewpoint --One of Northern Arizona's largest and most impressive and affordable master-planned communities, with a Homeowners' Association, sensible CC&Rs and stunning panoramic views of mountains, sunrises and sunsets. Other features: paved streets with winding sidewalks for free easy living; city water and sewer, and underground utilities, including cable TV; friendly neighbors and dedicated school and park sites; Park Ridge, an exclusive gated community with a water feature.

For more information about The Viewpoint, please call (928) 775-2000 or visit their website: www.viewpointaz.com. The Viewpoint Real Estate Office is located at 7218 E. Horizon Way, Prescott Valley, in The Viewpoint, just north of 89A on Viewpoint Drive.

The Viewpoint East

The February Homeowners Association meeting was held in the Community Room on Level Three of the Civic Center on the 25th to introduce the new Board of Directors for 2004. Re-elected were Steve Parker-President, Wayne Hassing-Vice President, Judy Bowman-Secretary, and Lionel Talbot-Member at Large. The members and Board welcome Melissa Watson, who replaces Stan Nordel as Treasurer. Many thanks to Stan, whose busy work schedule prevented him from running again, and best wishes to Melissa in her new position.

As usual, copies of the prior month's financial statements were available to all members at the meeting. Any Homeowner not at the meeting can obtain a copy by calling Liberty Management or any Board member.

The Board proposed that, as allowed in our CC&Rs, the Association Meetings be held on a quarterly basis instead of monthly. The Newsletter will still be distributed to every home and posted on the web page monthly, but less frequent meetings seem feasible unless there are large issues that need to be discussed with the Association members.

With regard to the trash pickup issue, President Parker and Vice President Hassing met with town officials prior to the Council vote and presented the views of Viewpoint East and other HOAs in the area. The meeting ended with discussion of an exemption being allowed to HOAs to choose a collection day suitable to their needs rather than be restricted to the Thursday/Friday schedule before the Council. At this time, it is our understanding that this exemption was made part of the ruling voted on last week.

Although prior discussions narrowed pickup down to Monday OR Tuesday, discussion on the 25th brought up the idea that Tuesday is a better day than Monday: because so many holiday weekends include Monday, either collecti king or home-owners may l Cox 0877 s. The Board

February19th's road meeting, at the Vineyard Christian Fellowship Church went very well. There were over 100 property owners represented and about 150-175 people there. (It is undetermined as to how many of these property owners own more than one parcel or how large these parcels are.) Bev Staddon, Clerk of the Board / Special Districts Coordinator of Yavapai County Board of Supervisors, presented a slide show that was very useful and informative. It brought out other things to think about as well as answered a lot of questions. Following the slide show, Bev and Phil Bourdon, P.E. of Yavapai County Public Works, answered questions. Tim Hopps, of Yavapai Survey, was also on hand to give input regarding road improvement district boundaries and answer questions, among other things.

On this night, 26 confirmed petitions were turned in and several more have been turned in since then. There was also a green questionnaire sheet passed out, 49 were turned back in that night. One of the questions on this sheet was, "Are you in favor of going public and forming a beneficial road improvement district". Eighty-nine percent, (89.8%) of the 49 responses were in favor. Now, we need more petitions signed and turned in to Ted Moxley, and we will be that much closer to a smoother, paved road.

If you took home the petition, to read over or have your spouse read, please return all four sheets, with the required information filled out, and signed by all legal parties involved, to the following address, (only if you are in favor and want to be part of this). Please mail or stop by: Ted Moxley, at 7220 E. Moolit Dr., Prescott Valley, AZ 86314. (He is off Poquito Valley Rd).

If you were not able to attend this meeting, and want to be part of this road improvement district, please contact Ted Moxley at 928-775-6203 and give him your property(s) legal title name(s), mailing address, parcel number and/or legal description of your property in Poquito Valley, and a petition will be mailed to you shortly. We would like to have all petitions turned back in by Friday, April 16th, 2004, so we can start logging the information.

If you have sold or bought property in this area, in the past month or so, or may be planning to sell or buy, please keep Ted informed of new information, as legal ownership of property at the time of filing the petitions with the county, is very important to our efforts.

There are several things that will effect the outcome of forming a beneficial road improvement district and having the county pave the road and then maintain it:

1. The percentage of property owners in this district that say yes, and there are about 200 different owners, owning various size lots, and in some cases, several lots;
2. The percentage of Poquito Valley Rd property owners that say yes. There are about 73 parcels bordering Poquito Valley Road; and
3. If the majority of land/acreage of the proposed district, that say yes. Total is about 941 acres.

What we are looking for is more that sixty-two percent (62%) of the signed petitions to go before the county.

Once we have the needed petitions and they are presented to the county, they will come back to us with their findings and estimates. If the costs come back too high, we will have a period of time to stop any further work, but we will have to pay for any engineering, attorney costs, etc., that we have incurred.

We will keep you posted of ongoing results through this newsletter, the Road News box by the church, or you can call Ted Moxley at 775-6203. Please keep your mailing address current by calling into Ted. Thank you.

For more information about forming a road improvement district, please try and go to the county's website at: www.co.yavapai.az.us, go to Departments, then Special Districts, then County Road Improvements Districts. If you still need additional information, contact: Bev Staddon, Clerk of the Board / Special Districts Coordinator, Yavapai County Board of Supervisors at 1015 Fair Street, Prescott, AZ, 86305, (928) 771-3209, email, bev.staddon@co.yavapai.az.us. Is the Time Near! So far the majority says YES,
But we need more petitions signed and turned back in.

Ted Moxley is in the process of getting another mail box unit with 16 slots, installed were the current ones are, near the Vineyard Church in Poquito Valley. Those still wanting a mail slot here, please call, Ted at 775-6203, address is 7220 E. Moonlit Dr. Prescott Valley, AZ, 86314, (off Poquito Valley Rd.). He will need: $82 to pay for your slot, plus your name, home address and phone number.

Antelope Meadows –is a rural community of 1280 Acres with a Property Owners Association and sensible CC&R's with property available is lot sizes of 2, 5 and 10 acres. Owners enjoy the beautiful views of the surrounding mountains, the gorgeous sunrises and sunsets, and the wonderful people. Antelope Meadows is great community as you see its tremendous growth with new homes being constructed every week. At our last count the number of improved properties in our Community was 92 which includes the 23 currently under construction.

The general monthly meeting of the Association will be held at 6:30PM on the second Wednesday of each month at the Prescott Valley Civic Center. Two items that continue to top our agenda are the road and speeders. Anyone who has some thoughts on how we can improve in these areas is invited to attend our meetings and join our team of committee members who constructively look for solutions.

In our February newsletter it was our plan to review the bids we had received to grade the road and select one to enter into negotiations with. In our February 14, 2004 meeting, the Board reviewed the six bids and approved contract negotiations with DustPro to define the exact scope of work and establish a final contract price. The proposal offered by DustPro is for an all weather road 24 four feet wide for the entire length of Antelope Meadows road. An all weather road is one that has a stabilizing agent added to the natural dirt to form a very hard weatherproof road. Water will have little effect as the all weather road is crowned which will allow the water to run off. Rock will not be spread on the road, which will reduce dust and protect our investment by not throwing rocks onto our automobiles or cracking our windshields. A job walk was conducted with DustPro on Monday the 1st of March to determine where possible drainage problems exist and the possible solutions. DustPro is now generating a scope of work based on that job walk for the Board to review. There is a lot to consider with the development of the road and we are optimistic that we can complete the contract negotiations by the end of March. The total of our contract will include grading the road from the cattle guard at the end of Pronghorn Ranch all the way through to Irwin Ranch Rd.

During our March meeting Randy Ketchum of Brown and Brown Insurance Company addressed the board explaining the insurance coverage currently if force. The primary concern is to insure that the Association has adequate liability insurance for the members of the Association.

The Board wishes to thank all of the owners who have made their dues payment on time. For those who have not, NOW is the time to send in your payment. We need all of the dues monies to complete this road project.

Speaking of road. How can we slow people down? I was passed last Friday night, oh about 10PM by a 4-wheel pick up truck that was going North bound and at least 50 MPH. He pulled into a driveway just South of Sparrow Hawk. The Board will be discussing our plan to notify contractors and delivery companies that they must comply with the posted speed limit. The exact procedures to be establish for those that break the rules has not yet been refined but the Boards' resolve IS to slow them down. We are also considering installing stop signs. What do you think?

Thanks to one of our Property owners for sending me the following inf[illegible] 1 to Cox 0882

Midvale Telephone Company to check on their telephone line charges. Their monthly line charge will be $24.00 plus about $9.00 in taxes. When you add the surcharge the monthly price is going to be $40.00-$45.00 a month. For DSL the pricing started at $64.95 and went to $89.95 for 512K upload and 512K download. As a comparison, many cell phone companies offer monthly service for about the same price and they normally include your long distance calls as well. As for Internet connection, the price for Wireless Connection to the Web is about $40.00 a month.

The proof of the entrance sign configuration for Antelope Meadows was approved during the March meeting and will be ordered next week. We will be installing the sign on the West side of our road just as you enter Antelope Meadows. Two weatherproof boxes have been ordered which will be attached to the signposts and will be stocked with important news.

A special thanks to Bill Durham and our Architectural Committee as they diligently working to improve our approval processes. As always, we need more members. SIGN UP TODAY! Are you going to make some changes around the house? Be sure you check with the Architectural Committee to see if an application is required.

Our Community Affairs Director Rachael Hay has been busy working on the two issues of mailboxes and school busses. As soon as the road has been graded, Rachael is going to arrange for the School District to drive the road. It is our understanding that as soon as the road grading is complete, the School District can provide bus service. What we need to do now is to gather a petition of all of the owners who would like this service. This will tell the School District and us just how many children want to ride the bus. Rachael needs some help putting this together so call her at 928-775-2285.

Mail boxes. How many owners want mailboxes? Where should they be? What is the cost? Who pays for mailboxes? Can you help Rachael put together a mailer and petition? If so, call her at 928-775-2285.

I would like to thank all of the Board members for taking time off from work and attending the job walk on Monday, and especially to Jim Frommer for setting things up. Engineering of a road design is a critical step and we just couldn't have made the progress we have without the help of our own in house engineer Dave West. Thank you.

Our main focus in the first quarter of 2004 was to improve Antelope Meadows Road so we can move on to other issues. I am pleased to report that we believe are on goal.

Thank you for you support.

Mingus –is a planned community with homeowners association and CC&Rs. Average lot sizes are 1/2 acre with all Prescott Valley Town servers, paved streets.

(December, 2003) The Mingus subdivision has developed 119 lots to date with a total buildout of 466 lots when all eight phases are completed. In the first phase we have only 6 lots remaining for sale, and have at this point sold over half of the lots in phase 2. We have just in the last couple of weeks been given the engineering and survey information for the third phase of the development and hope to have the approval and consent to begin construction from the Town of Prescott Valley by the end of Dec. The 3rd phase is a total of 51 residential lots and also includes a portion of our first park site in the subdivision. At this point we are not positive as to when the park will be constructed or even what the final park structure will consist of. It will be owned and maintained by the Town and it is a little to early in the process to even guess as to the final design and time frame. As an approved subdivision in the state of AZ we adhere to the guidelines as to when we offer lots in future phase for sale, and as such, we will be waiting for the State of AZ Dept. of Real Estate Public Report for phase 3 before we begin selling the newest lots. We do have a list for people to contact as soon as lots can be purchased and would welcome potential buyers to pick a lot if they have been waiting for the 3rd phase. As soon as we are able to sell those lots the buyers on that list are the first ones to be contacted and offered the opportunity to purchase.

COMMUNICATION IS THE KEY.....*.

While we talk to people and they talk to us every day and we receive and transmit all sorts of information we often don't "get through" to a person with physical or emotional difficulties. While there may be many reasons for this it may be something as simple as not presenting information in a way that can be received. Most people need to be part of what's going on and it is within the power of us all to communicate more effectively with those who experience a physical or emotional barrier.

COMMUNICATING WITH THE ELDERLY:

♥ Be sure you are facing the person to whom you are speaking and announce yourself to avoid frightening the individual.

♥ Use gestures and facial expressions to illustrate the verbal message, don't cover your mouth, turn away while speaking, or speak with something in your mouth

♥ Limit background noise like the TV or radio, keep sentences short and give the person time to respond.

♥ Have a paper and pen handy to print a simple message if necessary.

ENGAGING A PERSON WHO IS DEPRESSED OR WITHDRAWN:

♥ Express concern and caring using "active listening" paying attention to voice quality and body language.

♥ Show empathy but unless you have been through a similar problem avoid saying "I know what you are going through".

♥ Acknowledge and validate the person's feelings as understandable i.e. "that's an understandable reaction to a difficult situation".

♥ Do NOT use psychological jargon or talk about mental health problems although it is appropriate to indicate that the person is not alone in their feelings and that there is hope.

♥ Find out what may have helped the person in the past (family, friends, religious community) and use this to guide your conversation

How You Invest May Depend on When You Were Born

Are you a Baby Boomer? Or a "Gen Xer"? Your age helps determine your tastes in music, food and culture, and your attitudes toward a variety of social and political issues. And when you're talking about your generation, you also need to be aware that it can influence the way you save and invest.

To understand the financial implications of belonging to a particular age group, consider the following generational characteristics:

Many baby boomers:

* Have postponed retirement saving well into their 40s and 50s
* Use their home as their "bank"
* Have given their children's college education precedence over saving for retirement

While Gen Xers:

* Have student loans to repay, along with heavy credit card debt
* Have little "cash cushion" to fall back on
* Haven't focused on saving for retirement

Let's take a look at some ways that Gen Xers and baby boomers can address these needs.

If you're a Gen Xer:

· Pay off those student loans - If you still owe money on your student loans, you're not alone. Since 1997, the median in undergraduate student loan debt has risen 74 percent, to $16,500, according to the 2002 National Student Loan Survey conducted by Nellie Mae, a national student loan provider. By paying off your student loans as quickly as possible, you'll free up money for your short- and long-term savings and investment goals.

· Avoid the credit card trap - Keep one credit card for emergencies, and pay off your balance each month. Responsible credit card management is a great habit to learn early.

· Build a cash cushion - Even if you aren't earning much, strive to put away $50 or $100 a month in a money market account, until you have built a cash cushion of about three to six months' worth of living expenses.

· Contribute to your 401(k) - Start investing in your 401(k) or other employer-sponsored retirement plan as soon as you can. If you can't afford to put in the maximum, at least contribute enough to earn the employer match, if one is offered.

If you're a baby boomer:

· Accelerate retirement savings - If you aren't "maxing out" on your 401(k) and IRA, now is definitely the time to start. If you haven't saved much for retirement, you may need to weight your retirement plan more heavily toward growth-oriented investments, although you'll still need to feel comfortable with what you're doing, given your individual risk tolerance. · Use home equity wisely - At this stage of your life, you may have built up considerable home equity. If so, you might be tempted to take out a home equity loan to consolidate other debts, make home improvements or accomplish some other goal. Your home equity loan may be tax deductible, and you can probably find a competitive interest rate - but you'll still want to use this debt wisely. Remember, you're putting your house up as collateral, so you don't want to get in over your head.

· Don't bankrupt yourself to pay for college - If you want to help your kids pay for school, try to avoid dipping into your retirement savings. Instead, consider contributing to a tax-advantaged Section 529 Plan or a Coverdell Education Savings Account. Also, encourage your child to apply for grants and scholarships. And shop around for good, reasonably priced schools - they're still out there, if you look for them.

Make the right moves - at every stage

As you can see, you'll need to make different types of financial decisions over time. To make your job easier, consult with a qualified financial professional who understand your individual needs and goals - and who can help you develop a strategy for each stage of your life.

Prescott Valley Begins Construction for New Pump Station

Prescott Valley, Ariz. - In Arizona alone, this state's golf courses consume about 28 billion gallons of water a year, according to recent statistics from the Irrigation Association. The Town of Prescott Valley not only supports water conservation, but will build a new pump station to allow treated effluent (wastewater) to irrigate the StoneRidge golf course, the future Granville golf course, and future parks within the town.

The purpose of the new pump station is to help direct the reclaimed water to these areas in an effort to conserve water and help protect an important natural resource. Approximately four years ago, the Town Council established a policy that protects our groundwater thereby setting the standard that all golf courses within town limits will use treated effluent instead of groundwater for irrigation.

Construction for the installation of a permanent effluent pump station began this week on Lakeshore Drive between Navajo Drive and Warren Road. This stretch of roadway will be closed to all traffic from 8:30AM to 4:00PM on Monday, February 23, and Tuesday, February 24. This section of the roadway will be open during the evening.

The town will place directional signs along the roadway to aid citizens during the duration of the construction. Citizens will be able to access the Urban Forest park from Navajo Drive. Lakeshore Drive will remain open to all traffic east o[illegible] and west of Warren Road

MOTHER'S MAIL BAG

Dear Mother,
I really enjoyed reading this new column,"crummy in Coyote". First it made me laugh and then I cried... Looking back and remembering the husband I no longer have. I was really picky and I picked on him until the day he walked out on me. I'd give anything for a few crumbs, dirty socks, or his newspaper sitting on his chair (he never put it where it belonged). Ladies, wake up! If you have a good one don't drive him away, no crumb is worth a broken home and a life alone.

All alone

Dear Alone,
What a sad letter, my heart goes out to you. However, you are so right. We can pick on our men from morning till night and in the long term he's either going to go one way or the other. Some guys will really try to keep the peace and do their best when it comes to keeping a tidy home. Then you have the guy that really doesn't care. You can make yourself nuts trying to get him to shape up and your time together becomes very tense. I've always said pick, your battles wisely. Life is to short to make yourself miserable picking on small annoyances. Try and work through them in a productive and peaceful way. Remember in the big picture, as this lady found out , it's worth it!

Hug's, Mother

About Frost Family Chiropractic...

Chiropractic has come a long way since the first adjustment in 1895. Today's modern chiropractor has an education which is beyond the 4 to 6 years that most people now spend in college. A five year graduate degree program is required beyond foundational undergraduate work. The state of Arizona recognizes the chiropractic physician and his skill in treating nerve, muscle and skeletal conditions. It is exciting to be a chiropractor now, as many are acknowledging its benefits. Here's a little bit of the educational background at Frost Family Chiropractic.

Dr. Jason T. Frost received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Biology and Environmental and Hazardous Materials Management at the University of Findlay in Findlay, Ohio. He then received his Doctor of Chiropractic Degree upon completion of the five year doctorate program at Palmer College of Chiropractic in Davenport, Iowa. Jason is certified by the National Board if Chiropractic Examiners and the Arizona State Board of Chiropractic Examiners. He is also board certified in physiotherapy.

Dr. Mary E. Frost received a degree in Chiropractic Technology from the Palmer School of Chiropractic Technology. She then received her Bachelor of Science Degree with emphasis in biology at Palmer College of Chiropractic. That is where she also received her Doctor of Chiropractic degree upon completion of the five year doctorate program. She is also certified by the National Board of Chiropractic Examiners and the Arizona State Board of Chiropractic Examiners. Mary is also certified in physiotherapy.

Jason and Mary Frost chose Prescott Valley as the place to establish their practice in 1997. They have studied many different techniques including Cox, Gonstead, Diversified, Activator and Thompson. They also utilize adjunctive physiotherapy in their practice. The Frosts regularly attend continuing education classes as part of their license renewal and enjoy the ongoing professional development obtained through the classes. They are located at 3050 N. Navajo Drive Suite 103 in Prescott Valley (on the corner of Navajo and Florentine). Their phone number is 759-0696.

In a fire it could mean the life of a child or loved one. Please help us find you! There are streets without signs and homes without numbers. While it is true we will find the fires, heart attack and stroke victims put out little to no smoke at all. Remember, in our business time is not on our side, please help us to find you quicker! Communication is the Key

REACHING A PERSON WITH CONFUSION / DEMENTIA.

- ♥ Use a calm, low-pitched tone of voice as well as relaxed body language moving slowly and gently while maintaining appropriate eye contact.
- ♥ Treat the person with dignity and respect, be patient, pay attention and listen.
- ♥ Use short simple sentences using common words giving the most important information at the end of the sentence. Avoid open-ended questions.
- ♥ Do not confront a person with dementia when he/she makes a mistake or does something wrong, in fact if possible ignore the problem. Redirect the person's attention to something else or gently guide the person in performing the task.
- ♥ Respond to feelings being expressed with empathy and validation e.g. "you sound as if you are remembering a happy time and how it made you feel".
- ♥ When giving instructions/directions take small steps giving one positive direction at a time. Accompany the direction with a simple cue e.g. touch the top shirt button to clarify "button your shirt".

Come join us at THE CENTER in Prescott (445-6384) or Prescott Valley (775-3563) where our staff of caring, gentle individuals are trained to communicate on all levels. SPRING CLEAN-UP

It may seem a little early to think about spring yard clean up, but with the dry winter we are having it makes sense to plan ahead. Remember, that if you want to burn brush, weeds, tree trimmings, and the like, you are required to obtain a burn permit prior to conducting your burn. Most of us wait until the weather warms to clean up the yard. But, the last couple of years we have had to discontinue the issuing of burn permits in early spring with no permits available until the summer rains start. Burn permits are available at any Central Yavapai Fire District fire station. There is no cost for the permit however there are rules to be followed which are clearly explained on the permit. Remember, there is no burning of trash or other items, only yard trimmings can be burned.

As always, we are happy to answer any questions, call the Community Risk Management Division at 759-9933

A photographer from a well-known national magazinewas assigned to cover the recent 2003 fires. The magazine wanted to show some of the heroic work of the firefighters as they battled the blaze.

When the photographer arrived, he realized that the smoke was so thick that it would seriously impede or make it impossible for him to photograph anything from ground level. He requested permission to rent a plane and take photos from the air.

His request was approved, and arrangements were made.He was told to report to a nearby airport, where a single engine plane would be waiting for him.

He arrived at the airport and saw a plane warming up near the gate. He jumped in with his bag and shouted, "Let's go!"

The pilot swung the plane into the wind, and within minutes they were in the air.

The photographer said, "Fly over the park and make two or three low passes so I can take some pictures "

Why?" asked the pilot

"Because I am a photographer for a national magazine," he responded, "and I need some close-up shots."

The pilot was silent for a moment; finally he stammered, "So, y Cox 0893 flight instructor?"

Wireless Home Networks

Every home net is different. I can't describe precisely how to install yours, that's what setup discs and manuals are for. But a few tips can point you in the right direction.

Go With G. Wi-Fi comes in 3 flavors. 802.11b has a nominal speed (meaning roughly twice as much as you'll ever get) of 11 megabits per second, and the compatible 802.11g, 54 megabits. Both use the 2.4-gigahertz unlicensed frequency band shared with microwaves and cordless phones. The outsider, 802.11a, delivers a nominal 54 megabits in the currently less-crowded 5-gigahertz band, at the expense of range and compatibility, but you can get dual-band products that accommodate all three standards.

For most people, B works fine, but I recommend springing a few extra bucks for G. It won't make the Net seem any faster over a cable or DSL modem, but it can come in handy if you share files or stream media.

Wall Yourself Off. Don't set up a home network without a router or access point. The firewall built into most routers helps keep your data safe from hackers, provided it's turned on. Sharing your connection without a router is courting trouble.

Network First, Encrypt Next. Setting up a network can be infuriating. Until you've got everything talking, don't make it more complicated by encrypting it.

But you do need encryption to keep invaders from getting behind your firewall. Learn to enter WEP key codes in hexadecimal characters (where 0 through 9 and A through F are the digits) and write them down in a safe but unforgettable place, some products let you enter easy-to-remember pass phrases, but the way they generate keys isn't standardized, and you'll need the hex codes to get other devices working.

Change the network's name in the SSID (Service Set ID). Every hacker knows the default names. And don't use your name--that will allow someone to identify the network. If possible, turn off the broadcast function. With this disabled, the individual computers' SSIDs must match that in the base station. That will make it harder for strangers to get in.

Check For Updates. Wireless products often develop glitches that get fixed only via Web downloads. Few products actually know how to get the updated software automatically. But updates are the rule, not the exception.

How Could Someone Do That ???????

Hi this Lolli Mcallister with Paals. I'd like to tell you a story about 7 puppies that where dropped off near the power lines in Poquito Valley.

On January 18th, about 3:30 pm, Amy Ogden, a resident in Poquito Valley, called on her cellphone about seeing some one drop off some puppies. There were 7 mixed breed boys and girls about 2 months old. She was trying to catch them but needed assistance and a place for them to go after they were caught.

My husband and I went immediately to the power lines past Poquito Valley to join in the rescue. Amy and her husband and niece had several already caught. We helped them catch the rest. We brought them to our home and settled them down for the night. They were terrified of people and had not been socialized at all. It has taken us all this time to get them used to people and not so afraid. They have all been spayed and neutered and of course vaccinated. We have been able to find 4 homes so far. The last three are the ones that were traumatized the worst.

What I want to know is why anyone would do this?? It was a woman and she had a dog in her pickup cab with her. She was driving a grey older pickup, maybe primed. Amy was unable to get the license number but she said she will always remember the truck and the woman.

Did she think these pups were going to fend for themselves? Hunt down prey and survive? Or did she think they would have been eaten that night by predators? I wish that if people cannot keep the puppies they have allowed to be born, by not being responsible and spaying their female, to at least bring them to the pound or the Humane Society. It was and is horrible for all concerned. Thank God Amy was out with her family and saw this happen.

Please get your dogs spayed and neutered. There is no excuse for this and Paals would always be willing to help you get your animals spayed and neutered.

You can call us at 772-8063 for info on getting this done. Do n Cox 0895 ıe wilderness!!!

-Provide adequate lighting. A nightlight is an inexpensive solution for ease of travel during the night and especially important in the bathroom.
-Make sure that carpets and rugs are firmly attached, they shouldn't roll up when you push them with your foot and carpets should be free of wrinkles.
-Make sure that bathroom rugs have non skid backing.
-Install and use safety rails for toilet and tub.
-Install and use sturdy handrails on both sides of stair ways.
-Paint or use bright tape on stairs or steps to show contrast.
-Keep outdoor steps and walkways in good repair.
-Clean up grease, water and other liquids immediately. -
-Don't wax floors.
-Avoid climbing or reaching to high cabinets or shelves, use a sturdy step stool with handrails.

Lifestyle Changes-

-Have your vision and hearing checked regularly and corrected if necessary.
-Talk to your doctor or pharmacist about the side effects of your medications.
-Limit your intake of alcohol.
-Use caution when getting up from eating or sleeping.
-Use a cane of walker to help maintain your balance.
-Take care of your feet and wear supportive, rubber soled shoes.
-Maintain a regular exercise program to improve strength and balance.

The Viewpoint East

There were many happenings during this month for Viewpoint East. The Board of Directors has decided to have quarterly meetings instead of monthly meetings. The schedule for the remainder of the year will be the last Tuesday in April, July, October and January. We will, however continue to produce a monthly newsletter and maintain the website to keep the communication lines open. We are also still planning a summer picnic, Garage Sale, and Holiday Lighting Contest.

Trash Day changes. As of April 6, all trash in the Viewpoint East will be picked up on Tuesdays. This change was made in an effort to avoid having trash cans out every day of the week. All trash companies have been notified of the new day.

As usual, if you have questions or comments, call Liberty Management at 445-1225 or any of the Board Members:

Wayne Hassing	775-8751	V-President
Lionel Talbot	775-6812	Member at Large
Judy Bowman	772-0109	Secretary
Melissa Watson		Treasurer

As usual, copies of the prior month's financial statements are available to all members at our meetings. Any Homeowner not at the meetings, can obtain a copy by calling Liberty Management or any Board member.

With regard to the trash pickup issue, President Parker and Vice President Hassing met with town officials prior to the Council's vote and presented the views of Viewpoint East and other HOAs in the area The meeting ended with discussion of an exemption being allowed to HOA's to choose [illegible] election day suitable to their [illegible] d to the

Re: Forming a Beneficial Road Improvement District:

Currently, there is an effort to get signed petitions turned back in and to the County. We need atleast 2/3rds of the property owners here in Poquito Valley to approve.

At the February 19, 2004 road meeting, petitions were passed out. Some of these petitions were signed and handled back in that night. Some people took them home to read over and/or have your spouse read and sign. We have received several petitions turned back in since that night. But what we are asking for, (if you want to be part of this road improvement district), is please return all four petition sheets, including the green sheet, with the required information filled out, and signed by all legal parties involved. Please mail to or stop by: Ted Moxley, at 7220 E. Moolit Dr., Prescott Valley, AZ 86314. (He is off Poquito Valley Rd).

If you were not able to attend this meeting, and want to be part of this road improvement district, please contact Ted Moxley at 928-775-6203 and give him your property(s) legal title name(s), mailing address, parcel number and/or legal description of your property in Poquito Valley, and a petition will be mailed to you shortly. We would like to have all petitions turned back in by Friday, April 30th, 2004, (new date) so we can start logging in more information.

ownership of property at the time of filing the petitions with the county, is very important to our efforts.

There are many positives with the road being paved, such as: should increase property valves, better paramedics and emergency vehicle access, easier finance for property sales, reduce auto maintenance, better school bus access, on going maintained road, and many others you may think about.

The proposed beneficial road improvement district is for 3 miles, which starts just after the cattle guard, through the mud hole / flood area / wash, whatever you want to call it, (which is a little over a mile in), and ends just past the little hill in the back behind Woodchute Rd. The main road, Poquito Valley Road will be paved and maintained by the county when through. Keep in mind, it could take as much as 2 years before we will have a paved road, and by then, more of Viewpoint Drive will be done, not all, but more of it. The area by the cattle guard is within the city boundries, we are county. It is not clear, at this time, when this section will be done.

(Note-To the property owners along Poquito Valley Road, please call Ted if you will be deeding over your easement to the county to pave the road. Keep in mind, in most cases, you are not using this section anyway and it has already been allocated as an easement). Make sure you give him your name and parcel number(s).

Once we have the needed petitions turned back in and information we need, we will present them to the county. They will come back to us with their findings and estimates. If the costs come back too high, we will have a period of time to stop any further work, but we will have to pay for any engineering, attorney costs, etc., that we have incurred.

We will keep you posted of ongoing results through this newsletter, the Road News box by the church, or you can call Ted Moxley at 775-6203. Please keep your mailing address current by calling into Ted. Thank you.

If you need more information about forming a road improvement district, go to the county's website at: www.co.yavapai.az.us, go to Departments, then Special Districts, then County Road Improvements Districts. If you still need additional information, contact: Bev Staddon, Clerk of the Board / Special Districts Coordinator, Yavapai County Board of Supervisors at 1015 Fair Street, Prescott, AZ, 86305, (928) 771-3209, email, bev.staddon@co.yavapai.az.us. If you do not have a computer, the library has public computers.

Is the Time Near! It is looking good so far, but we need to hear from more property owners.

By the way..... how is your vehicle holding up from traveling on our rough, bumpy road after the resent rains? This can be avoided if we get PAVED ROADS.

Regarding Mail Boxes:

There is about 4 mail slots left of the new box just installed. Those still wanting a mail slot please call, Ted at 775-6203, or stop by 7220 E. Moonlit Dr. Prescott Valley, AZ, 86314, (off Poquito Valley Rd). He will need: $82 to pay for your slot, plus your name, home address and phone Cox 0904 on how we can improve is invited to attend our meetings and join our team of committee members who constructively look for solutions.

We have received word from our Declarant that rancher Billy Wells will no longer bring is cattle here to graze due to all of the new construction.

In this months issue we have published the goals for the year established in January of this year. They are:

First Quarter: Contract for road repair and maintenance
Second Quarter: Identify delinquent dues payments, send letters with payment demands including applicable interest. Determine parcel owners who have not complied with the provisions of the Declaration.
Third Quarter: Implement course of corrective action required for parcel owners identified in the second quarter who are not in compliance with the Declaration.
Fourth Quarter: Plan annual meeting, establish possible changes to CC&R's, present slate of new officers and prepare annual ballot for Association Members. Follow up on non-compliance issues. Conduct joint meeting with 2004 and 2005 Board members and develop 2005 budget.

In March we reported that we had entered into negotiations with a company to provide an all weather road. Several major items that were discussed verbally included project cost, how the work was to be accomplished and its affect on the road. The companies bid came in at over twice the annual budget and one of the many conditions of the contract included closing the road for 48 hours. Negotiations ceased and that plan has now been scrapped.

Board President John Shannon met with Board of Supervisor Gheral Brownlow who is the Supervisor of District 1. In attendance at that meeting was Phil Bourdon, P.E. who is the Assistant Public Works Director and Assistant Deputy County Attorney, Randy Schurr. The subject of that meeting was to see if and how Antelope Meadows might contract with the County to have them build and maintain the road. While it's only a budget, it would seem that the cost for that might be in the area of $3000 an acre or approximately $3.8 Million. The money for this would come from the property owners through a bond. The Engineering cost to design the road is roughly $250,000 that would only start after Antelope Meadows develops a Road Improvement district that will be overseen by The Board of Supervisors for Yavapai County. State statue dictates that the Board of Supervisors would sit as the Board of Directors for the Improvement district. If the District is formed and the road built, the $250,000 is part of the overall cost. If the Road District is dissolved, the Property Owners will still be required to pay the $250,000.

The upside of a Road Improvement District is that the County builds and maintains the road and we gain all of the Counties services available. Services such as on-going maintenance, speed control in the form of the Sheriffs Office, and street signs. The down side of this program is the overall cost, the time for the County to process, design and to build the road, giving up the easements to the County on all properties that border Antelope Meadows, and that the road could become a bypass road from Prescott Valley to Chino.

The other avenue we can pursue is for Antelope Meadow to build and maintain its own road. We can leave it dirt, we can add rock, we can chip seal it or we can asphalt it. Chip seal is better that dirt, but does require more maintenance than Asphalt and does not last as long. It also costs less than Asphalt. We also know that we can contract for the upgraded to the road to make it ready for Asphalt with the estimates running considerable less than that of the County. Until we can asses the roads actual condition and what work we will need to perform to bring it up to specifications, it is hard to estimate actual costs. That part that is unknown at this time is how many culverts and how much material will be need to do the road correctly. Estimates to date are 70K for a dirt road with rock, 350K for a chip seal road and 500K for an asphalt road. To do anything more than a dirt road with rock will require a special assessment. The special assessment to each property owner based on the number of Acres that owner has. The down side for any of these solutions is that we will be responsible to maintain the road, probably from now on. We will continue to have the risk of liability as we are the road maintainors and do not have County services like speed control because it is a private road. But it is our road, so if we want speed bumps, we will do them. The upside is that it costs less, we do not give up any easements, and the possibility of a through road from Chino to Prescott Valley is most likely stopped because our road is private.

they may interfere with the Antelope Meadows road development. Currently, individual property owners are required to grade their own side roads and many have already placed culverts in the ground. The association does not have the funding available without special assessment to work on side roads, install or replace any culverts that may be needed off of the main road.

As you can see, we could jump into a plan the assess everyone say $500.00 an Acre, collect $637,500.00 and work toward completing side roads, signage, all drainage issues, road design and development, additional materials, etc, etc. Or, we can use our dues and embark on a longer-range plan that would net a paved main road for our community. The road improvement monies collected through the annual dues billing would net at least $70,000 by the end of 2006. A small increase in annual dues of $10.00 an acre per year implemented in 2005 would net an additional $36,000 over a three period. The Association could then fund any improvement work planned in 2006 for implementation in the summer of 2007. The amount of funds available in 2007 would be a least $143,250, which should allow the Association to Asphalt the main road. The Board then could, for example, set the course for 2008 improvements, which may include paving side roads. This use of Association funds could eliminate the need to levy any special assessments.

-Quotes for road grading at $25,000
-Quote for delivering and spreading rock at $37,000
-Supply and install five culverts $8500
-Annual maintenance at $12,000.
-Single Quotation for Asphalt directly on dirt at $122,000.00
-Additional road work to provide install and pack material, $30,000

Special assessments take a 2/3rd's vote of all of the Property Owners before it can be assessed. How the payment schedule is established for the assessment has not been address, at this time.

Last month we wrote "The Board wishes to thank all of the owners who have made their dues payment on time. For those who have not, NOW is the time to send in your payment. We need all of the dues monies to complete this road project." Unfortunately we have 99 property owners who have not paid their dues. So the revised scope of work contracted to improve the road with rock has been severely reduced to lack of funds. Past due notices and delinquency interest is now being assessed.

Mingus --is a planned community with homeowners association and CC&Rs. Average lot sizes are 1/2 acre with all Prescott Valley Town servers, paved streets.

(December, 2003) The Mingus subdivision has developed 119 lots to date with a total buildout of 466 lots when all eight phases are completed. In the first phase we have only 6 lots remaining for sale, and have at this point sold over half of the lots in phase 2. We have just in the last couple of weeks been given the engineering and survey information for the third phase of the development and hope to have the approval and consent to begin construction from the Town of Prescott Valley by the end of Dec. The 3rd phase is a total of 51 residential lots and also includes a portion of our first park site in the subdivision. At this point we are not positive as to when the park will be constructed or even what the final park structure will consist of. It will be owned and maintained by the Town and it is a little to early in the process to even guess as to the final design and time frame. As an approved subdivision in the state of AZ we adhere to the guidelines as to when we offer lots in future phase for sale, and as such, we will be waiting for the State of AZ Dept. of Real Estate Public Report for phase 3 before we begin selling the newest lots. We do have a list for people to contact as soon as lots can be purchased and would welcome potential buyers to pick a lot if they have been waiting for the 3rd phase. As soon as we are able to sell those lots the buyers on that list are the first ones to be contacted and offered the opportunity to purchase.

We have over 60 homes either existing or being constructed in Mingus and anticipate another good year of both sales of lots and new homes in 2004.

Mingus sub-division is located off Highway 89A, east of Yavapai Downs Fair Grounds. For further information, please call: (928) 775-4525 or visit their on site sales office at: 13218 E. Buckshot Road, Prescott Valley, AZ 86314 or e-mail them at: kimhorn@kimhorn.com (temp. email address)

New Prescott Garden Designed Especially for People With Alzheimer's Disease

Residents of the Margaret T. Morris Center, an assisted living residence for people with Alzheimer's disease and other dementia, will soon have a special new garden for therapeutic activities and enjoyment. The new Strolling Garden will be located behind the Margaret T. Morris Center on Sunset Avenue in Prescott.

The garden's design reflects the latest thinking in Alzheimer's care, and includes

- places for wheelchairs, walking, activities and games;
- special interactive water and sculpture features;
- butterfly and culinary gardens;
- raised garden beds;
- a children's playground, and much more.

A Shade Pavilion bridges the building and the garden while providing a comfortable spot for people of all abilities to view and enjoy the garden. One can easily picture the residents, with their visiting children and grandchildren, enjoying the colorful and fragrant flowers and shrubs, sharing a picnic meal under an apple tree, or simply relishing in the beauty and nurturing qualities of the outdoors together.

Access to outdoor environments in specially designed gardens can be beneficial to physical, social, psychological and spiritual health. Research indicates that having physical or visual access to nature helps to reduce stress, promote activity, and maintain proper sleep and wake cycles.

Therapeutic gardens for people suffering from memory loss focus on the senses -- sight, smell, touch and sound -- while providing places for safe activities and exercise.

Community and family members, the residents themselves, and school children will help build the garden and decorate its spaces. It will grow and change with the seasons and years, as residents plant, tend, and thrive in its treasured places.

At the garden's groundbreaking on April 8th, Susan Rheem, Executive Director of Adult Care Services, the non-profit parent organization that built and manages the Margaret T. Morris Center, spoke about the garden's special qualities:

"The Strolling Garden will be an important extension of our healing environment, enhancing the residents' senses in the face of cognitive decline in a way that only nature can provide. It will allow them to live a fuller life, participate in new activities and connect with past experiences such as gardening and picnicking."

"It takes the gifts of many caring people to create such a special garden. The Strolling Garden has been a dream ever since the Center opened its doors in 1999. Now, through a generous challenge grant issued by the Margaret T. Morris Foundation and the J.W. Kieckhefer Foundation, it is poised to bloom into a beautiful reality."

To continue what's been started, the Center is asking the community to join with those who have given their time and financial support to this point. Individuals who wish to honor their loved ones through a naming opportunity or make a general contribution to the garden can call Cathy Jacobs at (928) 771-2335 for information. Donations will be matched dollar for dollar. Additional gifts for outdoor art and special features, as well as the care and enhancement of the garden are also needed.

If your family needs include a residential care setting please call The Margaret T. Morris Center (771-2335) to arrange a meeting with Susan Rheem. 529 Plan Can Help You Cope With College Costs

In a few weeks, the school year will be coming to an end. If you have young children, you're that much closer to the day when they head off to college. And if you want to help them pay for their schooling, the time to start saving is now, because college costs are moving in only one direction - up.

Just how high are the costs of higher education? Consider these figures from the College Board: In 2003-2004, the average annual total charges (tuition, fees, room and board) at a four-year public institution is $10,636, while the the corresponding figure for a four-year private school is $26,854. And if college expenses continue to rise faster than the general inflation rate, you can expect much higher costs in the future.

Fortunately, you've got some attractive college savings vehicles available - and one of the best of these is the Section 529 plan, named after that part of the Internal Revenue Code authorizing these accounts.

You can choose from two types of Section 529 plans: a pre-paid tuition program or a savings plan.

In a pre-paid tuition plan, you buy future tuition credit - at today's prices - at an in-state, public school. If your child or grandchild decides not to attend your state college, you can transfer the value of your contract to private and out-of-state schools.

In a Section 529 savings plan, you put money in specific investments. All withdrawals will be free from federal income taxes, as long as the money is used for a qualified college or graduate school expense of the beneficiary you've named - typically, your child or grandchild. (However, the money will appear as income on the child's tax return.) Withdrawals for expenses other than qualified education expenditures may be subject to federal, state and penalty taxes. This tax benefit is effective through 2010, unless extended by the U.S. Congress.

Section 529 plan benefits

Of the two types of 529 plans, the savings plan is far more popular. In many ways, it offers more freedom than the pre-paid tuition plan, and, of course, it has tax advantages. But the 529 savings plan also offers other key benefits, including the following:

· High contribution limits - Section 529 plan contribution limits are typically quite high - more than $200,000 per beneficiary in many state plans. Special gifting provisions apply. As with many investments, before investing in a 529, you should consult your tax professional.

· No residency requirements - You can generally contribute to the Section 529 plan of any state you choose, even if you don't live there. However, if you participate in your own state's plan, you may receive additional tax benefits.

· Investment flexibility - If you want to move your investment around, you can generally change to a different option in a 529 savings plan once a year. You can also transfer your account to a different state's program as often as once every 12 months.

· Estate planning advantages - If you're a grandparent, you may be especially interested in the 529 savings plan. Because you can contribute large amounts of money to the plan, you'll be able to reduce the size of your taxable estate. Plus, even though the assets are out of your estate, you retain control of them. You decide who will get the money and when they'll get it. You can even change the beneficiary to another family member.

So, there you have it - some reasons to consider investing in a Section 529 plan. If this plan is appropriate for your individual needs, it can be a great way to help boost your college savings. As for your child's grades - well, that's up to them.

Don't Pay Up Front Fee for a Loan!

Despite regular cautions by the BBB, consumers continue to fall for advance fee loan offers in record numbers. The scenario goes something like this: A small printed advertisement appears in the newspaper or on the Internet suggesting "Money to lend, debt consolidation, personal car and small business loans for people who have good credit, bad credit or past bankruptcies. Call Toll-Free Now!" The caller contacts the number and receives forms asking the consumer to submit personal information, including copies of driver's licenses, employment records, Social Security numbers, bank account information and credit card numbers.

A few hours or days later a friendly, polite telephone caller responds with the good news. The loan has been approved, but an insurance fee, processing fee or three months advance payment is needed before the loan is released and the check delivered. The customer is asked to pay the fee immediately through electronic transfer of the money. The money is picked-up by the "loan" broker, but the promised loan never arrives and the up front fee paid by the consumer (which can total several thousand dollars) is lost.

Many fraudulent loan offers are made by scam artists operating out of Canada. BBB experience shows that attempts to contact the individuals in question usually prove unsuccessful. It is very seldom that the company can be located to get the loan fee returned to the consumer.

The BBB advises consumers who are in need of extra cash to thoroughly investigate all advertised offers of "easy credit" or "easy loans" from unfamiliar loan brokers, particularly those originating out-of-state or out-of-country.

You need to ask yourself, "Why is this company, which I have never heard of, and which does not know me, willing to give me a loan?" BBB experience indicates that the following are signs of advance fee loan fraud:

• Pressure to act immediately. Advance fee loan schemers will try to get you to send money or give out personal information before you get any paperwork. Insist on receiving the necessary paperwork before deciding whether to apply for credit.

• Will not provide location information. If the loan broker hesitates to tell you their physical location, beware that this is a common ploy to avoid law enforcement detection. Refuse to do business with the broker until you have their physical address or location and can check them out with the BBB.

• Questionable connections to established financial institutions. Many of these schemers are merely telephone sales operations, so no connection will exist to an established financial institution. Ask which lenders the "loan broker" deals with, and ask for the physical address of the lender. Then contact the BBB to request information on the lender.

Consumers should keep the following points in mind before responding to ads that promise easy credit, regardless of your credit history:

• Legitimate lenders never "guarantee" or say that you are likely to get a loan before you apply, especially if you have bad credit, no credit or a history of bankruptcy.

• If you apply for a real estate loan, it is accepted and it is common practice for lenders to request payment for a credit report or appraisal. However, legitimate lenders never ask you to pay for processing your application.

"Posture, Posture, Posture."

"Slouch now, pain later." That is a quotation on a sign hanging in one of our physical therapy clinics. Another one is, "Poor posture produces pain." Both of these quotations sum up the importance of good posture.

Good posture insures that our spine is able to do it's job optimally. Proper alignment and loading of our spine is important. Our spine has 3 definite purposes. One is to maintain the structure of our trunk and allow for body mobility. The next purpose is to protect our spinal cord. The last purpose of our spine is to act as shock absorber. Without good posture, our spine isn't able to do it's job.

Another aspect of good posture is balance and energy efficiency. The ideal posture is one in which all of the muscles work equally to produce movement around a joint. If some of these muscles surrounding a joint are weaker than others, then an imbalance of that joint has occurred. This imbalance alters the way in which we move. If this faulty movement persists over time, eventually the area becomes painful to the extent that it can limit our ability to perform our daily activities. Low back pain is a good example. Many of the problems associated with low back pain are the result of weak supporting muscles that allow excess movement in the spine.

Physical Therapy can improve your posture several ways. Therapists perform postural evaluations. These evaluations will indentify areas of malalignment and imbalance. From this information, therapists will instruct on postural exercise, body mechanics, strengthening and stabilization, stretching, ergonomics, and aerobic conditioning. The ultimate goal is to improve posture and enhance daily living.

So, remember, "poor posture produces pain." And, never, "slouch now, pain later." Call us for more information. Information provided by Northern Arizona OrthoSports Physical Therapy, Prescott - 771-9327, Prescott Valley - 775-2765.

Update on new Landline Phone Service in Our Areas, Offered by Midvale.....

The Arizona Corporation Commission held a public comment session in Prescott on the Evening of February 26th. All of the Commissioners came to the meeting with the exception of Commissioner Gleason. In addition, Commission staff Richard Boyles and Wil Shand also were in attendance. The session was held, in part, to hear from residents about the proposal for Midvale Telephone Exchange, Inc. to provide phone service for several areas in and around Prescott, and more specifically for the proposal to have that service included as part of the Prescott - Chino Valley local calling area. Midvale Telephone had several represenatives in attendance, including Assistant Manager, Karen J. Ellison and Operations Manager, Dennis Farrington.

Comments were presented by Commission staff on the proposal to define Midvale's service territory as part of the Prescott local calling area. Karen Ellison presented an overview of the areas affected; namely, Henderson Valley Ranch (near Dewey); Potato Patch, Millsite and Mountain Pine Acres (all in the Bradshaw's); Crossroads Ranch I & II and Long Meadown (out Williamson Valley Road; and Poquito Valley and Antelope Meadows (near Prescott Valley). The timeframe for establishing services stretches out over the next 18 months. Because Midvale is eligible for federal loan funds, the residents in these areas will not need to pay for construction charges to build facilities to each area.

Comments were presented by several residents from each of the areas affected. In general the comments reflected support for Midvale's efforts and overwhelming support for approving local calling. Midvale committed that if it is approved now Midvale will be able to incrementally add the infrastructure to provide local calling, which means that Midvale does not expect to ask for any additional surcharge be paid by end-users. Staff analysis showed that if a surcharge would be required it would likely be less than $10.00 per month. Potential customers commented that they would prefer to not pay any more, and that if they had to, they would gladly pay the surcharge rather than have calls all be billed as long distance.

Based on the sentiments of the evening and the comments made, it is Midvale's expectation that the Commission will approve the proposal. We expect that service in Henderson Valley Ranch will be converted to local within six months. We also expect that service will be established in the Bradshaw Mountain subdivisions by the end of the year and that they will automatically be included in the extended area service area and have local calling to Prescott. Midvale hopes that construction will start in Crossroads Ranch this year and that service to all the new areas will be established by the end of 2005.

These projects will mark the first new local telephone exchange built from the ground up by Midvale Telephone. Although most people believe that telephone service is universally available, there continue to be pockets of areas that remain unserved. As larger companies refuse to expand into these areas, and urban sprawl pushes ever outward, more and more people find themselves caught in a confusing maze. We understand fully that it is a lengthy and confusing process for folks who must go through this, and we appreciate the patience of all we have worked with.

Letter to the Editor:

Thank you, Anonymous! A very big thank you to a wonderful anonymous individual who paid for our lunches on March 12 at Garcia's in Prescott Valley. It was such a pleasant surprise and our group really appreciated your generosity. Also thanks to the remarkable staff at Garcia's for their great service and accessibility. We make quite an impact with our assistive animals, wheelchairs, electric scooters and our friendly smiles and laughter.

Our group is Dave's Out to Lunch Bunch, one of the support groups from New Horizons, an Advocacy Center for Independent Living. This group is just one of the activities we offer which provides the opportunity to socialize at local accessible restaurants and businesses. So come join us or say hi when you see us around town on the second Friday of each month.

New Horizons is a non-profit agency whose mission is to provide services and advocacy which empower and enable persons with disabilities to self-determine the goals and activities of their lives in family, home, community and workplace and to promote dignity, equality, inclusion and independence for all persons with disabilities.

Again, thank you Anonymous. You are one of the reasons that those of us with disabilities love this area, with its generous people and friendly small town spirit.

NEW The Credit Consultants' Corner

What is Identity Theft?

Identity theft happens when someone wrongly assumes another person's name and identity for fraudulent financial purposes. According to the FBI, identity theft is one of the fastest growing crimes in the United States. Studies show that nearly 1 in 5 households in the U.S. have been a victim of identity theft. The identity thief steals vital data about the victim, including social security number or credit card numbers, date and place of birth, etc. Once the thief has enough information they can then acquire credit cards in your name, open bank accounts using your money, get drivers licenses and even get married in your name. They can also get arrested in your name!

Worst of all is you probably won't even know that credit identity theft has occurred until sometimes many months later. While federal credit fraud laws protect you, it can still take months to restore your credit rating, and it will also cost you some money. Credit card companies that become aware that they have wrongly extended credit to the thief in your name must obtain the money from the identity thief, or as is more often the case, eat the losses. The three credit reporting agencies: Equifax 888-909-7304; Experian 888-397-3742; and Trans Union 800-888-4213 will usually issue, free of charge, a credit report to anyone who has been a victim of credit identity theft. It is important to protect yourself before you become a victim. If you see any unfamiliar credit card accounts, or a history of applications for credit accounts listed that you never made, there is a good chance that someone is using your name for their own gain.

Top 10 Causes of Credit Fraud and Identity Theft

1) Theft of employer or other multi person records.
2) Domestic/elder abuse.
3) Credit Card skimming.
4) Lost or stolen purse or wallet.
5) Improper disposal of credit card receipts and statements.
6) Database intrusions (credit card account numbers).
7) Mail theft.
8) A dishonest employee.
9) Eavesdropping.
10) Misrepresentation to obtain personal information, often over the phone.

Top 10 Tips to Help Prevent Credit Fraud and Identity Theft

1) Properly discard/shred documents (credit card statements and receipts).
2) Guard personal information- do not put your Social Security # on checks.
3) Always remember to get your credit cards and receipts after transactions.
4) Limit the number of credit cards you carry in you're wallet or purse.
5) If you don't receive your billing statement, notify the company immediately.
6) Don't ever give out your credit card number over the phone, unless you initiate the call and know who you are talking to.
7) Carefully review your credit card statements.
8) Regularly review your credit report (at least every 6 months).
9) Memorize your PIN numbers, do not write them on the cards.
10) Question any suspicious activity.

See you next month!

MOTHER'S MAIL BAG

Dear Mother,

I was visiting your area and read your column in the local paper (magazine) I liked what you had to say and wonder if you can help me with my problem. I live by myself, I'm 55 years old and I don't have to answer to anyone as to how my house looks, so my house is a real mess. I come home from work, eat, and fall asleep on the sofa. nothing ever gets done, I'm in a rut and I'm not happy in this mess. Please help !

Lost in My Livingroom IN CA

Dear Lost In Your Livingroom,

First, thank you for picking up the NEWSLETTER. It's a great little paper and I'm happy that you enjoyed it so much. Now lets see what we need to do to get you on the right track! First, are you being too hard on yourself ? You're 55 and by the sound of your letter you come home really beat from your job, fix a quick meal and then on the sofa and lights out till the next morning. Any women that puts in a full week at work is going to have a tough time doing it all! At the age of 55, It's even harder to keep it all together. Even the Queen of clean must take off her white glove every now and then and take a rest ! What bothers me is the tone of your letter. Is this a 10 min. mess? or is this a 10 year mess? The words rut, not happy, 55, mess and alone are all key to what's really going on in your life. When you leave work and walk through your front door into an empty house each night, you have no motivation to do a darn thing. All the motivation and stimulation was left at the work place.

We humans need both motivation and stimulation all the time to function at our highest level and without it you're going to be all of those things you mentioned above. Mother's advice: Take your evening hours and any free weekends and start to get motivated*. Bring a friend into your life, no friends? Go out and make a friend. People stimulate and motivate us and we need them in our lives. Try it, you'll be surprised how nice it can be and how quickly you'll want to clean up that messy house when you ask that friend over for to visit! However, if you're really not a people person, after dealing with them all week at work, take one night a week and start to slowly clean up an area in your home, before you know it, the place will shape up and you'll feel so much better! Do it for you,* because you're worth it ! Hug's, mother

Remember, Mother knows best!

Advertising is essential for our ever changing town of Prescott Valley and the Tri-City area. But at times, can be an expensive cost of doing business. When you can, try and let the merchant you are using know how you heard about their company and / or services. Whether it is from newsletters, newspapers, phone books, website, word of mouth, their literature, vehicle sign or building sign, etc. Money spent wisely on advetising, will help our town and merchants survive and prosper and be there the next time you need their services!

Re: Forming a Beneficial Road Improvement District:

Currently, there is an effort to get signed petitions turned back in to Ted Moxley and then to the County. We need atleast 2/3rds of the property owners here in Poquito Valley to approve.

At the February 19, 2004 road meeting, petitions were passed out. Some of these petitions were signed and handled back in that night. Some people took them home to read over and/or have your spouse read and sign. We have received several petitions turned back in since that night. But what we are asking for, (if you want to be part of this road improvement district), is please return all four petition sheets, including the green sheet, with the required information filled out, and signed by all legal parties involved. Please mail to or stop by: Ted Moxley, at 7220 E. Moolit Dr., Prescott Val Cox 0929 quito Valley Rd).

Backburner Cafe is now open, offering a wide variety of breakfast and lunch items at affordable prices. They are located at the corner of Robert Rd. and Long Mesa Dr. in Prescott Valley. Hours open: Mon - Fri 6 am - 3 pm, Sat 6 am - 2 pm and Sun at 7 am - 2 pm. Their slogan is "Fresh is Best". Phone no. 772-9298. Yah, finally a breakfast place close to our area. Come hungry, they also believe in large portions.

If you were not able to attend this meeting, and want to be part of this road improvement district, please contact Ted Moxley at 928-775-6203 and give him your property(s) legal title name(s), mailing address, parcel number and/or legal description of your property in Poquito Valley, and a petition will be mailed to you shortly. If you haven't returned them as of yet, please do so ASAP. Also, to pick-up the forms, there is now a board posted on Poquito Valley Rd. near Moonlit Dr. If you have sold or bought property in this area, in the past few months, or maybe planning to sell or buy, please keep Ted informed of new information, as legal ownership of property at the time of filing the petitions with the county, is very important to our efforts.

There are many positives with the road being paved, such as: should increase property valves, better paramedics and emergency vehicle access, easier finance for property sales, reduce auto maintenance, better school bus access, on going maintained road, and many others you may think about.

The proposed beneficial road improvement district is for 3 miles, which starts just after the cattle guard, through the mud hole / flood area / wash, whatever you want to call it, (which is a little over a mile in), and ends just past the little hill in the back behind Woodchute Rd. The main road, Poquito Valley Road, will be paved and maintained by the county when through. Keep in mind, it could take as much as 2 years before we will have a paved road, and by then, more of Viewpoint Drive will be done, not all, but more of it. The area by the cattle guard is within the city boundries, we are county. It is not clear, at this time, when this section will be done.

(Note-To the property owners along Poquito Valley Road, please call Ted if you will be deeding over your easement to the county to pave the road. Keep in mind, in most cases, you are not using this section anyway and it has already been allocated as an easement). Make sure you give him your name and parcel number(s).

Once we have the needed petitions turned back in and information we need, we will present them to the county. They will come back to us with their findings and estimates to pave the road. If the costs come back too high, we will have a period of time to stop any further work, but we will have to pay for any engineering, attorney costs, etc., that we have incurred.

We will keep you posted of ongoing results through this newsletter, the Road News box by the church, the new box by Moonlit Dr, or you can call Ted Moxley at 775-6203. Please keep your mailing address current by calling into Ted. Thank you.

If you need more information about what is involved with forming a road improvement district, go to the county's website at: www.co.yavapai.az.us, go to Departments, then Special Districts, then County Road Improvements Districts. If you still need additional information, contact: Bev Staddon, Clerk of the Board / Special Districts Coordinator, Yavapai County Board of Supervisors at 1015 Fair Street, Prescott, AZ, 86305, (928) 771-3209, email, bev.staddon@co.yavapai.az.us. If you do not have a computer, the library has public computers.

Is the Time Near! It is looking good so far, but we need to hear from more property owners, please mail back your Cox 0930

Regarding Mail Boxes:

There is about 3 mail slots left of the new box just installed. Those still wanting a mail slot please call, Ted at 775-6203, or stop by 7220 E. Moonlit Dr. Prescott Valley, AZ, 86314, (off Poquito Valley Rd.). He will need: $82 to pay for your slot, plus your name, home address and phone number.

Donations of $25 per homeowner monthly are still accepted for the Poquito Valley Road escrows acct: Your maintenance payments can be mailed to: Yavapai Title acct # M05001010 P. O. Box 1900 Sierra Vista, AZ 85636. Volunteers: Karen Benson 772-8358 - Linda Pope 759- 3470 - Ted Moxley 775-6203.

ATTENTION POQUITO VALLEY RESIDENTS

Those who are now getting their mail delivered to your mailbox in Poquito Valley, please notify me at 925-6610 or drop a note to PO Box 26227, Prescott Valley, AZ, 86312 of your old address. Help keep the costs down. Thank you.

Also, anyone not receiving a copy of The Lonesome Valley Newsletter can still pick one up at the information board near the Vineyard Church / mailboxes or contact me to add you to the mailing list.

improved properties in our Community was 115 which includes the 29 homes currently under construction.

Considering improvements to your home? Adding a room or porch? Changes like these require Architectural Committee review so send in your application earlier.

The general monthly meeting of the Association is held at 6:30PM on the second Wednesday of each month at the Prescott Valley Civic Center. Items that top our agenda are the road, speeders, past due annual dues and CC&R's compliance. Anyone who has some thoughts on how we can improve is invited to attend our meetings and join our team of committee members who constructively look for solutions.

During the improvements on the road we counted a total of 206 vehicles on Antelope Meadows Road. There were 163 cars and pickups and 43 trucks counted during this eight-hour period. I have received calls on two contractors who were speeding and have been in contact with their main office. There were also five autos and pick ups that went up and down the road several times in one day, all at a high rate a speed. PLEASE SLOW DOWN. None of these speeders were construction people.

Our Architectural Committee needs more members. New starts are increasing and applications need review. SIGN UP TODAY!

Our Community Affairs Director Rachael Hay has been busy working on the two issues of mailboxes and school busses. Rachael needs some help putting plans together so call her at 928-775-2285.

I received telephone calls from several property owners this last month after they read the Presidents 1st quarter report. Thank you for your inputs and suggestions. I look forward with more of you on how we can all improve our community. You can reach me directly at 928-925-5858.

Thank you for you support.

We have received word from our Declarant that rancher Billy Wells will no longer bring is cattle here to graze due to all of the new construction.

Antelope Meadows residents, did you know you can receive a free post office box at the Prescott Valley Post Office, Robert Rd & Hwy. 69 /frontage road? Until the post office delivers mail in your area, in Antelope Meadows, the post office box is free! Call Gary Heinicke at 772-4406 for more information.

Coyote Springs --is a well established rural community that allows horses etc., has CC&Rs and approx. 10 acre minimums and up, individual wells and septics, great surrounding views, main road into Coyote Springs paved, side roads are graded dirt, and telephone service in most areas.

Currently, an injunction is in process to prevent any further expansion by the Prescott Valley Growers onto their adjoining 10 acre parcel. This is the first step in our litigation proceedings.

There are mailboxes still available in front. Contact Prescott Valley Post Office and ask for Gary Heinicke or Donna at 772-4406

Prescott Ridge -- is located on the beautiful, nearby western slope of Mingus Mountain. This community has hilltop and hillside home sites with unsurpassed views of the surrounding mountains and Prescott Valley. Equestrian parcels are available and lot sizes range from 10 to 50 acres. Prescott Ridge offers underground power lines, paved roads and wells on many parcels. This master planned community is gated and has value protecting CC&Rs.

Board Meetings will be posted at the Gate House. Associated Asset Management is responsible for CC&R compliance.

The Homeowners Association is managed by Associated Asset Management, 5643 Granville Parkway, Prescott Valley Arizona 86314 (new address). Mingus --is a planned community with homeowners association and CC&Rs. Average lot sizes are 1/2 acre with all Prescott Valley Town servers, paved streets.

(December, 2003) The Mingus subdivision has developed 119 lots to date with a total buildout of 466 lots when all eight phases are completed. In the first phase we have only 6 lots remaining for sale, and have at this point sold over half of the lots in phase 2. We have just in the last couple of weeks been given the engineering and survey information for the third phase of the development and hope to have the approval and consent to begin construction from the Town of Prescott Valley by the end of Dec. The 3rd phase is a total of 51 residential lots and also includes a portion of our first park site in the subdivision. At this point we are not positive as to when the park will be constructed or even what the final park structure will consist of. It will be owned and maintained by the Town and it is a little to early in the process to even guess as to the final design and time frame. As an approved subdivision in the state of AZ we adhere to the guidelines as to when we offer lots in future phase for sale, and as such, we will be waiting for the State of AZ Dept. of Real Estate Public Report for phase 3 before we begin selling the newest lots. We do have a list for people to contact as soon as lots can be purchased and would welcome potential buyers to pick a lot if they have been waiting for the 3rd phase. As soon as we are able to sell those lots the buyers on that list are the first ones to be contacted and offered the opportunity to purchase.

We have over 60 homes either existing or being constructed in Mingus and anticipate another good year of both sales of lots and new homes in 2004.

Mingus sub-division is located off Highway 89A, east of Yavapai Downs Fair Grounds. For further information, please call: (928) 775-4525 or visit their on site sales office at: 13218 E. Buckshot Road, Prescott Valley, AZ 86314 or e-mail them at: kimhorn@kimhorn.com (temp. em~

To the readers of the LONESOME VALLEY NEWS LETTER. From Central Yavapai Fire District Station 59, YOUR FIRE STATION! We are located at Hwy 89-A and Viewpoint Dr. We respond into the Antelope Meadows, Poquito Valley Ranch, Coyote Springs areas and other areas. We respond to fires and are the closest paramedics to you. In our business, time is precious. Every second could mean more heart muscle dies, or brain cells from seizures to strokes. In a fire it could mean the life of a child or loved one. Please help us find you! There are streets without signs and homes without numbers. While it is true we will find the fires, heart attack and stroke victims put out little to no smoke at all. Remember, in our business time is not on our side, please help us to find you quicker! Please put up street signs at your intersections and address numbers on your houses and gates, your life could depend on it.

From your Fire Fighters at Station 59, Prescott Valley

Regarding putting up street signs at your intersections and address numbers on your houses and gates, I would like to tell you a little story. I recently had the pleasure of helping deliver the new Qwest Dex phone books to residents in the Poquito Valley (PQ) & Antelope Meadows (AM) areas. That was so much fun..... NOT. The reason being is that the roads out in PQ & AM are not paved, they are dusty and rough. Do you know what it is like trying to find a house number or a street with dust flying all over the place? It is not fun, and when driving around, I couldn't believe how many houses did not have numbers on them still, even after the above article from the Fire Fighters, which has ran for a few months now. There's some that have. Some had gold looking ones on their house, which are nice to look at, but they are hard to read from the road. Word to the wise, put your house number up on your gate/fence or a post by the road, as well as one on your house. And check to see if they stand out at night also. And remember street signs too, we came across atleast 5 with no street signs.

I Won't Advertise

By Kristin Jacobsen

"I sell a service that is really special." "My product is better than what anyone else has." "I am going to rely on word-of-mouth to get more customers."

You've probably said something like this about your business! You said it because your business is special. You do something, or sell something that really is better than anyone else.

But to quote a great local advertiser, Sanford Cohen, word-of-mouth relies on someone else's mouth! And they of course will say what they think. You already know that people tend to talk more about negative things than positive. So they're more likely to talk about bad experiences and poor products, and not even mention the very satisfactory experience they had with you!

Yes, you need to advertise. Why? Because you need to tell people about your service, in your words. You have to tell them how to find you, what you can do for them, and why they should choose you.

Prescott Valley was mentioned in three different articles in a recent edition of the Phoenix Business Journal. This area is growing like crazy. Our new developments alone are adding over 12,000 homes, and that doesn't include the homes in and around town in other areas. Eleven new restaurants came into Prescott Valley last year, and nine more are expected this year!

This growth brings both serious competition for you, and lots of potential new customers! The competition is in the same spot you are - there are so many new people in town that don't have existing relationships with plumbers, clothing stores or auto mechanics. Get those customers before someone else does! Advertise!

A couple of advertising hints:

People must see or hear of you regularly before they make a decision. Set an annual advertising budget, and stick with it. Choose your advertising media, and advertise regularly. Don't look for floods of customers to come in from one ad. You have to build up your recognition, and then your company will come to mind when someone is looking for what you offer.

References are great - use customer stories or testimonials to prove your reputation. A brief quote in your ad can do wonders. Make it real, don't fake it or let it sound too formal. We all like to hear what other people think. So tell us what someone else thinks of you!

Information provided by Kristin Jacobsen, Principal of Higher Power Marketing, a local marketing and sales consulting firm. Send comments to Kristin@higherpowermarketing.com.

Advertising is essential for our ever changing town of Prescott Valley and the Tri-City area. But at times, can be an expensive cost of doing business. When you can, try and let the merchant you are using know how you heard about their company and / or services. Whether it is from newsletters, newspapers, phone books, websites, word of mouth, their literature, vehicle sign or building sign, etc. Money spent wisely on advetising, will help our town and merchants survive, prosper and be there the next tim

MOTHER'S MAIL BAG

Dear Mother,

I'm really in a pickle and I need some good advice. I've listened to my family and friends, but I really need the advice of someone that doesn't know me. I'm 60 yrs old and single. I'm also a free spirit (always have been), this is something my family has never understood. I just sold my house in PV and I have an old camper (class C type) kind of small. I also have 3 black Chow dogs that I love very much. This is what I want to do; I want to take my dogs and myself and head up north to the high country and park my camper in the woods and just live in it with my Chows! I know someone that will let me live on the corner of their land, this way I can be alone and have no bills (no more house and all the stuff that goes with it). My family thinks I'm crazy and I think that I should be able to do whatever I want at this age. What do you think!

Always A Free Spirit

Dear Free Spirit,

I must say you're a hardy soul at the age of 60 to want to cut ties with family and friends and head to the high country. First, lets take some things into consideration before you gas up that RV and head for the open road. It's very hard for me to picture a gal whose 60 yrs. old living full time in a small RV with her 3 Chows. Chow dogs aren't small and your RV isn't very big. I think in a matter of a few weeks you're going to have a very big case of cabin fever, or should I say camper fever. Why the big rush to head up to the high country? Have you given any thought to the type of weather conditions you're going to face at 7,000 ft. when winter comes calling at your camper door. Now let's take a look at your health. At the age of 60, you're no spring chicken (as they say). You might be in great health, but as we age things can happen in a heart beat. I've been up to the high country (as you call it) and I don't think they have a real good hospital up there. I do know they fly folks down to Prescott with serious medical conditions. I've tried to give you a little food for thought before you pack and run and that's what it sounds like to me. Mother's Advice: Slow down, sit down and give this whole move a lot of thought. If you're really determined to put your 3 Chows and you in this small camper and leave town, then try it this way for a few months. Find a nice safe local camp ground, pull in and hook up and sit back and watch the world go by. See how you really feel in a few months. See if you even last a few months. What you're trying to do isn't easy and at 7,000 ft., in the dead of winter, near impossible. I'm sure your family is very worried, heck. I'm worried and I don't know you, does that tell you something! So please go slow, think and rethink this whole venture. You said you have friends, but you wanted to hear advice from someone that has no connection to you You're lucky to have friends that really care about your well being, listen to them and listen hard.

Hug's, Mother

Hey movie fans, it's me Cinema Sam and I've got a couple of movies to talk about this month. Lets start with one I have been looking forward to for quite some time. It is, Van Helsing, and is an updated version of the man who chases Dracula around, according to Bram Stoker. Well, this time our hero, (we will call him that) some call him murderer, gets involved with other villains of the day. Van Helsing, played by Hugh Jackman, of Xmen, is actually working for an order of monks who are trying to rid the world of all evil.

He has weapons invented for him, by a friar of the order, who is either ahead of his time or has too much time on his hands. We first see Van Helsing fighting Dr. Jeckyl's worst half, Mr. Hrde, in a bell tower. Hyde is a Computer Generated Image (CGI), and is a cross between the Hulk and Wolverine, and includes the Xmans famous cigar. The fight sequence is great and gets the audience ready for the almost non-stop action of the movie. This is one you should go to the concession stand and rest room before the show or miss some action in this two plus hour adventure.

Van Helsing and his inventing friar travel to Transylvania to try and locate Dracula, (played by the handsome Richard Roxburgh.) Where they find instead, his three beautiful and vicious brides who attack, as our heroes arrive. Many of the action scenes use CGI technology, which is very good but is a bit hard to believe. They are joined by a princess, (Kate Beckinsale,) whose family has been fighting Dracula for 400 years. Dracula is trying to find Dr. Frankenstein's secret for bringing life to his 100's of unborn children. He also has the aid of the cursed Werewolf, who is under his control.

The plot is thin, but the action is great. If you want a highly violent movie, with little actual blood and want to make believe, then Van Helsing, is probably for you. It is rated PG-13 for violence and may scare younger children

On another vein, we have, 13 to 30. This lighthearted comedy finds a young girl who on her thirteenth birthday suddenly becomes thirty years-old and has the life to match the age. The girl now-woman, played by Jennifer Garner, has a very hard time adjusting to the fact she has leaped ahead seventeen years, with no idea how she got there. She has become a top manager of the magazine she adored as a teen. The way she must deal with her current relationships and how she dealt with them in the past, make up this sweet, and somewhat naive story. It is rated PG-13 for adult situations, but there isn't too much to worry about. Have a little fun at the movies.

I would like to quickly mention another film out there that I just loved and that is, Walking Tall. This movie featuring World Wrestling Entertainments star, 'The Rock". It is also an action dynamo, extremely violent, along with offensive language and drug

CAREGIVER TIPS

Seventy percent of people with Alzheimer's disease live in the home, being cared for by family and friends. The Alzheimer's Disease Research Center at the University of San Diego suggests ways we can make the home environment safer. The three tips listed below are from Cynthia Johnson, OTR/L. By using these principles, we can reduce caregiver stress.

1. Think in a prevention mode;
2. Change the environment rather than the behavior; and
3. Minimize danger so that your loved one can have maximized independence.

Following is a list of safety tips for caregivers to implement around the home.

1. Begin on the outside of your home, making sure that the walkways and driveways are evenly surfaced and free from rocks, hoses, shrubs, or other material that can be tripped over.
2. Steps should be even and sturdy with non-skid or textured treads - this will help people who have spatial positioning problems and gait problems from slipping and falling.
3. Handrails should be on all stairs and extend past the first and last steps. Using reflective tape on the edge of the stairs is also helpful in orienting the loved one to know where the edge of the stair is.
4. Remove poisonous plants, as some loved ones with Alzheimer's may decide to eat parts of plants.
5. Fence in the backyard, and put a lock on the gate to prevent wandering into dangerous situations.

Come join us at THE CENTER in Prescott Valley (775-3563) or Prescott (445-6384) where our staff of caring, gentle individuals are trained to communicate on all levels. Or if your needs extend to a residential setting call THE MARGARET T. MORRIS CENTER where Susan Rheem our Executive Director (771-2335) will be happy to meet with you to discuss your family's needs. For a virtual tour of our facilities see our web site at www.adultcareservices.org.

POISONINGS ARE VE[redacted] COMMON.....

occurring in about 2 million people a year, with half of those cases in children under 5 years of age. The Central Yavapai Fire District wants you to know the nationwide poison control phone number.

A Poison Control Center is usually a better resource than your own doctor if you suspect that your child or anyone else has been poisoned. The poison center is quickly available in an emergency situation and has experts with access to specific information on different types of poisons and other substances that may harm people. But remember that if the victim has collapsed or is not breathing, call 9-1-1 instead.

When calling Poison Control, it can be helpful to have the name of the product or medicine that you suspect the victim was exposed to, how they were exposed (did they swallow it, inhale it or just get it on their skin, etc.), how much were they exposed to, and the current symptoms he is having. The victim's age and weight, whether or not he has any medical problems, and a call back number will also be asked for.

When trying to determine how much the victim ingested, it can be helpful to know how big the container is, how much was in it, whether you had used any of it before, how much is left in the container, and if any was spilled.

Although most people think to call Poison Control when a person accidentally ingests another family members medicine, or if they drink a household cleaning product, Poison Control can also be helpful if someone is bitten by a bee, spider or snake, gets something in their eye, such as spray paint or perfume, has food poisoning, sticks a fork in an electrical socket, or if you accidentally give your child too high a dose of an over the counter medication. A poison is usually defined as 'any substance that can cause harmful effects in the body.

The most dangerous poisons include:

•windshield washer fluid

And remember that prevention is the key to avoiding injuries and death from accidental or preventable ingestions. You can prevent poisoning by keeping household cleaners, chemicals and medicines completely out of reach of children, pets and anyone else who needs supervision. Always store them in their original container and know your local Poison Control Center number (1-800-222-1222). Also, buy and use products Cox 0941

NEW The Credit Consultants' Corner

What to do if you become or suspect you are a victim of Credit Identity Theft.

According to the Federal Trade Commission, one in eight adults suffered some type of identity loss in the last five years. In 2002 Identity Theft cost U.S. businesses and consumers about $50 billion! Still, given these facts you shouldn't live in fear of being attacked by identity thieves, if you follow the suggestions given in last months issue the chances are pretty good you will not be a victim.

However, if you become or suspect that you are a victim of Credit Identity Theft here is a MUST DO List:

1) Contact one of the three Credit Bureaus, the first one you contact is required by law to contact the other two, relay your information and have your credit reports sent to you. Be sure to place fraud alerts on your name and social security number with these agencies. This will prevent the opening of new accounts and loans without your express permission.

2) Contact the Credit Card company or bank where your account has been compromised. Often the credit card companies and banks will cover the losses and remove any fraudulent charges from your account if you notify them.

3) File a report with your local police department and keep copies of all documentation. Start a file and keep everything related to the identity theft incidents in one place, and date all documents. You want to create a detailed paper trail of all events, all the people you speak to as well as phone numbers.

4) If you are closing a bank account, stop payments on any outstanding checks and notify the recipients as to why. Doing this will not harm your credit report but bounced checks will.

5) Request a letter from the bank or credit card company stating that a fraud has been committed against you and that you are not responsible for the debt incurred as a result.

6) Check the Identity Theft Resource Center and the Privacy Rights Clearing House for additional tips. To report suspected credit fraud and to place alerts on your credit report, contact the following credit reporting agencies:

Equifax 800-525-6285 or 888-766-0008
Experian 888-397-3742
TransUnion 800-680-7289

Other important resources:

Identity Theft Resource Center: This is the best all around source for general information, specific contacts and victim assistance. Call 858-693-7935 or visit www.idtheftcenter.org

Privacy Rights Clearinghouse Call 619-298-3396 or visit www.privacyrights.org or U.S. Department of Justice: www.usdoj.gov/criminal/fraud/idtheft.html

Opt-Out of Credit Card offers: to get fewer pre-approved credit card offers in the Mail, call 888-5-OPT-OUT and follow the prompts.

Be sure to watch for upcoming local seminars we will be doing on Credit 101 and Credit Identity Theft, and other important issues regarding your credit.

Other features: paved streets with winding sidewalks for free easy living; city water and sewer, and underground utilities, including cable TV; friendly neighbors and dedicated school and park sites; Park Ridge, an exclusive gated community with a water feature.

For more information about The Viewpoint, please call (928) 775-2000 or visit their website: www.viewpointaz.com. The Viewpoint Real Estate Office is located at 7218 E. Horizon Way, Prescott Valley, in The Viewpoint, just north of 89A on Viewpoint Drive.

The Viewpoint East

A reminder to all Viewpoint East homeowners: IT'S WEED SEASON and they're sprouting like, well, WEEDS! Don't forget to bend over and give those guys a yank when you see them messing up your yard. Toss them into the trash where they belong! If you need help getting them under control, call any Board member. The Board will get a volunteer weed posse to help out anytime.

How about a Spanish Club? Do you want to learn Spanish without a full college course? Well, Steve & Angie Parker are looking for a few people to join them on Tuesday evenings 5:00-6:00PM with a certified instructor to learn the language. This is a long term, serious commitment but they hope to have fun with it as well. The cost is $5 per person per week. Call them at 759-2111 if you are interested. Classes begin early June.

Just a reminder: the next quarterly Viewpoint East Homeowners Association meeting will be at 6:30 PM on July 27th, in the Community Room of City Hall. If you're not on vacation, come on down and catch up with the neighbors!

response time, easier financing for property sales, reduce auto maintenance, better school bus access, on going maintained road, and many others you may think of.

The proposed Beneficial Road Improvement District is for 3 miles, starting just after the cattle guard, through the mud hole / flood area / wash, whatever you want to call it, (which is a little over a mile in), and ends just past the little hill in the back behind Woodchute Rd. The main road, Poquito Valley Road, will be paved and maintained by the County when completed. Keep in mind, it could take as long as 2 years before we will have a paved road, and by then, more of Viewpoint Drive will be done. The area by the cattle guard to the base of where the church begins, is within the city boundries, we are county. It is not clear, at this time, when this section will be done.

We will keep you posted of ongoing results of where we are at, through this newsletter, the Road News box by the church, the new box by Moonlit Dr, or you can call Ted Moxley at 775-6203. Please keep your mailing address current by calling into Ted.

If you need more information about what is involved with forming a road improvement district, go to the County's website at: www.co.yavapai.az.us, go to Departments, then Special Districts, then County Road Improvements Districts. If you still need additional information, contact: Bev Staddon, Clerk of the Board / Special Districts Coordinator, Yavapai County Board of Supervisors at 1015 Fair Street, Prescott, AZ, 86305, (928) 771-3209, email, bev.staddon@co.yavapai.az.us. If you do not have a computer, the library has public computers.

Is the Time Near! It is looking good so far, but we need to hear from more property owners. Please mail in your petitions ASAP.

Regarding Mail Boxes:

There are about 1-2 mail slots remaining of the new box just installed. Those still wanting a mail slot please call, Ted at 775-6203, or stop by 7220 E. Moonlit Dr. Prescott Valley, AZ, 86314, (off Poquito Valley Rd.). He will need: $82 to pay for your slot, plus your name, home address and phone number.

Donations of $25 per homeowner monthly are still accepted for the Poquito Valley Road escrows acct: Your maintenance payments can be mailed to:
Yavapai Title acct # M05001010 P. O. Box 1900 Sierra Vista, AZ 85636. Volunteers: Karen Benson 772-8358 - Linda Pope 759- 3470 - Ted Moxley 775-6203.

ATTENTION POQUITO VALLEY RESIDENTS

Those who are now getting their mail delivered to your mailbox in Poquito Valley, please call 928-925-6610 or drop a note to PO Box 26227, Prescott Valley, AZ, 86312 of your old address. Help keep the costs down. Thank you.

Also, anyone not receiving a copy of The Lonesome Valley Newsletter can still pick one up at the information board near the Vineyard Church / mailboxes or contact me to add you to the mailing list.

Thank you Viewpoint for grading more of the road. Cox 0954

CENTRAL YAVAPAI FIRE DISTRICT PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT

For immediate release and as often as possible.

SCAM

The Central Yavapai Fire District would like to warn you about a solicitation you may have received. It is from the Association for Firefighters and Paramedics, Inc. The mailing is very professional looking and it gives a Prescott address on the solicitation. However, this address is just a private mail box service, not a business. No money that is sent to this "organization" goes to any firefighters or paramedics locally or in the state of Arizona. Please remember that many of these types of solicitations are not legitimate. If you are ever in doubt, call your local police or fire agency.

At 10:00, Friday, June 4, the group calling itself Citizens for Prescott Valley Integrity turned in petitions to the Prescott Valley Town Clerk to recall the Prescott Valley Mayor and Vice-Mayor. There were more than 1,100 signatures for each office-holder. The minimum required was 865 for the mayor and 568 for the vice mayor.

The group had until the end of July to turn in the petitions, but chose to turn them in when it had at least a 30% cushion on the required number of signatures. The petitions must now be reviewed by the Prescott Valley Town Clerk, and then carefully checked for accuracy by the Yavapai County Recorder's Office. The entire process takes about 60 days. If the required number of signatures is verified, a special election will be set to elect a new Mayor and Vice-Mayor. Each valid petition signer must live within the Prescott Valley town limits and be registered to vote. For more information, check out th ... pvintegrity.com.

This is the 30th issue of the Lonesome Valley Newsletter-That's three years. Well, in three years, things have changed in Prescott Valley, especially around Harkins and the Prescott Valley Town Center. When Harkins opened on April 13, 2001, all that was there was a multi-colored giant building coming up out of a formerly empty lot. But, that striking building represented a great deal of dreams and promise of good things to come.

Now, in 2004, we have several more, good restaurants or cafes to visit before or after the movies. We have Augie's Place, for a quiet environment to relax and enjoy a great American meal. Garcia's has everything you could ask for when it comes to a great Mexican restaurant. Just looking for a snack or a lighter meal? Try Long Wong's, just across the walkway from Harkins. If you go just across Pav Way Street, you can enjoy nice atmosphere and great Italian cooking over at Johnny Carino's. Also, for the best ice cream in the area, be sure to stop by Baskin-Robbins, relocated from Prescott, the latest opening in The Prescott Valley Town Center.

Food is not the only option. If the kids want to have fun, play games, and maybe some laser tag, Twister's is there for their enjoyment.

The business end of things is also being handled at the Town Center. The Prescott Valley Chamber of Commerce now has its busy office there. Executive Director, Lew Rees, and his crew are always trying to help bring Prescott Valley residents a better way of life. The same building holds the offices of the Fain Signature Group, where Bill and Ron Fain and others are working to bring more businesses to it. Then, there is the new Arizona State Savings and Credit Union, adding another presence to what is already a nice banking hub.

The Town Center also has a great network of businesses surrounding it to me it "the area to come to" in the Tri-City region. Such businesses as Walgreens, Fry's Food and Drug Center, Western Wearhouse, Auto Zone, Pizza Hut, Famous Sam's, China Kitchen, Albertson's-Osco, Zeke's Eatin' Place, and Checker Auto Parts-the list goes on and on.

It is great to see what has happened in three years. I wonder what I will find in another three. Until then, check out Harkins Theaters and the businesses in the Prescott Valley Town Center and surrounding area, "The Heart of Prescott Valley."-CINEMA SAM

Road Improvements Begin on Florentine Road

Prescott Valley, Ariz. - Road improvements along Florentine Road began May 10, 2004. This roadway improvement project spans from Lake Valley Road to just past Windsong Drive.

Part of the improvement project includes underground storm drains, curb and gutter work, and street lights, as well as the re-location of utility lines. The contract work for this project is scheduled to see completion by September 2, 2004 - in preparation for the opening of the new hospital.

- The contractor for this project is Asphalt Paving and Supply.
- The engineer is Dava and Associates.

Please expect some limited night closures on this road in addition to some lane restrictions during the day as the project progresses. Signs and flagmen will be available on these days when restrictions take place. The project will not block access to local businesses and workers will place temporary signs along the roadway to assist citizens with business access. Please call the Public Works Department at 7 Cox 0958 ice.

Hit Them in the Yellow Pages?

Kristin Jacobsen, Higher Power Marketing

"How did you find me?" you ask your new customer. "In the Yellow Pages" they say. And many business-owners conclude that the only place they need to be seen is in the Yellow Pages. (By the way, did you know that the Yellow Pages are printed on white paper? Yup, they print every page yellow!)

OK, there are a lot of ads in the Yellow Pages (whichever phone book you choose). Why did your new client choose you? More than likely, because your name or your look was already familiar. For example, the Kusners needed a plumber. Mrs. Kusner opened up the Yellow Pages and looked under "plumber." She didn't choose the first one listed, AAA Plumbing. She didn't choose Plumbing-R-Us. She did call The Reliable Plumber. Why? Well, the ad looked familiar. The name rang a bell somehow. Mr. Reliable got $75 worth of business!

What really happened? Mrs. Kusner had read her city newspaper and local newsletters when they were delivered. No, of course, she didn't carefully read each and every advertisement. In fact, she may not even have realized there was an ad for a plumber in the newsletter. But, she did read the newsletter carefully, because it contains news about her own neighborhood. She feels pretty good about the newsletter because she knows it talks to her about what's in her own backyard. By extension, she feels pretty good about whatever is in that newsletter, even if she doesn't look at it carefully.

The human mind sees and filters out thousands of items of data every minute. But that data, those images or sounds, still hit the brain somewhere. Mrs. Kusner chose The Reliable Plumber because she had gotten familiar with the name and look by seeing it monthly, and even weekly.

Give it a try. The latest marketing research says adults need to see something 5 to 20 times before they respond to it. (Worse than babies - they only have to try a new food 7 times before they come to like it.) And after adults see something 20 times, they're still not going to buy it until they need it. As I said last time, set a budget for ongoing advertising, and stick to it. It will pay off!

Advertising is essential for our ever changing town of Prescott Valley and the Tri-City area. But at times, can be an expensive cost of doing business. When you can, try and let the merchant you are using know how you heard about their company and / or services. Whether it is from newsletters, newspapers, phone books, websites, word of mouth, their literature, vehicle sign or building sign, etc. Money spent wisely on advetising, will help our town and merchants survive, prosper and be there the next time you need their services!

A woman brought a very limp duck into a veterinary surgeon. As she laid her pet on the table, the vet pulled out his stethoscope and listened to the bird's chest. After a moment or two, the vet shook his head sadly and said, "I'm so sorry, your pet has passed away."

The distressed owner wailed, "Are you sure?

"Yes, I'm sure. The duck is dead," he replied.

"How can you be so sure", she protested. "I mean, you haven't done any testing on him or anything. He might just be in a coma or something."

The vet rolled his eyes, turned around and left the room. He returned a few moments later with a black Labrador Retriever. As the duck's owner looked on in amazement, the dog stood on his hind legs, put his front paws on the examination table and sniffed the duck from top to bottom. He then looked at the vet with sad eyes and shook his head. The vet patted the dog and took it out and returned a few moments later with a beautiful cat. The cat jumped up on the table and also sniffed the bird from its peak to its tail and back again. The cat sat back on its haunches, shook its head, meowed softly, jumped down and strolled out of the room.

The vet looked at the woman and said, "I'm sorry, but as I said, this is most definitely, 100% certifiably, a dead duck." Then the vet turned to his computer terminal, hit a few keys and produced a bill, which he handed to the woman.

The duck's owner, still in shock, took the bill. "$150!" she cried. "$150 just to tell me my duck is dead?!!"

The vet shrugged. "I'm sorry. If you'd taken my word for it, the bill would have been $20. But what with the Lab Report and the Cat Scan, it all adds up."

MOTHER'S MAIL BAG

Dear Mother,

I feel a little silly writing to you for advice, but I have no one else to turn to. So before I begin, thank you for being available. We moved into our new home almost two years ago. One of the first things was to put up a brick wall. We talked with our neighbors about sharing the wall. We shared one side with our neighbor which was just great and much appreciated. The other neighbor said they could not afford to share a wall at the present time but would in the future. We said we certainly understood. Two months after that they had their wall up . They attached their wall to ours. We assumed they would split the cost with us.. Since then nothing has been mentioned. The cost to reimburse us to share the wall would of been $1,000. Am I being unreasonable to expect reimbursement? Again, thank you for your time and advice.

Sincerely, Very disappointed in The Viewpoint

Dear Disappointed,

It's hard for me to understand how you let this problem go unresolved for almost two years. First, I'm very familiar with the Viewpoint. You live in a very nice area so don't be disappointed in the Viewpoint, be disappointed in how you handled a situation that has now become a thorn in your side. The first mistake you made was to put up your wall before your neighbor was ready to split the cost with you. I can understand wanting the wall up for privacy But understanding human nature as I do, once you forked out the entire amount and the wall went up and months went by, did you really expect to receive a check in the mail (when they could afford it) for their half as promised? Second, how would your neighbor know what their half is if you haven't discussed the wall with them in almost two years? They haven't made the move to ask about their share of the expense and you haven't bothered to approach them about the cost. You have no legal ground to stand on except the word of your neighbor and sorry to say, not everyone is true to their word. You should of approached your neighbor one month after the wall went up to discuss when they might be able to pay their share. At that time, you would of found out if they were really sincere in their offer and if so, you could of discussed a timely payment plan. I think you also must take into consideration the possibility that this neighbor might have more debt than they can handle and just don't have the funds. Mother's Advice: You have a few options open to you. Since so much time has passed, I would knock on their door with a plate of cookies in hand with a, Hi! I haven't seen you guys in awhile so I came over to see how you're doing. If your too shy to do that, then wait until you spot your neighbor in the yard and approach the subject of the wall. Explain that you haven't bothered them about their share of the wall as you wanted to be sure to give them plenty of time. Tell them that their share is $1,000 and have with you a copy of the paid bill. I like to think that most folks want to keep their word and perhaps with kindness on your part you can still find a workable solution to this situation. Always remember, if it's not in writing, you don't have much of a chance to collect on a persons word !

Hug's, Mother

MOVIE REVIEW

Ready, here we go:

I hope all you movie lovers out there are ready for the Summer of 2004 movie season, because it is up and running fast. This month I have three films to talk about. Let us start with one of the biggies. It is the much waited for "Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban." This is the third in the beloved Harry Potter series, with the fourth already being filmed. Upon entering their third year at Hogwart's School of Witchcraft and Wizardry, friends Harry, Hermione and Ron find there is great trouble lurking.

It seems that a man who had been held prisoner at Azkaban Prison for the past twelve years has escaped from the supposedly inescapable fortress and is now hunting for Harry. The escapee Sirius Black was responsible for the death of Harry's parents, and now will try to kill Harry, also. The three are on their own because they are not even supposed to know that Black is after Harry. The movie features the same cast of characters from the first two films with the addition of a couple of teachers and an aunt that ends up "going up in the world" which most film-goers will enjoy. It is the usual great Hogwart's fun and adventure for the three friends. The film itself has a different look with a new director at the helm. He emphasizes the surroundings more. Watch for the trees, bats and others details in the background. I think it gives it a better feel for [illegible]rdry.

If there is any flaw in the film I would have to say it is in the pacing. This film is supposed to take place in the entire third year of the school. Except for a couple of small references to time including going home for the holidays and a snowy sequence it seems this all takes place in about a week's time. This is easily overlooked in what is a great movie and I am looking forward to seeing it several times. "Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban," is rated PG and might be a little frightening for the very young. Go enjoy it today!

Now, another film that has had a lot of press is the doom and gloom film, "The Day After Tomorrow." It is set as the world is facing disasters of hurricanes, floods and even earthquakes due to the continued trend of global-warming on earth.

Dennis Quaid is a scientist who is out to save the world from these forces of nature before it is too late. His efforts are not selfless, as his son, played by Jake Gyllenhaal is in New York City just as it is to be destroyed. The special effects in this film are excellent, if not a bit too good , because they overshadow the storyline and you begin to care more about the destruction than the characters. It is still a movie worth seeing, but don't expect Oscar nominations for the writing or acting . The effects, etc, that's another story.

Alright anyone who was not waiting for this next film either has no sense of humor at all or is just

Changing the Culture of Care: Moving from Caregivers to Care Partners

Tom Kitwood, leader of the Bradford Dementia Group in England, pioneered work on person centered dementia care with the goal of improving the quality of life for people with dementia. His vision was to inspire caregivers to see people in their care as unique individuals first, and view the clinical disease process second.

In the old culture, the person with dementia is viewed as mainly needing physical care. In the new culture the emphasis is on the whole person; active steps are taken to meet occupational needs and to maintain general well-being.

Our past practices have focused on "managing" behaviors, care giving, control, and losses. Person centered practice focuses on behavior acceptance and accommodation, care partnering, empowerment, and abilities-based programming. Meaningful occupation replaces the term activities. "Difficult" or "challenging" behaviors are seen as an opportunity for staff to communicate with the person with dementia. We must give up labels and examine exactly how we would want to be treated ourselves. We must also look at "therapeutic fibbing." Is this treachery? Do we have the right to lie to another adult if we truly respect and honor him or her?

Person Centered Care strives to meet the core needs of an individual: love, comfort, attachment, occupation, and inclusion. Eight essential components of Person Centered Care are:

- Maintain and uphold the value of a person regardless of level of dementia.
- Consider attempts to provide the core psychological needs (love, attachment, comfort, inclusion, occupation, and identity) of the person.
- Promote positive health.
- See "problem" behaviors as the desire for communication on the part of the person with dementia.
- See "problem" behaviors as an opportunity for communication on the part of the care partners.
- See all action as meaningful.
- Employ staff who are emotionally available to the person with dementia.
- Contain elements of positive person work.

A change in our culture of care giving is occurring at the Margaret T. Morris Center and The Centers Adult Day Services, where we are involved in implementing this exciting new approach.

Come join us at THE CENTER in Prescott Valley (775-3563) or Prescott (445-6384) where our staff of caring, gentle individuals are trained to communicate on all levels. Or if your needs extend to a residential setting call THE MARGARET T. MORRIS CENTER where Susan Rheem our Executive Director (771-2335) will be happy to meet with you to discuss your family's needs. SUMMER SAFETY

The Central Yavapai Fire District wants you to be fire safe this summer by keeping fire hazards under control wherever you are and whatever you're doing. Whether you're camping, caught in an electrical storm, using a power mower, or just char-broiling a steak in your own backyard, pay attention to fire safety and burn prevention.

· Picnics, hiking, camping, etc., are fun times, and require a few simple safety rules: Always dispose of matches and smoking materials in ash trays, or a safe container; always make sure camp fires and barbecues are completely out. Douse the fire with water, stir and wait for it to cool; Keep combustibles at least ten feet from a campfire; and always take water with you and drink enough to keep your body hydrated.

· Play it safe when using barbecues and grills. "Burn casualties among both cooks and diners are frequent and sometimes serious" according to the National Fire Protection Association. The worst accidents are likely to happen when someone "freshens" an already-started fire with any one of the liquids sold as aids to starting a charcoal fire. The moment one of these liquids hits a live coal, the immediate flame can envelop the arm and face of anyone nearby in a blistering fire. Be safe and follow these rules: Use only liquids made for starting charcoal. Never use gasoline, paint thinner, alcohol or a similar liquid. Never add any kind of flammable liquid to an already-burning fire. Keep the containers holding this liquid far removed from the fire. Keep youngsters at a safe distance. Also, keep in mind that wind can spread fire. Check the weather first!

· Summer is the season when electrical storms - those marked by thunder and lightning - are most likely to occur. Lightning is more deadly than hurricanes or tornadoes and can strike from clouds that seem far off. If you can hear thunder, you are in danger. When outdoors, seek shelter and vacate open spaces such as golf courses, beaches, fields and hilltops. Avoid standing under isolated trees or next to wire fences. Do not hold metal bats, golf clubs, umbrellas, etc. If you are caught outdoors, be the lowest point. Lightning hits the tallest object. If you're swimming when a storm blows up, get out of the water immediately. Phone use is the leading cause of indoor lightning injuries in the United States. Lightning can travel long distances in both phone and electrical wires, particularly in rural areas. Stay away from windows and doors as these can provide the path for a direct strike to enter a home. Avoid contact with corded phones. Avoid contact with electrical equipment or cords. If you plan to unplug any electronic equipment, do so well before the storm arrives. Avoid contact with plumbing. Do not wash your hands, do not take a shower, do not wash dishes, and do not do laundry. Stay away from windows and doors, and stay off porches. Do not lie on concrete floors and do not lean against concrete walls as these may have wire mesh inside.

Remembering simple safety rules can ensure a safe and fun summer. Call the Central Yavapai Fire District, Community Risk Management Division at 759-9933 if you have

NEW The Credit Consultants' Corner

Identity Theft Tops List of Complaints for Fourth Year in a Row

The Federal Trade Commission released their annual report detailing complaints this week, listing the top ten fraud complaint categories reported by consumers this year. For the fourth year in a row, identity theft topped the list, accounting for 42% and up from 40% last year, of the complaints lodged in the FTC's Consumer Sentinel database.

The FTC received more than half a million complaints in 2003, up from 404,000 in 2002, and Internet-related complaints accounted for 55% of all fraud reports, up from 45% in 2003.

Please take some time to look at the FTC web page, there is a lot of useful information there, go to www.ftc.gov . For your information here I have included a copy of the Consumers Bill or Rights, compiled from the FTC web site.

United States Consumers Bill of Rights

1) The right to know what is in your credit file and to receive a written copy of that report for a stated fee and with proper identification.

2) The right to receive a free credit report within 30 days (per the Fair Credit Reporting Act) of being denied credit or employment based on information in the credit report.

3) The right to request reverification in the file and to have it removed if inaccurate or unverifiable information, and to have those results sent to anyone who has received your credit report in the past six months, or two years if for employment, if you so request.

4) The right to know who has received your credit report within the last six months or in the last two years if for employment purposes.

5) The right to add a statement of 100 words or less to your credit file to explain any disputed information.

6) The right to have your credit report only accessible to those entities with a permissible purpose.

7) The right to have adverse information purged after seven years (or the time period set by law) from the date of last activity (including successfully completed Chapter 13 Bankruptcy) or after 10 years (or per your states legislation) from unsuccessful completed Chapter 7,11,12,13 Bankruptcy or any filings or dismissal of any bankruptcies.

8) The right to have your name and address removed from any direct marketing solicitation which uses data from a credit reporting company.

(By calling 1-888-5OPT-OUT it will prevent these marketing companies from pulling your credit reports. The outcome will be less inquiries and less pre-approved junk mail. You can choose to OPT OUT indefinitely or for 2 years at a time. This call only takes 2 minutes!

We are planning a Credit 101 Seminar in Flagstaff on June 10th and in Phoenix on June 17th at 6:30 pm. Please call me for more information on these seminars or if you have any questions or concerns, or need help with your credit rating.

SCAM ALERT!
New Medicare Discount Card Program Attracts Con Artists

With the high cost of medicine, a new government program is supposed to help cut prescription costs for seniors and people with disabilities who have no other drug coverage. The Medicare discount drug program (beginning in June 2004) allows seniors to pick and chose from a number of discount drug cards approved by Medicare.

Seniors, who have Medicare and do not have outpatient prescription drug coverage through Medicaid, can obtain a Medicare-approved drug discount card. The discount cards are only good until December 31, 2005 because Medicare's new prescription drug benefit starts on January 1, 2006.

Con artists are already taking advantage of the program. The Better Business Bureau urges consumers to be wary of scams masquerading as solicitations for the new Medicare discount drug program. According to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS), illegal door-to-door or telephone solicitation scams selling "Medicare-approved" discount drug cards have been reported across the country.

Consumers are advised to be suspicious of any solicitation that asks for their banking, Social Security, Medicare or credit card information.

It is illegal to sell any Medicare product over the phone or door-to-door. Medicare has contracted with private companies and some state pharmacy assistance programs to offer temporary drug discount cards until the Medicare prescription drug benefit begins. Some private companies have already started marketing the cards, which will offer discounts of up to 20 percent on prescription medications.

Per Medicare, "The maximum card fee is $30 per year, but many cards have lower fees or no fee." Drug discount cards that have been approved by Medicare will carry a "Medicare-Approved" seal. You will be able to confirm that the cards are legitimate by checking the government's Web site at http://www.medicare.gov or by calling 1-800-MEDICARE (1-800-633-4227) The CMS fact sheet about Medicare-approved drug discount card scams offers additional information, and is available online at www.cms.hhs.gov/media/press/release asp?Counter=1018.

When considering a drug discount card, it pays to take some extra time to do research first and shop around. Look for the card that will bring the best discount and can be used at local pharmacies you normally shop at. Finally, keep in mind that Medicare and the companies authorized to provide the drug discount card will never contact you by phone nor visit your home. According to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, "Card sponsors will advertise their cards on television, radio, newspapers and direct mail."

And as always, remember to check the Better Business Bureau reliability report on a specific company at arizonabbb.org.

lying. It is one of the most anticipated animated films ever, "Shrek 2." The reuniting of Shrek(voice of Mike Myers), Donkey(Eddie Murphy) and Princess Fiona aka Mrs.Shrek (Cameron Diaz) as they journey to the land of Far Far Away. They have been summoned by Fiona's parents , the King and Queen (John Cleese and Julie Andrews) to celebrate their wedding. To say that Shrek and his Father-in-law the King, do not hit it off is an understatement, as the King sends a hitman to kill him. This is Puss in Boots(Antonio Banderas), a great swordsman (er swordscat), who has the attitude and ability for the job, but suffers from the malady of hairballs.

As you might have guessed it, there are many laughs throughout the film, and of course, Shrek 3 is a definite probability. The film has a great many jokes that refer to past movies, TV shows and personalities in the world. Many, especially the young, will not catch them, but it will not disrupt the fun in the film. That's ok. It will be something you can look for the next time you see it. And, see it again you will.

Well, that about does it this month. I will be here in July to keep you up on the newest films out there. What is a Dust Devil?

Picutre by:John Roenfeldt -Inflow Images

A common wind phenomenon that occurs throughout much of the world, including Arizona, are dust devils . An example of a dust devil can be seen to the left. These dust-filled vortices, created by strong surface heating, are generally smaller and less intense than a tornado. Typical diameters of dust devils range from 10 to 300 feet, with an average height of approximately 500 to 1000 feet. Dust devils typically last only a few minutes before dissipating, however they sometimes for tens of minutes, under optimal conditions. Over the deserts or other locations with very dry soil, dust devils can reach heights of several thousand feet and last on the order of an hour or more. Wind speeds in larger dust devils can reach 60 mph or greater. Even though they are generally smaller than tornadoes, dust devils can still be destructive as they lift dust and other debris into the air. Small structures can be damaged, and even destroyed, if in the path of a strong dust devil.

How do Dust Devils Form?

Dust devils form in areas of strong surface heating, usually at the interface between different surface types, such as asphalt and dirt, or even irrigated fields and dirt roads. Typically, they occur under clear skies and light winds, when the ground can warm the air to temperatures well above the temperatures just above the ground. This is a very unstable condition, since the heated air is less dense and lighter than the cooler air above it. If the temperature of the ground becomes much warmer than the air above it, vertical mixing will take place to release this unstable configuration. Once the

Re: Forming a Beneficial Road Improvement District:

There is still a huge effort to get signed petitions turned in ASAP. If you haven't done so as of yet, PLEASE, PLEASE, turn these back in ASAP. Within the past month, petitions were mailed out to the property owners we haven't heard from as of yet. If you received it in the mail, and are planning to be part of this improvement, please fill them out ASAP. As of 7/10/04, on what has been turned in, we have 75 confirmed yeses (326.97 arces) and only 15 nos (57.47 arces). We figure the total number of property owners is about 200 and total arces is about 960. We are closer, but we still need more of the petition signed and turned back in ASAP. Please help spread the word by talking to your neighbors about this issue or call Ted if you have any questions.

If you want to be part of this road improvement district, please complete & return all four petition sheets, including the green sheet, and have them signed by all legal parties involved. If you do not want to be part of this, then, please return the green sheet only. Mail to Ted Moxley, at 7220 E. Moolit Dr., Prescott Valley, AZ 86314 or to Kathy Noble at P O Box 26227, Prescott Valley, AZ 86312.

If you still need a petition, they are located in the new information box on Poquito Valley Rd., near Moonlit Dr. , or call Ted Moxley at 775-6203. If you have sold or bought property in this area in the past few months, or may be planning to, please keep Ted informed of new information, as legal ownership of property at the time of filing the petitions with the County, is very important to our efforts and give the new homeowners a petition sheet.

There are many advantages to paving the road, such as: should increase property values, emergency response time, easier financing for property sales, reduce auto maintenance, better school bus access, on going maintained road, and many others you may think of.

The proposed Beneficial Road Improvement District is for 3 miles, starting just after the cattle guard, through the mud hole / flood area / wash, whatever you want to call it, (which is a little over a mile in), and ends just past the little hill in the back behind Woodchute Rd. The main road, Poquito Valley Road, will be paved and maintained by the County when completed. Keep in mind, it could take as long as 2 years before we will have a paved road, and by then, more of Viewpoint Drive will be done. The area by the cattle guard to the base of where the church begins, is within the city boundries, we are county. It is not clear, at this time, when this section will be done.

We will keep you posted of ongoing results of where we are at, through this newsletter, the Road News box by the church, the new box by Moonlit Dr, or you can call Ted Moxley at 775-6203. Please keep your mailing address current by calling into Ted.

If you need more information about what is involved with forming a road improvement district, go to the County's website at: www.co.yavapai.az.us, go to Departments, then Special Districts, then County Road Improvements Districts. If you still need additional information, contact: Bev Staddon, Clerk of the Board / Special Districts Coordinator,Yavapai County Board of Supervisors at 1015 Fair Street, Prescott, AZ, 86305, (928) 771-3209, email, bev.staddon@co.yavapai.az.us. If you do not have a computer, the library has public computers.

Is the Time Near! It is looking good so far, but we need to hear from more property owners. Please mail in your signed petitions or (green sheets for nos) ASAP.

Regarding Mail Boxes:

There are about 1-2 mail slots remaining of the new box just installed. Those still wanting a mail slot please call, Ted at 775-6203, or stop by 7220 E. Moonlit Dr. Prescott Valley, AZ, 86314, (off Poquito Valley Rd.). He will need: $82 to pay for your slot, plus your name, home address and phone number.

Donations of $25 per homeowner monthly are still accepted for the Poquito Valley Road escrows acct: Your maintenance payments can be mailed to:
Yavapai Title acct # M05001010 P. O. Box 1900 Sierra Vista, AZ 85636. Volunteers: Karen Benson 772-8358 - Linda Pope 759- 3470 - Ted Moxley 775-6203.

ATTENTION POQUITO VALLEY RESIDENTS

Those who are now getting their mail delivered to your mailbox in Poquito Valley, please call 928-925-6610 or drop a note to PO Box 26227, Prescott Valley, AZ, 86312 of your old address. Help keep the costs down. Thank you.

Also, anyone not receiving a copy of the Lonesome Valley Newsletter can still pick one up at the information board near the Vineyard Church / mailboxes, petition board on Poquito Valley Rd near Moonlit or contact me to be add to the mailing list at 925-6610

Coyote Springs --is a well established rural community that allows horses etc., has CC&Rs and approx. 10 acre minimums and up, individual wells and septics, great surrounding views, main road into Coyote Springs paved, side roads are dirt, and telephone service in most areas.

Currently, an injunction is in process to prevent any further expansion by the Prescott Valley Growers onto their adjoining 10 acre parcel. This is the first step in our litigation proceedings.

A Note From The Other Side Of The Fence

Submitted by Wendy Dittbrenner:

I appreciate the open forum LV Newsletter has granted for updates on 'the injunction in process' or 'litigation proceedings' against my neighbors. From the other side of the fence, I think its time to stand up and beheard.

I am the only resident to share 1200 feet of fenceline with this tree growing operation. I am well aware of their daily operations, and have absolutely no problems with it. Any first time visitor to my property invariably turns to view my neighbors and replies "Oh..this is so beautiful"... they are never looking at my house or yard, they are looking at my neighbors! I've even been told by an appraiser that my property is better off being next to this operation, so whats is wrong with the picture? Is it water consumption?

My neighbors have spent hours with me answering my questions about water use etc.... This seems to be the common concern, and shouldn't be. I'm surprised that we aren't up in arms over the Town of Prescott Valley's wells being drilled out here. This, my friends, should be a much deeper concern! (Like 1000 feet deeper)

We in Coyote Springs are an interesting crowd. We all want to see property values increase and enjoy our life, however, a unique feature of Coyote Springs is that we are an enterprising bunch of folks! The trees growing next to me are done so beautifully, they really get noticed However, any movement to sto affect so many of us here that aren't so visable. How many of us in C.S. subdivision raise horses, alpacas, llamas, birds, dogs, hay, farmer's market goods, goats and eggs to sell in town. There are roping operations and people who fix cars. There is even a church with asphalt parking lot and street lights. We bought land 'out in the county' to pursue our endeavors. We bought land where we didnt have a home-owners association. We knew what we were doing.

As my neighbors silently fight this neighborhood bully, I say it's time to take a stand. It could easily be me they pursue next, and then you.

Travel Insurance - Is it Necessary?

Summer is here and our thoughts turn to vacations and travel. Before you finalize vacation plans, be sure you have given careful consideration to whether you need to purchase travel insurance. There are circumstances that could cause you to cancel your trip, return home early, or force you to seek emergency medical treatment while traveling. Travel insurance may provide the extra protection you need.

Before you purchase coverage, check your homeowner's or medical insurance policies to avoid any overlapping. For instance, expensive items such as your camcorder, laptop computer or jewelry may be covered by your homeowner's insurance if they are stolen while you are traveling. If the airline loses your checked luggage, they are required to reimburse you for your bags (up to a certain dollar amount). Or, if you become sick or injured while traveling, your personal medical insurance may pick up the cost of your medical bills.

According to Consumer Reports, some types of protection are generally (but not always) included in a travel insurance policy. Be sure to read the fine print, since it specifically outlines what your travel insurance covers. Policies and insurance firms differ in what they cover, so be sure to ask.

Some of the different types of insurance available include:

· Trip Cancellation/Interruption (TCI) - If your plans suddenly change and you have to cancel or end your trip early, TCI will cover you for this. But, it will only reimburse you for reasons on the insurer's acceptable list, such as, injury, sickness or death of yourself, a family member, a traveling companion or business partner. Some policies will cover only medical reasons and some will not cover pre-existing medical conditions. It is very important to read the fine print.

· Emergency Medical Evacuation - If you are going on an adventure vacation or to an area that is far from modern medical facilities, it may be a good idea to buy this coverage. If adequate treatment is not available at a local hospital, you would be transferred to the nearest adequate medical faculty.

· Baggage Loss - This coverage reimburses you for lost, stolen or damaged bags. Before packing, be sure to make a list of everything; if your bag is lost, you may be reimbursed for some contents, but not all.

The BBB, along with Consumer Reports, advise the following:

PRESS RELEASE, June 23, 2004, Steve Parker, Bradshaw Mountain Kiwanis Club, 445-4616
Kiwanis Club of Bradshaw Mountain Sets New Record. At the regular meeting of the Bradshaw Mountain Kiwanis Club held June 17, President Kathy McLaughlin was presented a check for $20,000 representing money raised for the club during the Spring Kiwanis Auction. The amount was approximately $3000 more than any other year in the history of the club. President McLaughlin commended the club members for their efforts and also gave special thanks to all of the businesses in the Prescott Valley, Dewey/Humboldt area who generously donated items for the auction. "Without the support of these fine individuals and businesses, we could not fund these youth programs", McLaughlin stated.

The Kiwanis Club will use the funds to support youth activities and provide scholarships to high school students in the area. If there are youth organizations in the area that are in need of support, they are invited to come to the Kiwanis meeting and speak to the club about the organization and the needs for funds. The Kiwanis Club of Bradshaw Mountain meets every Thursday morning at 7 am at the Hungry Bear Restaurant at Young's Farm in Dewey.

Sales Tips - Find People Who Like You!

If you own or run a business, you're a sales person. When you believe in what you're offering, doing sales work is a bit easier. But it's still a tough job. Here are some tips.

Before you even start with the first one, set up some method for keeping track of your contacts. Whether you're computer savvy and use a database or contact management system, or you prefer files and folders of paper, you must organize and track your contacts.

Now, read the local news. The best source of information about potential customers, the people and businesses in your community, is in local newsletters, newspapers, trade association publications, and the like. Make a note of people and organizations that might be interested in what you offer. Who's moving up, what's changing on the business scene, and where does your product or service fit in? One of my clients builds her mailing list by reading all the local advertisements.

Next, get involved. Find ways to get out and meet people who will probably like you. How do you know who will like you? If you get involved in something you're interested in, you're going to find like-minded people! Do something good, and if you're honestly proud of your product or service, you will naturally talk about it.

Remember, you're collecting contact information in your database!

Finally, make contact. If you've met people in person, call later on. Simply say "Hi, this is Joe Smith. We met at the church potluck. If you ever need help with a real estate sale, I've specialized in rural properties and know all the zoning laws. Please give me a call." Think of a simple (and I mean SHORT and SIMPLE) introductory phrase like that, and use it. Don't try to cover it all. I've found that many people are worried about leaving anything out. So they end up sounding very bland, or boringly detailed. Just make ONE strong point and you will be remembered!

If you haven't met, send a personal letter (handwritten address!), or visit their business.

When it starts working, don't stop! A business owner's or salesperson's worst mistake can be to stop making those contacts and calls when business gets busy. In the last couple of articles, I suggested you set a budget for advertising, and stick to it. Advertise regularly, forever. Now, start making those calls. Regularly. Forever.

Kristin Jacobsen at Higher Power Marketing is a specialist in marketing and sales. Reach her at Kristin@HigherPowerMarketing.com or 775-9575.

Advertising is essential for our ever changing town of Prescott Valley and the Tri-City area. But at times, can be an expensive cost of doing business. When you can, try and let the merchant you are using know how you heard about their company and / or services. Whether it is from newsletters, newspapers, phone books, websites, word of mouth, their literature, vehicle sign or building sign, etc. Money spent wisely on advetising, will help our town and merchants survive, prosper and be there the [illegible] services!

Old Dominion University Sets New Record For Fall 04 Admissions

Fall 2004 will host the largest number of admissions ever on the Yavapai Prescott and Verde Valley campuses according to Steve Parker, Old Dominion Site Director. Admissions have increased our student count by over 100% in the last four months. "If that tradition continues I expect 550 registrations for the coming school year. We are really excited," said Parker Steve stated that much of the increase is due to the strong support from the Yavapai College advising staff and faculty who have become aware of the quality programs available at Old Dominion.

The strongest programs at Old Dominion are Human Services, Criminal Justice and Nursing however Business is still a popular major. Old Dominion currently offers 23 bachelors, seven masters and a PhD from classrooms located on Yavapai College campus. Old Dominion is a great bargain with affordable tuition, on site advisement, year-round classes and schedules for the busy student and working professional

Tips to Prevent Computer Damage

A recent email I received from Commspeed, an internet connection company in our area, that I thought would benefit us all with the monsooms going.

Dear CommSpeed Subscriber:

Here in Arizona, the monsoons often bring electrical storms. We have seen hundreds of computers damaged by local storms during past monsoon seasons.

There are two very important actions you should follow to help prevent damage to your precious equipment: 1) Unplug during storms, and 2) Get an appropriate surge protector.

Unplug during storms - When you see a big storm coming, if possible, turn off your computer and unplug it from the electrical outlet. In addition, unplug any connections to your CommSpeed wireless modem and antenna. If you have a dialup connection, unplug your phone line from the modem. If electrical storms are forecasted for the day and work or other obligations require you to be away from home, we recommend that you take these precautions before you leave. This routine is the only guaranteed method of complete protection from electrical storms and it's FREE!

Get an appropriate surge protector - A surge protector should prevent a power surge or spike of electrical energy, but you should not mistake a power strip for a surge protector - they are not the same thing. If you paid less than $30 for your power strip or surge protector, it's probably not going to provide adequate protection. We recommend the protector have an energy rating of at least 2,000 Joules.

Sources for surge protectors - You can buy a surge protector at the following local stores or from CommSpeed.

- CommSpeed, 7411 E Addis Ave., Prescott Valley 772-1111
- A-1 Computers, 391 Butterfield Rd., Chino Valley 636-6141
- The Computer Guy, Cottonwood 301-4984

Please reply to this email if you have any questions. Let's hope we get LOTS of rain!

SATURDAY NIGHT SINGLES DANCES, "What is there to do on a Saturday night?" "Where can I go to meet other singles?" When Dennis Kayer, who recently became a member of the "single's society", asked those questions, he found that there was no regular event to attend. As a result, the "Prescott Singles Scene" was born. The first weekly dance is scheduled for Saturday, July 17th from 7:00pm until midnight. It will be held at the Prescottonian located at 1317 East Gurley, Prescott. A local DJ will provide 50's thru 80's music. Admission is $4.00 and attire is nice casual. For further information, log on to their website at www.PrescottSinglesScene.com or call (928) 541-9800.

Spanish Class

Have you always wanted to learn Spanish but never had the time for a class? A small group of "fun-loving" folks have formed a class/group/ club with a certified Spanish instructor. We meet Tuesday afternoon from 5:30-6:30 at a home in the Viewpoint. We are looking for a few more people who are serious about learning the language yet want to do it slowly and with some fun involved. The charge is $5 per class per person. There's a bit of homework, but it won't kill you. We need more people so we can enjoy conversation in Spanish, some great Mexican food, and a great time. Please join us. ...VALLEY LIGHTS OH SO BRIGHT...

Last year over 80,000 folks witnessed one of the top lighting attractions in the state..."VALLEY OF LIGHTS", right here in Prescott Valley, Arizona. This year, again will be spectacular. We are working on designing 7 more displays to add to the already fabulous array of lighted attractions. SOON the Chamber will contact last year's sponsors to see if they want to sponsor again. If, per chance, they decide not to sponsor, then all bets are off and the displays will be open to "first come first serve", including the 7 new displays. "VALLEY OF LIGHTS" is a great sponsorship opportunity. To have your name associated with one of the most popular and successful attractions in the State of Arizona, it's great. So, when opportunity knocks, answer it with YES, I'm a "VALLEY OF LIGHTS" Lover! "VALLEY OF LIGHTS" is a Prescott Valley Chamber of Commerce Production...Aren't you glad to be a member?

Relay For Life!

Surrounded by glowing luminarias and cheering fans, teams of walkers will take turns walking the track in the American Cancer Society Relay For Life. The Relay for Life will run from 6:00 pm through 9:00 am, Aug. 27 and 28 at Bradshaw Mountain High school. It's part of one of the largest fund-raisers in the US, all for the cause of fighting cancer.

Cancer survivors might be on the teams, or just come out to enjoy the support of those participating in the event. Relatives and friends of cancer patients, and anyone else who knows how important it is to fight cancer can join together to walk the overnight relay. With a team of 15, each person only walks for one hour.

Walking is just a part of the fun. Each team can set up a 'campsite' with their own theme and décor, everyone can play all kinds of games, and snacks are shared by sponsors and participating teams.

Being a part of Relay For Life means 'I'm a part of a national grassroots movement to fight cancer.' Being a Relay For Life volunteer means, 'I'm making life better for cancer survivors, patients and their families.'

Individuals, families, organizations, schools, religious groups, corporations and small businesses can now build teams and join our fight to reduce the burden of cancer across America. To sign up to participate or for more information on Relay For Life, contact Kristina Allen, at (928) 526-3800.

The American Cancer Society is dedicated to eliminating cancer as a major health problem by saving lives, diminishing suffering and preventing cancer through research, education, advocacy and service. Founded in 1913 and with national headquarters in Atlanta, the Society has 14 regional Divisions and local offices in 3,400 communities, involving millions of volunteers across the United States. For more information anytime, call toll free 1-800-ACS-2345 or visit www.cancer.org.

New Frontiers will donate 5% of our sales the third Wednesday of each month to a local nonprofit organization. We are grateful for the continuing support given to New Frontiers, and we feel it is important that we give back to the community by sharing the fruits of our labors.

On July 21st, 2004, 5% of proceeds will go to supporting New Horizons Independent Living Center. This non-profit organization is dedicated to helping persons with disabilities live independent, full and productive lives by providing information and referral services, transportation, support groups, benefits planning, social events, classes, and education as well as other supportive services.

If you are a charity or know of a charity deserving recognition, please come in and fill out a 5% Wednesday Application.

After living in the remote wilderness of Kentucky all his life, an old hillbilly decided it was time to visit the big city. In one of the stores, he picks up a mirror and looks in it. Not knowing what it was, he remarked, "How about that! Here's a picture of my daddy."

He bought the 'picture,' but on the way home he remembered his wife, Lizzy, didn't like his father. So he hung it in the barn, and every morning before leaving for the fields, he would go there and look at it. Lizzy began to get suspicious of these many trips to the barn.

One day after her husband left, she searched the barn and found the mirror. As she looked into the glass, she fumed, "So that's the ugly fluzzy he's runnin' around with."

Up

You probably never thought about this word. Ever stop to think about UP? UP is a two-letter word that perhaps has more meaning than any other two-letter word.

It's easy to understand UP, meaning toward the sky or at the top of the list, but when we waken in the morning, why do we wake UP?

At a meeting, why does a topic come UP? Why do we speak UP and why are the officers UP for election and why is it UP to the secretary to write UP a report?

We call UP our friends And we use it to brighten UP a room, polish UP the silver, we warm UP the leftovers and clean UP the kitchen. We lock UP the house and some guys fix UP the old car.

At other times the little word has real special meaning. People stir UP trouble, line UP for tickets, work UP an appetite, and think UP excuses

To be dressed is one thing but to be dressed UP is special.

And this UP is confusing:

A drain must be opened UP because it is stopped UP.

We open UP a store in the morning but we close it UP at night.

We seem to be pretty mixed UP about UP!

To be knowledgeable of the proper uses of UP, look UP the word in the dictionary In a desk size dictionary, takes UP almost 1/4th the page and definitions add UP to about thirty.

If you are UP to it, you might try building UP a list of the many ways UP is used. It will take UP a lot of your time, but if you don't give UP, you may wind UP with a hundred or more.

When it threatens to rain, we say it is clouding UP. When the sun comes out we say it is clearing UP.

When it rains, it wets UP the earth. When it doesn't rain for a while, things dry UP

One could go on and on, but I'll wrap it UP, for now my time is UP, so I'll shut UP.

MOTHER'S MAIL BAG

Dear Mother,

I've been keeping on top of your column ever since it started. I really look forward to it every month. I have a terrible problem and I just don't know how to handle it. After reading the great advice you gave "disappointed", I said to myself, "I just have to see if you can help me in some way." My husband and I are in what you would call "our golden years." We sold a large home and moved into a much smaller home in a small but very nice development. We both agreed on the size of the home and lot that it sits on. We've been in the home for over 6 months now and it's making him crazy. He wants to sell it and buy a big place again. I think he's lost his marbles. When we had the larger home and more land we just couldn't keep up with all the work (inside and out). He's not in the best of health and I'm the one who takes care of just about everything. We've always gotten along pretty well throughout the years but this problem is making my marriage very unhappy. He wants to sell and I don't want to and now it seems that we're always picking on each other. I'm too old to feel this unhappy so please help me work this out.

The Golden Years aren't So Golden

Dear Golden Years,

You and Your husband have just gone through a very big lifestyle change. You've gone from a much larger home and a lot more land to a very small place in a development. Most folks don't realize what an impact a move like this will have on their lives. Everything seems really good when folks are busy selling the old place and getting organized for the move to their new home. It's change, excitement, something new to look forward to. The mind is very occupied and the soul seems at ease. However, when the dust has settled and you seem right on target, 6 months to a year, reality begins to set in. You've had time to get your life back on track, settle into your new neighborhood, meet the folks, and really spend time in the environment you thought you would be happy in. You didn't mention how long you both lived in the larger home with more land If you lived there for any real length of time, then this move at your ages will be even more unsettling.

MOTHER'S ADVICE: You do have a few open doors. First, put your arms around your honey and tell him to stop stressing, you're going to work this out together. That will ease the tension he's feeling and give you both time to sit and really talk without picking at each other. Keep a very open mind and really listen to each other. You've been together many years and you've gotten through many ups and downs and you'll work through this too. Secondly, and this is very important, give yourself more time to settle in. I know, your husband thinks he's miserable and I'm sure as you stated, he is, but don't do anything fast or you'll both be in a pickle. You haven't been in your home long enough to build any equity. If you list it now, the realtor will take a chunk and in the end you'll be going backwards. Don't forget you'll still have to pay for another move plus you always have other hidden expenses. Agree to give yourselves more time. He may find out that where he's at is just the ticket, if he keeps an open mind. At your age and the health of your husband, taking on another move and going back to a big house seems to me not a very wise thing to do. You also have anot'

MOVIE REVIEW

Another month has gone by and there are plenty of movies out there to watch. The first movie I need to talk about has gotten the majority of the press this summer. This is "Spiderman 2," the much-anticipated sequel to, "Spiderman." Most times even though people are anxious for the sequel(s) they are disappointed when they see them. As was the case with the latter two,"Matrix " movies or several in the "Star Trek," series and almost all of the extra slasher films are thin attempts to make money off the original. There are exceptions, yes especially in the last few years with the "Harry Potter" and the "Lord of the Rings" films. "Spiderman 2," is one of those movies. It continues the tale of Peter Parker/Spiderman (Tobey Maguire) and his ladylove, Mary Jane Watson, (Kirstin Dunst) as he leads his double life as the savior of New York all unknown to his friends and family.

Peter is upset that due to his crime fighting his personal life is suffering. His schoolwork is behind and he has so neglected Mary Jane, that she has found another man and is engaged to be married. Not only that but a new bad guy has arrived to give Spiderman a hard time. Dr. Octopus (Alfred Molina) tried to help mankind but when his experiment went wrong he did too and tried to destroy everything in his way including our hero and his most beloved Aunt May. The fights between the Doc and Spidey may be mostly Computer Generated Images (CGI) but they make for great action and don't interfere with the movie as they do in some films.

Peter becomes very depressed and abandons his Spiderman person in hopes of living a "normal," life. He finds that for him there may not be a normal life but life without being a superhero isn't for him. After a pep talk from Aunt May (Do you think she may know?) he regains his costume and goes after Doc Ock.

It was a great movie and kept the audience held in attention for over two hours and many were cheering at the end. Are we ready for "Spiderman 3?" I am, bring it on!

Now, the summertime is not for just blockbuster movies. A few movies are made just so we can laugh out loud and have a good time, to get away from the normalcy of life. "Dodgeball: A True Underdog story," is just one of those pictures. Vince Vaughn plays a totally kick-back owner of a dumpy little gym that is frequented and run by a bizarre group of guys who have little place else to go. Ben Stiller plays the owner of a nationally known conglomerate of health clubs. He wants to destroy the gym and put up a parking lot. Somehow the only way to save the day is to win the national Dodgeball championships. There is a lot of fun and some crude humor along the way, but I laughed out loud in many spots. It is rated PG-13 but could have been given an R and some parents might want to keep the kids at home. Vaughn proves again why a movie with him in it makes money at the box office. Stiller plays the greedy neurotic health club owner to a tee. He is great to hate. You might want to stay after the credits to watch him. I thought it was funny and hope you do, too.

Both films are currently playing at Harkins Prescott Valley 14 Theatres at 7202 Pav Way in Prescott Valley. For show times call 775-7444 or check them out on the net at www.harkinstheatres.com. As always, when you stop in, tell them I sent you.

Nancy Reagan and Caring for Your Loved One

The passing of former President Ronald Reagan brings attention again to the affects of Alzheimer's disease on families. The challenges Nancy Reagan faced in caring for her husband are similar to those being faced by many of us today.

Not everyone is as fortunate as the Reagans to have the financial resources and additional help needed to care for their loved ones at home, 24 hours a day, every day of the year. Nor is it always the best option.

Experts agree, adult day services are an excellent way to ensure that those with Alzheimer's disease receive the specialized care they need.

Day services also allow caregivers a break from the stress of round-the-clock caregiving and time to take care of their own health.

Some people feel they should do it all. Nancy Regan knew better and got the help she needed for her husband and herself. You can find that help at adult day centers and specialized full-time residential settings.

Modern adult day centers offer a range of services tailored to each individual's abilities and needs, including:

- interesting activities and excursions
- friendship
- health monitoring, and
- specialized meals.

Participants can "drop in" a few days each month, or attend more regularly. Financial assistance may be available.

Fortunately, there is one organization that provides these special services here in Yavapai County. The Centers Adult Day Services in Prescott and Prescott Valley offer a range of affordable day services in a safe, nurturing environment. At the Margaret T. Morris Center in Prescott, adults with advanced memory loss receive the full-time care they need in a beautiful neighborhood setting.

Caregiving is a labor of love. Not everyone is able to have the full-time in-home care that Ronald Reagan received, but equally fine care can be found right here in our own community.

We invite you to come in for a tour to see how our programs can fit your needs. Please call Betty at The Center in Prescott Valley (775-3563), or call Joan at The Center in Prescott (445-6348). We're here to help.

News Release, Fain Park Bridge Closed

Prescott Valley, Ariz. - The Prescott Valley Parks and Recreation Department has closed the bridge, and shut off the waterfalls, at Fain Park. These actions are necessary because of Fain Lake's low water levels.

The pump for the waterfalls is nearly out of water so to prevent the motor from breaking, Parks and Recreation staff turned this device off until further notice.

The bridge at Fain Park is designed to float, but because of the low water levels, the pontoons are completely out of the water, causing an unsafe condition as well as creating the potential for damage to the bridge.

The Parks and Recreation Department asks that all patrons refrain from walking on any part of the bridge. Also, patrons are encouraged to stay on designated trails at all times. For more information about Fain Park, please call the Parks and Recreation D

SIGNS AND SYMPTOMS OF STROKE

The Central Yavapai Fire District wants you to be aware of the signs and symptoms of stroke. Prompt treatment can make all the difference in long term quality of life. Stroke is the third leading cause of death in the United States and a leading cause of serious, long-term disability in adults. About 600,000 new strokes are reported in the U.S. each year. The good news is that treatments are available that can greatly reduce the damage caused by a stroke. However, you need to recognize the symptoms of a stroke and get to a hospital quickly. Getting treatment within 60 minutes can prevent disability. A stroke, sometimes called a "brain attack," occurs when blood flow to the brain is interrupted. When a stroke occurs, brain cells in the immediate area begin to die because they stop getting the oxygen and nutrients they need to function.

There are two major kinds of stroke. The first, called an ischemic stroke, is caused by a blood clot that blocks or plugs a blood vessel or artery in the brain. About 80 percent of all strokes are ischemic. The second, known as a hemorrhagic stroke, is caused by a blood vessel in the brain that breaks and bleeds into the brain. About 20 percent of strokes are hemorrhagic. Although stroke is a disease of the brain, it can affect the entire body. The effects of a stroke range from mild to severe and can include paralysis, problems with thinking, problems with speaking, and emotional problems. Patients may also experience pain or numbness after a stroke. Because stroke injures the brain, you may not realize that you are having a stroke. To a bystander, someone having a stroke may just look unaware or confused. Stroke victims have the best chance if someone around them recognizes the symptoms and acts quickly.

The symptoms of stroke are distinct because they happen quickly:

· Sudden numbness or weakness of the face, arm, or leg (especially on one side of the body)

· Sudden confusion, trouble speaking or understanding speech

· Sudden trouble seeing in one or both eyes

· Sudden trouble walking, dizziness, loss of balance or coordination

· Sudden severe headache with no known cause

If you believe someone is having a stroke - if he or she suddenly loses the ability to speak, or move an arm or leg on one side, or experiences facial paralysis on one side - call 9-1-1 immediately. Stroke is a medical emergency. Every minute counts when someone is having a stroke. The longer blood flow is cut off to the brain, the greater the damage. Immediate treatment can save people's lives and enhance their chances for successful recovery.

Ischemic strokes, the most common type of strokes, can be treated with a drug called t-PA, that dissolves blood clots obstructing blood flow to the brain. The window of opportunity to start treating stroke patients is three hours, but to be evaluated and receive treatment, patients need to get to the hospital within 60 minutes. A five-year study by the National Institute of Neurological Disorders and Stroke (NINDS) found that some stroke patients who received t-PA within three

The Credit Consultants' Corner

FTC Issues Final Rule on Free Annual Credit Reports

The Federal Trade Commission has issued its final rule on the annual report provision included in the Fair and Accurate Consumer Transactions Act of 2003 (FACTA). The most important provision of FACTA requires the Credit Reporting Agencies (CRA's) to provide to consumers, upon request, a free copy of their credit report every 12 months.

Under the final rule, CRA's must establish a "centralized source" for accepting consumer requests for the free reports. The FTC rule mandates that the centralized source include a dedicated internet Web site, a toll-free telephone number and a postal address. The centralized source must have adequate capacity to accept these requests, and the agencies must collect only as much personal information as necessary to process the requests.

The final rule also limits the use and disclosure of personally identifiable information collected by this centralized source. It provides that this information collected as a result of a request for a free credit report can only be used to process the consumers request, to update the CRA's consumer reporting databases, to process transactions the consumer requested at the same time as the request for the free credit report, and to comply with the applicable law.

The final rule also provides for a gradual roll-out of the centralized source. The centralized source will become available in cumulative stages, over a period of 9 months, rolling-out from west to east beginning December 1, 2004 and ending September 1, 2005.

Sadly, most Americans will not review their credit reports unless and until they encounter a problem obtaining credit or belatedly discover someone else is using their good credit. It doesn't seem to make any difference whether the credit reports are free or not! This lackadaisical approach could be very expensive for a number of reasons we have discussed in the last few issues. I am hearing that there is going to be a considerable amount of advertising and publicity concerning the availability of these free annual credit reports, and everyone who has seen a credit report knows how the CRA's are making them so easy to read and understand. As a result of this there is going to be a real need for credit report reviewers to help us all understand just exactly what the report really says.

If you would like to attend one of our Credit 101 seminars or need help understanding your credit report, or need help with your credit rating, please contact me.

SIGNS AND SYSPTOMS OF STROKE from page 17)

hours of the start of stroke symptoms were at least 30 percent more likely to recover with little or no disability after three months.

The best treatment for stroke is prevention. There are several risk factors that increase your chances of having a stroke:

- High blood pressure
- Heart disease
- Smoking
- Diabetes
- High cholesterol

If you smoke - find a way to quit. If you have high blood pressure, heart disease, diabetes, or high cholesterol, getting them under control - and keeping them under control - will greatly reduce your chances of having a stroke.

The Central Yavapai Fire District is concerned about your health and safety. If you have questions please contact us at 759-9933.

Travel Insurance - Is it Necessary? (from page 10)

· Baggage-loss protection is only necessary if you are carrying more than $2,500 worth of items in your bags. Be sure to check your homeowner's policy.

And, remember, check travel company and insurance company reports with the BBB.

Members of The Better Business Bureau of Central/Northern Arizona include 6,000+ local businesses that have a strong belief in self-regulated ethical behavior and customer service. As a non-profit organization, your local BBB provides information reports on more than 32,000 member and non-member businesses and charities throughout its service area. Additionally, the BBB provides information to help consumers to make smarter buying and giving decisions, learn about scams and how to avoid expensive mistakes, and a complaint process to help purchase problems become resolved. For more information, or a report on a specific company or charity, please call 602-264-1721 or visit www.arizonabbb.org. In Yavapai County, call 928-772-3410 or toll-free at 877-291-6222.

time he's still really unhappy, and if your retirement funds allow, sell when the time is right with the agreement that if you move to a larger place you have plenty of hired help with the yard and home. If funds don't allow for this, then I say bite the bullet and stay put. As you said, you're both in your Golden Years and as we age, our health is a main concern. You now do most of the major work around the home and if your health begins to slip your honey will have a bigger problem to deal with than the size of the house and yard..

ground heats up enough, a localized pocket of air will quickly rise through the cooler air above it. The sudden uprush of hot air causes air to speed horizontally inward to the bottom of the newly-forming vortex. This rapidly rising pocket of air may begin to rotate, and if it continues to be stretched in the vertical direction, will increase in rotation speed. This increase in rotation speed from vertical stretching is similar to the increased spinning of an ice skater as they bring their arms in toward their bodies. Meteorologists call this principle "conservation of angular momentum". As more hot air rushes in toward the developing vortex to replace the air that is rising, this spinning effect is intensified. As the air rises, it cools and eventually will descend back through the center of the vortex. Under optimal conditions, a balance between the hot air rising along the outer wall of the vortex and the cooler air sinking in the vortex occurs. The dust devil then begins to move across the ground, picking up more and more dust, which highlights the vortex making it visible to the eye. The dust devil, once formed, is a funnel -like chimney through which hot air moves both upward and circularly. If a steady supply of warm unstable air is available for the dust devil, it will continue to move across the ground. However, once the warm unstable air is depleted or the balance is broken in some other way, the dust devil will break down and dissipate.

Residents Urged to Take West Nile Virus Precautions

Prescott, AZ -- Although there have been no reported human cases of West Nile Virus in Yavapai County, residents should be aware of the potential for illness and are asked to take precautions. West Nile Virus was confirmed in some local birds and mosquitoes last year and is expected to be re-confirmed through ongoing surveillance. It is not possible to predict when or if we will have reported human cases this year, but Maricopa County has been reporting cases of West Nile Virus since May.

The virus can be spread to animals and humans by mosquitoes that have fed on infected birds, however less than one percent of all mosquitoes are infected. Even if bitten by an infected mosquito, most persons will feel no symptoms. Approximately 20 percent of people infected with West Nile Virus will feel symptoms, including:

- Fever
- Headache
- Body aches
- Nausea
- Vomiting
- Sometimes swollen lymph glands or a skin rash on the chest, stomach and back.

A small percentage of people who are infected will experience severe symptoms such as meningitis, encephalitis, paralysis and even death. Persons over the age of 50 are generally at a higher risk for severe symptoms. Last year, West Nile Virus was identified in 46 states and the District of Columbia, causing 9,100 human illnesses and 218 human deaths.

It is important to remember that there are several measures each person can take to prevent infection:

- Eliminate mosquito-breeding sites around your home or business by removing standing water in potted plants, tires and other containers.
- Repair window and door screens to keep mosquitoes out of the home.
- Avoid outdoor activity before dawn and after dusk when mosquitoes are most active.
- When outdoors wear long sleeves and long pants to prevent mosquito bites.
- When outdoors wear a mosquito repellant containing DEET (follow label instructions, especially for use on children). All strengths of DEET will repel mosquitoes, but the higher the concentration in the product, the longer-lasting it will be.
- Report dead birds to local health authorities.

For controlling mosquito breeding in large amounts of water such as rain barrels or ponds, consider the use of "mosquito dunks. These are donut-shaped tablets that contain Bti, a bacterial toxin that is specifically lethal to mosquito larvae but harmless to the environment. This product can be purchased at many plant nurseries and feed stores.

A vaccine is available to protect horses and other equine animals and owners are urged to contact their veterinarians. There is no vaccine currently available to protect other animals or humans.

Yavapai County Community Health Services will continue working to protect the community with an enhanced surveillance program including the collection and testing of mosquitoes and dead birds, and evaluation of equine neurological illnesses and human cases of meningitis and encephalitis. The director of the department, Marcia Jacobson, says, "We are getting information out to residents and businesses on how to control mosquito breeding, and how to minimize their exposure to the virus."

Ms Jacobson reminds residents that the department has recently launched a new televised talk show, Health News You Can Use, which is currently airing on TV 18 in the Verde Valley, Prescott Valley's Access 13, and Chino Valley's Access 13. It will begin airing on Prescott Access 13 in mid-July. The featured topic is West Nile Virus, and will be aired repeatedly - check local listings for details.

More information on mosquito reduction and avoidance, and dead bird reporting can be found at http://www.co.yavapai.az.us/departments/Hlt/HltPage.aspx?PN=Mosquitoes or by calling (928) 771-3149.

Cruises - Vacation Packages - Air - Hotel - Car
~ Call For Special Group Rates ~

WEATHER TRAVEL ADVICE: When booking travel be sure to check the weather in advance. Look at the average monthly high and low temperatures and precipitation. When booking cruises, vacation packages, air and hotels, you can consider booking off season to save money. An example would be an Alaskan cruise where the temperature differential is only about 10 degrees from peak to off season. But, in June there is less precipitation, and if you choose September there is a greater chance of rain. All historical weather data is available at www.weather.com.

Re: Forming a Beneficial Road Improvement District:

There is still a huge effort to get signed petitions turned in ASAP. If you haven't done so as of yet, PLEASE, turn these back in ASAP. A month ago, petitions were mailed out to the property owners we haven't heard from. If you received it in the mail, and are planning to be part of this improvement, please fill them out ASAP. As of 7/10/04, on what has been turned in, we have 75 confirmed yeses (326.97 arces) and only 15 nos (57.47 arces). We figure the total number of property owners is about 200 and total arces is about 960. We are closer, but we still need more of the petition signed and turned back in ASAP. Please help spread the word by talking to your neighbors about this issue or call Ted if you have any questions. Note- more petitions have been turned in since last month, but have not been totaled up as of 8/8/04.

If you want to be part of this road improvement district, please complete & return all four petition sheets, including the green sheet, and have them signed by all legal parties involved. If you do not want to be part of this, then, please return the green sheet only. Mail to Ted Moxley, at 7220 E. Moolit Dr., Prescott Valley, AZ 86314 or to Kathy Noble at P O Box 26227, Prescott Valley, AZ 86312.

Moonlit Dr., or call Ted Moxley at 775-6203. If you have sold or bought property in this area in the past few months, or may be planning to, please keep Ted informed of new information, as legal ownership of property at the time of filing the petitions with the County, is very important to our efforts and give the new homeowners a petition sheet.

There are many advantages to paving the road, such as: should increase property values, emergency response time, easier financing for property sales, reduce auto maintenance, better school bus access, on going maintained road, and many others you may think of.

The proposed Beneficial Road Improvement District is for 3 miles, starting just after the cattle guard, through the mud hole / flood area / wash, whatever you want to call it, (which is a little over a mile in), and ends just past the little hill in the back behind Woodchute Rd. The main road, Poquito Valley Road, will be paved and maintained by the County when completed. Keep in mind, it could take as long as 2 years before we will have a paved road, and by then, more of Viewpoint Drive will be done. The area by the cattle guard to the base of where the church begins, is within the city boundries, we are county. It is not clear, at this time, when this section will be done.

We will keep you posted of ongoing results of where we are at, through this newsletter, the Road News box by the church, the new box by Moonlit Dr, or you can call Ted Moxley at 775-6203. Please keep your mailing address current by calling into Ted.

If you need more information about what is involved with forming a road improvement district, go to the County's website at: www.co.yavapai.az.us, go to Departments, then Special Districts, then County Road Improvements Districts. If you still need additional information, contact: Bev Staddon, Clerk of the Board / Special Districts Coordinator, Yavapai County Board of Supervisors at 1015 Fair Street, Prescott, AZ, 86305, (928) 771-3209, email, bev.staddon@co.yavapai.az.us. If you do not have a computer, the library has public computers.

Is the Time Near! It is looking good so far, but we need to hear from more property owners. Please mail in your signed petitions or (green sheets for nos) ASAP.

Regarding Mail Boxes:

There are about 1-2 mail slots remaining of the new box just installed. Those still wanting a mail slot please call, Ted at 775-6203, or stop by 7220 E. Moonlit Dr. Prescott Valley, AZ, 86314, (off Poquito Valley Rd.). He will need: $82 to pay for your slot, plus your name, home address and phone number.

Donations of $25 per homeowner monthly are still accepted for the Poquito Valley Road escrows acct: Your maintenance payments can be mailed to:
Yavapai Title acct # M05001010 P. O. Box 1900 Sierra Vista, AZ 85636. Volunteers: Karen Benson 772-8358 - Linda Pope 759- 3470 - Ted Moxley 775-6203.
Poquito Valley information provided by Ted Moxley & Kathy Noble, residents of Poquito Valley.

ATTENTION POQUITO VALLEY RESIDENTS

Those who are now getting their mail delivered to your mailbox in Poquito Valley, please call 928-925-6610 or drop a note to PO Box 26227, Prescott Valley, AZ, 86312 of your old address. Help keep the costs down. Thank you.

Pronghorn Ranch - Pronghorn Ranch is located in the tranquil, wide open spaces of Prescott Valley and surrounded by majestic mountains. Pronghorn Ranch is a new kind of master planned community, one that offers expansive lots and a rich array of amenities at a surprisingly affordable price.

A tremendous amount of care and thought has been put into the 640 acres comprising Pronghorn Ranch, from the signature club house, complete with putting green, swimming pool, tennis court, bocci ball court, horseshoe pit, fully equipped fitness center, dramatic gathering room with full kitchen, barbeque areas, as well as the parks and trail which make up the extensive open space throughout this community. The attention to detail is apparent at Pronghorn Ranch. Homes start from the $150's. Our unique country style homes range from 1,240 sq ft to 2,600 sq ft and our average lot size is 13,000 sq ft. The clubhouse alone will make you want to live in this unbelievable neighborhood.

Other features: paved streets with winding sidewalks for free easy living; city water and sewer, and underground utilities, including cable TV.

Our models and sales office are open from 2 to 6 pm on Mondays and 10 am to 6 pm, Tuesday - Sunday. Clubhouse hours are from 8 am-8 pm daily. For more information, please call Travis or Clint at (928) 775-4049 or check out our website at www.pronghornranch.com.

Antelope Meadows - is a rural community of 1280 Acres with a Property Owners Association and sensible CC&R's with property available is lot sizes of 2, 5, and 10 acres. Owners enjoy the beautiful views of the surrounding mountains, the gorgeous sunrises and sunsets, and wonderful people. Antelope Meadows is great community as you see its tremendous growth with new homes being constructed every week.

The end of August brings us four new escrows that have just closed. The improved properties in our Community now number 124 with the total number of property owners Antelope Meadows at 225.

August 7th, was our first annual Neighborhood picnic. Thanks to the over 100 homeowners and their families for attending this event. We are growing so fast its often hard to meet your new neighbor. Meeting them during this picnic was one of the huge benefits. I tried to meet everyone and answer any of his or her questions. There were basically two questions. One, what are we planning for road improvements? We are moving ahead with a request for a vote from all of the property owners to authorize a special assessment to improve our road starting in 2005. Secondly, what to do about people driving east and west, between Antelope Meadows, Coyote Springs and Poquito Valley. Double check your own deed to be absolutely sure, but our research shows that there are no through road easements between these communities. If I didn't have an opportunity and you have questions, please call 771-0049 and leave your questions with our property manger.

We acknowledge Mr. and Mrs. Bill Durham for heading up this effort. They purchased the supplies, offered

Coyote Springs –is a well established rural community that allows horses etc., has CC&R's and approx. 10 acre minimums and up, individual wells and septics, great surrounding views, main road into Coyote Springs paved, side roads are dirt, and telephone service in most areas.

Note from the Editor-First of all, Lonesome Valley Newsletter, does not, nor has ever, taken sides on the litigation proceedings going on. The information about this issue or whether there are or are not CC&R's in Coyote Springs, is not clear to the editor, also this is a legal matter, which this newsletter will not get involved with any further. Information in this section before, was just that, information that something was going on, period. If anyone wants to use this section to get the word out about a meeting with times, place, etc. regarding any issues, please do so. And, if what was printed before seemed like the majority of the people in Coyote Springs, was for the litigation proceedings going on, it was not the intentions of this newsletter to portray that. That was the only information submitted to this newsletter since April, 2004 issue, with the first being mentioned dating back to the September, 2003 issue. Contact information provided to this newsletter of people to contact about the CC&R violation issues, at that time, were as follows: Kathy P - 602-494-6466; Alfie - 928-775-6291 or 928-710-8287; John - 928-772-8370.*

Furthermore, if you want to contact Wendy Dittbrenner, who submitted her opinion "A Note From The Other Side Of The Fence", July, 2004 issue, contact her at wdranch@commspeed.net or 928-848-0267.

There are mailboxes still available in front. Contact Prescott Valley Post Off ke or Donna at 772-4406.

Is That "Free" Credit Report Really Free, Or Is It A Scam?

We have all seen the ads on the Internet, or perhaps received an e-mail touting "free" credit reports. The Better Business Bureau warns consumers to be careful when responding to such offers. Some of these online operators do not actually provide credit reports, but may be using their sites as a way to capture a consumer's personal information. You may never receive the free credit report that was offered. Once your information has been obtained, they may sell your information to others who may use it to commit fraud, including identity thief. Or by requesting a "free" credit report, you may be agreeing to a monthly service-for a fee.

The BBB, along with the Federal Trade Commission, urge consumers to take the following precautions when visiting sites, or responding to e-mails that offer credit reports:

• If you receive an e-mail offering a credit report, do not reply or click on the link in the e-mail. Instead, contact the company cited in the e-mail using a telephone number or a Web site address you know to be genuine.

• Be skeptical of unsolicited e-mail offering credit reports. Be cautious of e-mail from an atypical address, like ABC123@website.net, or an e-mail address ending in a top level domain other than .com, like .ru or .de.

• Check for grammatical and spelling errors. Silly mistakes and sloppy copy - for example, an area code that does not match an address - often are red flags that the site may be a scam.

• Check to see if the e-mail address matches the Web address. When you enter the company's Web address in the browser, does it go to the sender's site or re-direct you to a different Web address? If it re-directs you, cease the transaction.

• Exit from a Web site that asks for unnecessary personal information, like a Personal Identification Number (PIN) for your bank account, the three-digit code on the back of your credit card, or your passport number and issuing country. Legitimate sites do not ask for this information.

• Use only secure Web sites. Look for the "lock" icon on the browser's status bar, and phrase "https" in the URL address on a Web site, to be sure your information is secure during transmission.

• Watch your credit card statements for unauthorized charges. Contact your credit card issuer immediately in this case.

To obtain a copy of your credit report from the three major credit bureaus, contact:

• Equifax at www.equifax.com or call 1.800.685.1111;

• Experian at www.experian.com or call 1.888.397.3742; or

• TransUnion at www.transunion.com or call 1.800.888.4213.

According to the Federal Trade Commission, beginning December 2004, consumers in Arizona will be able to request a free credit report according to the Fair and Accurate Credit Transaction Act. For more information on this rule, visit www.ftc.gov/opa/2004/06/freeannual.htm.

Information provided by Better Business Bureau, (BBB). For more information about the BBB, please call 602-264-1721 or visit www.arizonabbb.org. In Yavapai County, call 928-772-3 [illegible] at 877-291-6222.

Advertising is essential for our ever changing town of Prescott Valley and the Tri-City area. But at times, can be an expensive cost of doing business. When you can, try and let the merchant you are using know how you heard about their company and / or services. Whether it is from newsletters, newspapers, phone books, websites, word of mouth, their literature, vehicle sign or building sign, etc. Money spent wisely on advetising, will help our town and merchants survive, prosper and be there the next time you need their services!

Relay For Life!

Surrounded by glowing luminarias and cheering fans, teams of walkers will take turns walking the track in the American Cancer Society Relay For Life. The Relay for Life will run from 6:00 pm through 9:00 am, Aug. 27 and 28 at Bradshaw Mountain High school. It's part of one of the largest fund-raisers in the US, all for the cause of fighting cancer.

Cancer survivors might be on the teams, or just come out to enjoy the support of those participating in the event. Relatives and friends of cancer patients, and anyone else who knows how important it is to fight cancer can join together to walk the overnight relay. With a team of 15, each person only walks for one hour.

Individuals, families, organizations, schools, religious groups, corporations and small businesses can now build teams and join our fight to reduce the burden of cancer across America. Who's Hungry?

The answer is, you never know. Maybe it's a local family whose Dad lost his job. They had enough savings for a couple of weeks, but a little food will help stretch the budget. Maybe it's an out-of-town construction worker, brought in at low wages, and living out of his car until he builds up some savings. Perhaps a senior couple that just got hit with a big medical bill that their social security and Medicare don't cover. Sound familiar?

You do care, and it bothers you to know that people around you are hungry. But what can you do? You can just do a little bit. Think about your pantry or cupboard. Do you have a few cans at the back that have been sitting there for a few months, never used? Maybe you bought too much tuna or tomato sauce when guests were coming. There are those cans of milk from the holidays. A couple of boxes of cereal the kids didn't eat. And quite a bit of soup you got on sale a few months ago. If you put that in a bag or box and add a few canned meals like hash or stew, that could feed a family for a few days. Frozen or refrigerated items are OK, too! Well, that feels good!

You have a bit more room in your kitchen, and someone has a few more days of survival. The Gospel of Grace food bank would be happy to accept and distribute any food, as long as it has not been opened. Personal care items are great, too! Call us at 775-0083. The Gospel of Grace is a food bank at 8169 East Florentine (just west of Robert Road) in Prescott Valley, that serves people from Cordes Junction through Paulden. A "branch" is located in Humboldt, operating out of the Desert Hills Fellowship. Gospel of Grace is a non-profit 501c3 corporation, so donations are tax deductible. If you need some food, you are welcome to come in Monday and Thursday from 4 to 5:30, or Tuesday and Friday from 11:00 to 12:30.

If you can do a bit more, the food bank needs a trailer to use to haul food from a food warehouse in Flagstaff and to transport food from food drives. Cash donations would be used to pay rent and utilities. Thank you! John & Kristin Jacobsen, The Gospel of Grace Food Bank, 775-0083.

Water Saving Tips

Here are a number of other easy ways to save water. Use this checklist and tips to help you and your family use water wisely:

- Turn off the water while you brush your teeth and save up to 4 gals. a minute or 200 gals a week for a family of four.
- Use a broom instead of a hose to clean your driveway & sidewalk and save up to 80 gals.. of water every time.
- Time your shower to keep it under 5 mins. You'll save up to 1,000 gals. a month.
- Always water during the early morning hours, when temperatures are cooler, to minimize evaporation.
- Check your sprinkler system frequently and adjust sprinklers so only your lawn is watered and not the house, sidewalk or street.
- Choose water-efficient drip irrigation for your trees, shrubs and flowers.
- Don't water on windy days or within two days of rain.
- Water deeply but less frequently to create healthier and stronger landscapes.
- Use a layer of organic mulch around plant to reduce evaporation, promote plant growth and reduce weeds.
- Install covers on pools and spas to avoid water evaporation.
- Periodically check your pool for leaks if you have an automatic refilling device.
- Evaporative coolers require a seasonal maintenance checkup. For more efficient cooling, check your evaporative cooler annually.
- When washing dishes by hand, don't let the water run while rinsing. Fill one sink with wash water and the other with rise water.
- Use the garbage disposal less often.
- Soak pots, pans and grills before you wash them.
- Keep a pitcher of water in the refrigerator instead of running the tap for cold drinks.
- Check facets and pipes regularly for leaks.
- Install low-volume toilets and make sure there are aerators on all of your facets. (Most homes built after 1980 already have these features.)
- Plug the bath before you turn on the water, then adjust the temperature as the tub fills.
- Take shallow baths.

Water is the most common compound on earth, the fluid from which all life originates. It's the one liquid humans must have to live.

An average person can go nearly two months without eating. But less than a week without water could kill you.

Could the Type of Clothes Washer You Have Save on Water & Money?

Hi Folks - Mike from Mike's Appliance Center. You've heard a lot lately about "Energy Star" rated appliances. These are appliances that undergo extensive testing by the manufactures and the government agencies to ensure that they "exceed" the minimum requirements for power use.

On top of electrical use though, is its "water conservation". This in Arizona and the West is as important - if not more so.

A front load washer, with a full load, uses as little as 10.5 gals. of water. A "top" load washer with a full load uses as much as 40-50 gallons of water. California in 2002 passed legislation banning new top loaders sales in the State. Other states are rushing towards these same procedure changes. With droughts and population increases everywhere, this makes the most sense for not only our present circumstances, but our children and their children to invest in.

Using less than 1/3 of the electricity, 1/4 of the water, and 2 tablespoons of soap per load! Four loads a week can save you $250 to $300 a year in actual savings.

Drop in to Mike's Appliance Center on Robert Road and Sue or I will be glad to show you and explain the many more advantages of this technology.

Got Good Water? Why You Need to Know...

Water is known as the universal solvent. It has a tendency to dissolve a little bit of everything it touches. Dust, smoke, carbon dioxide, spores and smog may be absorbed by water droplets. For example, if it dissolves sulfur from industrial smokestacks, it can form acid rain. This increases its capacity to dissolve other substances. The water vapor in clouds eventually condenses and falls back to earth as rain, sleet, hail or snow. As water runs over the surface, it can become cloudy, even muddy. Then, as water seeps down through the ground, it may dissolve a little bit of the minerals and other substances that could be present, such as arsenic. By the time water returns to rivers, lakes or underground aquifers, it has accumulated amounts of the elements it has contacted. Along the way bacteria, chemicals, agricultural byproducts, fertilizers, insecticides and other man-made wastes may also enter the water. Even after reaching a home, it can continue to dissolve materials such as lead from solder in plumbing pipes.

Due to this natural hydrological cycle, we need to either soften or filter our water to rid it of these impurities. Filtering water involves separating mineral particles, like manganese, iron, hydrogen sulfide or other organic matter from pure H20. By passing water through a "filter bed," or media bed," these granular particles are trapped so that clean, purified water passes through the bed. Examples of filtration are reverse osmosis system, uses of series of filter, including the technologically advanced RO module, to eliminate microscopic impurities and chemical elements. Activated carbon filters reduce the contaminates that can cause bad tastes and odors, giving you a delicious, refreshing drinking water. Softening water involves something called "iron exchange" to remove dissolved minerals -like calcium, magnesium, iron and manganese -that can't be trapped in a filter bed. Softeners use fresh resin beads with sodium attached to the resin. As water enters the tank, dissolved calcium and magnesium are attracted to the resin. The resin passes up the sodium in exchange for the dissolved chemicals and the water is then rid of these impurities. Whether you use a filter or a softener depends on whether the contaminates in your water are particles or dissolved minerals. Water Filters remove the substances from your water that can cause staining, foul odors and the need for excessive cleanup. Household chores become easier because your water is working with you, not against you.

To find out what's ailing your water, contact a reputable water quality improvement equipment dealer for a free water analysis. Having your water tested will help you determine your exact needs, even though you may already know you have one or more water problems. In determining your needs, a water expert will look at a number of things. For example, the hardness level of the water and the size of your family will influence the size or type of equipment necessary for remedying your water problems.

MOTHER'S MAIL BAG

Dear Mother,

I'm a mental mess right now, but I'm going to try and make myself as clear as possible. I hope you'll put this letter in your column as I read it every month and I need an answer A.S.A.P. I'm 42 years old. I'm telling you this because I want you to know how long I've waited to find "MR. RIGHT". My husband begged me for 6 months to marry him with the promise that the day we married he'd give up smoking forever. This was part of our marriage agreement. He knew this issue was very important to me and our future happiness together. It hasn't been but a few weeks and I caught him sneaking a smoke in the garage. I'm devastated, he gave me his word of honor. He now tells me he can't help it because it's a disease that he has that makes him smoke. I love this man, but I can't live with him if he doesn't stop smoking, after all he gave me his word. What does Mother have to say about a guy that breaks his promise and is breaking my heart.

Took A chance and Lost

Dear Took A Chance,

You're 42 yrs. old and you really believed that when you tied the knot, your honey would instantly stop smoking? If you really believed that, then I have a car I'm going to sell you that runs forever and never needs gas! You didn't say how long you dated, but if it were only for a 6 month period, you didn't give yourself time to get to know each other. Smoking is not a disease, it's an addiction. A disease is something like having cancer or a liver disease, etc. Smoking, drinking, eating too much of your favorite food, etc., can become an addiction. I've known people that have become addicted to soda drinks. They just have to have 3-4 cans or more a day or they just can't make it through. Addictions can lead to serious health problems. Smoking can lead to cancer of the throat or lungs, etc., drinking can lead to liver disease, constantly eating the wrong foods, can lead to many other health problems, etc. I think you get my meaning. Your husband is addicted to nicotine and that type of addiction doesn't have a quick fix. I must ask, if this is such a huge problem for you, how did you manage to keep the courtship going during the 6 months? This problem didn't start the day before you tied the knot. If this was such a turn off, how did you manage to have intimate moments together?

MOTHER'S ADVICE: make an appointment with your family doctor. He can check your honey over and then prescribe the patch or some other type of medication / treatment to help him stop smoking. As I said before, no quick fix. My husband was a 3 pack a day guy, going back many years ago. He had a major heart condition and he had only 3-4 months to live. He gave up smoking in one day and never looked back. Not very many people can quit just like that! I'm really having a hard time understanding you. You are 42 years old, you must of said to yourself before you tied the knot, "suppose he doesn't keep his word, what then"? I just can't believe at your age you didn't think this thing through. Are you sure you're not just a little peeved that he didn't keep his word and that's what the BIG PROBLEM IS? As you said, you waited a long time to find "MR. RIGHT" and he was right as rain until you caught him smoking in the garage. Remember, all the doctors and all the nicotine patches, etc., in the world aren't going to help if he isn't ready to quit. It takes a ton of will power and

Well, we are into August and schools are opening, and the types of movies are changing, too. Not as many frivolous films out there right now. Today I'll be looking at two movies that are very serious and also frightening in their own way. First, we have "Collateral," a film that allows heart-throb and most of the time good guy Tom Cruise to play the villain. He is a contract killer named Vincent that happens to get into the cab driven by Max, played extremely well by funnyman Jamie Foxx. Max is a part-time cabbie, (he has only driven for 12 years), who has a dream to own a limo service. When Vincent offers him $700 to take him to see five friends throughout the night he has no idea he is driving him to kill five people. Vincent is found out and still forces Max to drive. We see a lot of the nightlife and violence in Los Angles as Max tries to get away and stop Vincent from carrying out his evenings work. The movie is a great thriller most of the time but a few of the twists are easy to predict. Cruise is good as the hitman but the best performance is put in by Foxx. It will be interesting to see if he tries another dramatic role or goes back to comedy. He is great as both. "Collateral," is rated R for violence and language.

Secondly, is a film that has been awaited since it is the latest from M. Night Shyamalan since, "Signs." This one is called,"The Village," and also stars Joaquin Phoenix from his last film. This is about a village in 19th century Pennsylvania where the people vow to stay out of the nearby forest so the creatures will stay away from them. Phoenix is a young man who wonders if this is such a good idea and is not sure the forest creatures are abiding with their part of the bargain. as with most of his films there is a feeling of impending danger and an eeriness only he can provide. It is a thriller for sure.

Both of these films are currently playing at Harkins Prescott Valley 14 Theatres at 7202 Pav Way in Prescott Valley. For showtimes call 775-7444 or hit their website at harkinstheatres.com. Please remember when you go tell them I sent you. CINEMA SAM

The Benefits of Volunteering

Volunteering is a great way to share your knowledge and time with the community ¾ and volunteering can help you live longer. Really?

Whatever your interest, there are volunteer opportunities for available in a wide array of fields, including health care, education, social services and the arts. The United Way Volunteer Center of Yavapai County is one link between volunteers and nonprofit organizations.

Now about living longer.

Volunteering has many benefits, besides the good feelings that come with helping others and making our community a better place. Experts say that volunteers feel higher levels of self-esteem, control over their lives, and general well-being. A recent study shows that volunteering may also boost physical health, and that older adults who volunteer have a lower mortality rate that those who don't.

If you can spare a few hours a week, consider becoming a volunteer. Or, if you are already volunteering, perhaps now is the time to add another organization. You'll make new friends, learn new things, and receive pleny of thanks for your generosity.

Volunteers are needed at The Centers Adult Day Services in Prescott Valley and Prescott, and the Prescott Margaret T. Morris Center, a residence for people with memory loss. People are needed to lead or assist participants with crafts, music, and recreation activities. If you love painting, you can teach painting... if you want to learn to paint, you can learn by assisting residents during a class!

People are needed for one-on-one activities, too. You can brighten someone's life by listening, reading, playing games or taking walks in the garden. Volunteers with phone or office skills are also needed, and special events and PR volunteers can help on an on-call basis.

Volunteer Sue Watkin says she helps because "I wanted to give something back to the Center for taking such good care for my mom, and I really enjoy working with the residents." Director of Activities and Volunteers, John Proffer says "Our volunteers make special connections, make a difference in the participants' lives, and enjoy the good feeling of helping others." Call him at 445-6633 to learn more about how you can help at any of the sites.

Golf Tournament: The Margaret T. Morris Alzheimer Charity Golf Tournament will be held September 27th at Talking Rock. Sponsorships and player openings are available. Call 771-2335 X 12 for more information.

Water Safety Tips

In 2000, there were 3,281 unintentional drownings in the United States, averaging nine people per day. This does not include drownings in boating-related incidents (CDC 2003).

For every child who drowns, three receive emergency department care for non-fatal submersion injuries. More than 40% of these children require hospitalization (CDC 2003). Nonfatal incidents can cause brain damage that result in long-term disabilities ranging from memory problems and learning disabilities to the permanent loss of basic functioning (i.e. permanent vegetative state).

In the time it takes to ...

...cross the room for a towel (10 seconds), a child in the bathtub can become submerged.

...answer the phone (2 minutes), that child can lose consciousness.

...sign for a package at your front door (4 to 6 minutes), a child submerged in the bathtub or pool can sustain permanent brain damage.

Safety Tips:

- Never leave a child alone near water-at the pool, the beach or in the tub-a tragedy can occur in seconds. If you must leave, take your child with you.
- Always use approved personal floatation devices (life jackets.) The U.S. Coast Guard estimates nearly 9 of 10 drowning victims were not wearing one. Water wings, floats, buoyant swim suits, floating seats and the like are NOT adequate safety devices.
- Be aware of neighborhood pools-be it your own or your neighbors. Kiddie pools are just as dangerous as large pools. Remove toys from in and around the pool when not in use. Toys can attract children to the pool.
- Empty containers such as mop buckets or kiddie pools as soon as you are finished using them. Watch children when there is standing water in tree wells, dog dishes and bird baths. It only takes about an inch of water for a child to drown.
- For pools, barriers can offer added protection against drowning. Power or manual covers will completely cover a pool and block access to the water, however, be sure to drain any standing water from the surface of the pool cover as a child can drown in very small amounts of water.
- Enroll children over age three in swimming lessons taught by qualified instructors. But keep in mind that lessons don't make your child "drown-proof."
- Introduce your kids to the water early. Use bath time to familiarize them with floating and being underwater.
- Older children risk drowning when they overestimate their swimming ability or underestimate the water depth.
- Don't dive into unknown bodies of water. Always enter the water feet first to avoid hitting your head on unseen objects under the water.
- Never swim alone, and don't let other adults, teens or children swim alone.
- Don't push or jump on others.
- Be prepared for an emergency.
- Always have a first-aid kit and emergency phone contacts handy. Parents should be trained in CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation). If you can't swim or don't know CPR, enroll yourself in classes. A significant number of drownings have been prevented because parents had these skills.

The Central Yavapai Fire District cares about your safety and the safety of your family. If you have questions please call Community Risk

How Accurate is the Information in Your Credit Report?

"The most valuable thing we have is our good name. The most common reflection of our reputation as a trustworthy consumer is our credit report. Unfortunately, the information contained in our credit reports, which are bought and sold daily to nearly anyone who requests and pays for them, does not always tell a true story.

Credit bureaus collect and compile information about consumer creditworthiness from banks and other creditors and from public record sources such as lawsuits, bankruptcy filings, tax liens and legal judgments. The three major credit bureaus-Experian, Equifax, and Trans Union- maintain files on nearly 90 percent of all American adults. Those files are routinely sold to credit grantors, landlords, employers, insurance companies, and many others interested in the credit record of a consumer, often without the consumer's knowledge or permission.

Several studies since the early 1990s have documented sloppy credit bureau practices that lead to mistakes on credit reports-for which consumers pay the price. Consumers with serious errors in their credit reports can be denied credit, home loans, apartment rentals, auto insurance, or even medical coverage and the right to open a bank account or use a debit card. Consumers with serious errors in their reports who do obtain credit or a loan may have to pay higher interest rates because the mistakes falsely place them in the sub-prime, high-cost lending pool.

We asked adults in 30 states to order their credit reports and complete a survey on the reports' accuracy. Key findings include:

- Twenty-five percent (25%) of the credit reports surveyed contained serious errors that could result in the denial of credit, such as false delinquencies or accounts that did not belong to the consumer;
- Fifty-four percent (54%) of the credit reports contained personal demographic information that was misspelled, long-outdated, belonged to a stranger, or was otherwise incorrect;
- Twenty-two percent (22%) of the credit reports listed the same mortgage or loan twice;
- Almost eight percent (8%) of the credit reports were missing major credit, loan, mortgage, or other consumer accounts that demonstrate the creditworthiness of the consumer;
- Thirty percent (30%) of the credit reports contained credit accounts that had been closed by the consumer but remained listed as open;
- Altogether, 79% of the credit reports surveyed contained either serious errors or other mistakes of some kind.

Professional credit report reviews, conducted by a qualified and trained professionals known as 'Certified Credit Report Reviewers' help consumers avoid credit problems before they make application for credit or a mortgage. Credit report reviews used to be something that was done when a consumer discovered a mistake or activity resembling identity theft, after they were denied credit.

Soon, when the nations consumers begin accessing their "free credit reports" under the new FACTA law, the credit report reviews will become essential because millions of consumers may begin to access their free credit reports, however, they may not be able to read the report or understand the symbols and summaries. A professionally trained credit report reviewer can identify inaccuracies, omissions, and also point out suspicious activity, in addition to pointing out items in a report that may negatively affect a credit score.

Brad R. Bonnett, Executive Director of Marketing of Simple Solutions Credit Consulting, Inc. recently completed an educational study program on the new Fair and Accurate Credit Transactions Act (FACTA), and after successfully completing as examination was certified as a Credit Report Reviewer for FACTA by the non-profit Institute of Consumer Financial Education (ICFE). The Institute focuses on helping consumers become better spenders, regular savers and wise users of credit.

If you need help understanding your credit report, or need help with your credit rating, please contact me.

Brad R. Bonnett is a Certified Credit Specialist with Simple Solutions and a Certified Credit Report Reviewer for FACTA by the ICFA.Brad can be reached at brad@HavePerfectCredit.com or 928-925-2596.

the right state of mind to over-come any addiction. If you really love this guy then give him all the support you can. I'm sure when he made the promise to quit he really meant it but didn't realize how hard it would be to stop cold turkey. So get him to your family doctor have him checked and I'm sure your doctor will prescribe something to help him overcome his nicotine addiction. I'm sure you're aware that your local drugstore has many products to help with this problem but I think your doctor should see him first as to avoid any type of allergic reaction to over the counter products. With lots of good support on your part and the right mind set he should be well on his way to a nicotine free future. If not ,then you have a lot to think about. You my dear, walked into this with your eyes wide open and your brain somewhere else!

One of the treasures the tri-cities has to offer its residents and visitors to the area, is the Heritage Park Zoo. Now the Zoo is desperately asking for help in funding to keep the doors open. The Heritage Park Zoo, is simple, but majestic. It offers young and old the chance to see animals that they may never see elsewhere. It is a rescue zoo where many animals have come here because they were in need of a place or were hurt and needed a safe haven in order to regain their strength.

There is great cost to stay in operation, and funding is hitting bottom. There is great cost to keep and maintain the grounds, feed the animals and just the daily operations of the facility. Much of the work at the zoo is done by volunteer docents, but money is still a very large concern.

Fundraising events throughout the community have already been done or are in the planning stages. In July, 2004, York Motors, had a BBQ event and raffle that they were expecting 200- 300 people and they had double that amount turn out on a very rainy Saturday night. The event raised $7,000. Most who attended said they were glad to help the Heritage Park Zoo stay open. Local Fry's stores have flyers in the stores asking for donations and containers are out for the community to contribute. No amount has been totaled yet.

AZTV, Channel 7, in Prescott, along with Prescott Newspapers, will be doing a four hour telethon on August 27, from 8:00am until noon.

If you have any questions or want to donate to help the zoo, you can call them at 778-4242. Heritage Park Zoo is located at 1403 Heritage Park Road, off Willow Creek Road, just outside Prescott. Hours: 9am-5pm daily, until October 31st. Mike Kenny

DECEMBER FOR SEVERAL VACANCIES ON THE BOARD. The ballots were included in the mailing of the annual dues bills; please vote prior to January 15, 2005, as the new Board is to be announced at the January Homeowners meeting and seated in February.

The November 30 meeting of the Viewpoint East Homeowners Association included invited guest speakers from Aires Corporation: John Morgan, Area Manager, and Dan Marcum, CEO. Aires is the company that runs the group home for dysfunctional/disabled adults on Summit Vista. The officials were invited to explain to concerned homeowners how, in direct conflict with our CC&Rs, such a business could be established and why they did not come before the group prior to establishing the home to explain their position and the type of residents they were expecting. Mr. Morgan and Mr. Marcum brought about a dozen or more supporters and employees with them and distributed general information about their company. Their explanation for disregarding the CC&Rs is that the state of Arizona does not consider them a business, and that the home is a 3-person residence. They apologized to the group for not being more considerate of the homeowners and agree to abide by the rest of the CC&Rs.

NEXT HOMEOWNERS ASSOCIATION MEETING IS TUESDAY, JANUARY 25, 2005 IN THE COMMUNITY ROOM OF THE TOWN OF PRESCOTT VALLEY CIVIC CENTER BUILDING AT 6:30PM.

HAVE A JOYOUS AND GENEROUS HOLIDAY SEASON! PLEASE REMEMBER TO SHARE WITH OTHERS IN NEED: FOOD BANKS, SHELTERS, TOY DRIVES AND AS MANY OF THE CHARITIES THAT YOU CAN HELP WITH DONATIONS OF ANY KIND, INCLUDING YOUR TIME.

Be a Board Member

We need volunteers to run for the VPW HOA Board of Directors. We have a new management company. Now we need new faces, new ideas on the board.

There will be an application for board of directors sent out in December with the dues notice. If you're interested, send your application to Josh Lethbridge, Liberty Management, at 623 Miller Valley Rd, Suite B.

Voting will take place and the votes will be tallied at the annual meeting on February 28th. We look forward to more volunteers participating in this process.

There will be no homeowners meeting in December. The next will be January 24th at 7:00 pm at the Civic Center in Prescott Valley. The next VPW newsletter will be mailed out in January, 2005.

Old News

VPW HOA has hired the Liberty Management Group in place of AAM. The management company took over on November 1, 2004. We welcome Josh Lethbridge as our manager. He can be contacted at 928-445-1100.

Thanks to the hard work of Dianne Elmore, VPW now has a committee to deliver a Welcome Gift Basket to new residents. She is also working with other volunteers to have a tea for new residents.

Changes are coming to the Viewpoint area. For one thing, the state has ordered that group homes for the disabled are allowed in housing developments even though their homeowner association CC&Rs say no businesses. The September homeowners' meeting was packed with residents who wanted to know how this would affect their development.

Another issue that brought people to the meeting is the two-story town house development planned for the area across from Viewpoint West and adjacent to Viewpoint East and Pronghorn. A change in the zoning would be necessary and many of the residents were concerned not only with the loss of their mountain view but of the huge increase in traffic on Viewpoint Drive. A large number of residents also went to the zoning commission meeting on September 13th to protest this new development. Homeowners are asked to send letters to the Prescott Valley zoning commission to let them know how they feel.

Re: Forming a Beneficial Road Improvement District:

It seems these days, the main thing that is on peoples minds in our area, "is what is happening with the road". Well, the answer is, not much, because there is no money in the on going road fund to fix it. Ray Banks graded the road a while back without getting totally paid for it. In order to have the road graded again, we need money in the road fund. Please get caught up. Twenty-five dollars ($25.00) a month is a fair price to pay in order to drive on our road until it is voted on to have the county take it over, paved, and maintained afterwards, (if this is how it goes). Mail your road maintenance payments to: Yavapai Title acct # M05001010, P. O. Box 1900 Sierra Vista, AZ 85636.

As of today, 12/14/04, we have about 100 confirmed yeses, 18 nos and 127 no responses at all, out of about 240 property owners. We received only a couple of the forms back in the past few months. As you know from prior info in this newsletter, the target is 60% in favor of, on either property owners or acres.

We are still not there! If you are f... oad going public and being tal... e complete and mail back the 4... n sheet ASAP.

If you need a petition, they are located in the information box on Poquito Valley Rd., near Moonlit Dr., or call Ted Moxley at 775-6203. Also, you can now download these forms from the Lonesome Valley Newsletter on the web. Go to www.LVnewsletter.com, subdivisions, Poquito Valley, Petitions.

If you have sold or bought property in this area in the past few months, or may be planning to, please keep Ted informed of new information, as legal ownership of property at the time of filing the petitions with the County, is very important to our efforts and tell the new homeowners about what is going on.

There will be two more attempts to get the required signatures needed in the next month. One way is property owners addresses are being checked again and letters and petitions are being sent out to the property owners we have not heard from. The Second way is volunteers going around to the people out here, door to door, that we have not heard from. If you have anytime at all to help on these last efforts, please call Ted Moxley at 775-6203 or Kathy at 623-298-7352.

Special note-if we still do not have the required signatures after these efforts, Ted will turn this project over to someone else. Volunteers wanted ASAP! (Per Ted Moxley).

The proposed Beneficial Road Improvement District is for 3 miles, starting just after the cattle guard, through the mud hole / flood area / wash, whatever you want to call it, (which is a little over a mile in), and ends just past the little hill in the back behind Woodchute Rd. The main road, Poquito Valley Road, will be paved and maintained by the County when completed. Keep in mind, it could take as long as 2 years before we will have a paved road, and by then, more of Viewpoint Drive will be done. Also, while they are working on the road, it will be graded more often to be driveable without additional cost to us.

We will keep you posted of ongoing results of where we are at, through this newsletter, the Road News box by the church, the new box by Moonlit Dr, or you can call Ted Moxley at 775-6203 and now on the web at: www.LVnewsletter.com, under sub-divisions. Please keep your mailing address current by calling into Ted or sending a note.

If you need more information about what is involved with forming a road improvement district, go to the County's website at: www.co.yavapai.az.us, go to Departments, then Special Districts, then County Road Improvements Districts. If you still need additional information, contact: Bev Staddon, Clerk of the Board / Special Districts Coordinator, Yavapai County Board of Supervisors at 1015 Fair Street, Prescott, AZ, 86305, (928) 771-3209, email, bev.staddon@co.yavapai.az.us. If you do not have a computer, the library has public computers.

Regarding Mail Boxes:

There are mail slots available. Those still wanting a mail slot please call Gary Heinicke or Donna at 772-4406 or stop by PV Post Office, on 2nd street.

Pronghorn Ranch - Pronghorn Ranch is located in the tranquil, wide open spaces of Prescott Valley and surrounded by majestic mountains. Pronghorn Ranch is a new kind of master planned community, one that offers expansive lots and a rich array of amenities at a surprisingly affordable price.

A tremendous amount of care and thought has been put into the 640 acres comprising Pronghorn Ranch, from the signature club house, complete with putting green, swimming pool, tennis court, bocci ball court, horseshoe pit, fully equipped fitness center, dramatic gathering room with full kitchen, barbeque areas, as well as the parks and trail which make up the extensive open space throughout this community. The attention to detail is apparent at Pronghorn Ranch. Homes start from the $168's. Our unique country style homes range from 1,240 sq ft to 2,600 sq ft and lot sizes from 1/4 to 1/2 acres. Patio style homes are now available in the Villages, starting around $180,000. The clubhouse alone will make you want to live in this unbelievable neighborhood.

Other features: paved streets with winding sidewalks for free easy living; city water and sewer, and underground utilities, including cable TV.

Road grading on our road is planned in the next two weeks.

As a reminder, Land Use and Construction Permits are required before grading, erecting fences, digging the foundation or placement of a Manufactured Home. The Property Owner is responsible to submit their plans to the Architectural Committee before ANY work begins, OR any changes/modifications on your property. In addition to the required County plans and permits, the AMPOA issued permit must also be posted at start up and remain in place until final acceptance. The initial application requires a $75.00 fee along with a construction bond. Additional fees are required if the application is for an add-on to the original plan and is for a project over $3000.00. Any questions may be address to the Property Manger at 771-0049.

During the last two months we processed thirteen transfers of properties that have changed owners. We have also had five new starts. The improved properties in our Community now number 137 with the total number of property owners in Antelope Meadows at 225.

The general monthly meeting of the Association is held at 6:30PM on the second Wednesday of each month at the Prescott Valley Civic Center. The annual meeting for AMPOA will be held on January 12, 2005 in the same location.

Our Architectural Committee needs new members. Our existing crew has been working very very hard and needs your help!!!!. New starts are increasing and applications need review. SIGN UP TODAY!

Great news for people who do not have a regular phone vs a cell phone. Recently, I signed up with a phone company that provides regular phone service through my internet connection, mine is Commspeed, in the Poquito Valley area. My regular phone goes through the internet connection broadband waves and I have UNLIMITED, ANYTIME phone service at about $27.00 a month to ANYPLACE in the United States and Canada. Coyote Springs –is a well established rural community that allows horses etc., has CC&R's and approx. 10 acre minimums and up, individual wells and septics, great surrounding views, main road into Coyote Springs paved, side roads are dirt, and telephone service in most areas.

09 Nov 04

Dear Coyote Springs residents,

Ladies and Gentlemen of both sides of the Tree Farm lawsuit, we have a unique opportunity to show the rest of this area what freedom is all about.

First, I would like to thank "Doc" for hosting the meeting on November 9th. I would also like to thank everyone for the great attendance at the meeting. Many viewpoints were heard, discussed, and debated. Personally, I think that is healthy.

Second, I mentioned our unique opportunity. Places like Coyote Springs is fast becoming a lost commodity in America. All we have to do is look at our fast growing neighborhoods around us and see that we are special. Not only are we the one community with 10 acre parcels, we have the freedom from a Home Owners Association (HOA) and the freedom of small business.

Do we want a Circle K, Albertson's, or other "store fronts" in our community? No. Neither does Antelope Meadows, Viewpoint, or the other surrounding communities. Not all businesses are "store fronts". However, having business (not store front) in a community, like ours, is productive. Many of us get hay from our neighbors, get cars repaired, get real estate advice, etc. Has something like that hurt Coyote Springs? To me, no.

Yes, the CC&R's were written 30 years ago and not really enforced. However, 30 years ago a person could not run a business from their home on a computer. Then again, 30 years ago, you could have a neighbor fix your car and deliver hay.

Does the tree farm take away water from the water table? I'm no Hydrologist, but I would think a few hundred welled-homes to the west of us, a thousand more to the southwest, another thousand in Dewey and Chino Valley, and a drought would take more water than a tree farm.

Ladies and Gentlemen, in the two years I have lived in Coyote Springs (I bought my land 8 years ago), I have seen more "stick homes" built and more clean-up of other homes. Property values have tripled and people still move in here, even with a "

Now, if someone REALLY wants to gripe about something. Why don't we gripe about the paved road we bought and everyone else using it for free! :) I think we can all get behind that one.

Thank you all for caring about this community, in one way or another.

Prescott, AZ—Yavapai County Community Health Services (YCCHS) has already scheduled about 7,000 appointments through their flu shot appointment phone lines, and has about 3,500 doses of adult flu shots remaining. YCCHS asks people who are interested in getting flu shots to call 442-5613 or 639-8139 this week to be scheduled for the remaining appointments available in the Prescott, Prescott Valley, Chino Valley or Cottonwood clinic locations.

The flu season typically starts in December and can continue through March or even April. It is not too late for people age 65 and older, and others who meet the guidelines for getting flu shots, to protect themselves from getting the flu or to avoid complications that can arise from getting the flu.

Happy Holidays from the Town of Prescott Valley

MOVIE REVIEW

The holidays bring a great many families to the theatres and there are several films currently showing for them to choose from. One movie that I highly recommend is Christmas With The Kranks. This is the film adaptation of the John Grisham book, Skipping Christmas. It is the story of Nora and Luther Krank, (Jamie Leigh Curtis and Tim Allen) who after their daughter, Blair, leaves for Peru and the Peace Corps, decides to skip Christmas and go on a cruise for the holidays instead. Little did they realize how much chaos would occur when their friends and neighbors find out their plans. It seems that everyone takes offense to them not celebrating the holidays and decide the Kranks will change their minds or else. The key trouble-maker is the head of the neighborhood association, played beautifully by Dan Ackroyd. He will stop at nothing to accomplish his established goal.

He gets the whole neighborhood, including the children to make Nora and Luther reach their breaking point and give in. It seems that the Kranks will holdout and take the cruise when, at the last moment Blair calls and announces she is flying home for Christmas. The couple panics and does everything humanly possible to give her a hometown Christmas. The neighbors join in to help.

There are some extremely funny moments in the film. It gives out a general warmth and good feeling especially at this time of year. Some feel this is not a fine film, but I would put it up against some the stars better works and say it is a film I did take my family to and would recommend others do the same. The film is rated PG and maybe that is why other critics did not think too highly of it. There is no obscenity or sex and only mishaps that are about on par to the accidents that Allen had in his television show, "Home Improvement." Take the family to Christmas with the Kranks, enjoy and maybe even read the original book. You might surprise yourself and like both.

Other films that are geared for the family this holiday season, include The Incredibles, featuring a retired family of superheros in delightful animated film. Also animated is the children's book, The Polar Express. This film is beautifully done and features the voice of Tom Hanks in a number of roles. Finally a film that is mostly for the kids is, The Sponge Bob Squarepants Movie. It is the film version of the very popular TV cartoon show. There is a little expansion from television but the premise is pretty much the same.

All of these films are currently showing at the Harkins Prescott Valley 14 Theatres located at 7202 Pav Way in Prescott Valley. For showtimes call 775-7444 or go on the web at www.harkinstheatres.com.

I would like to express a personal happy holiday greetings to my family and friends, including all the movies lovers that read my reviews. A special thanks to Dave Jogerst, general manager of Harkins Prescott Valley 14 Theatres, his management and staff for trying to provide the area the best films available and for having the best theaters in Northern Arizona. I would also like to thank editor and publisher, Kathy Noble for allowing me to air my views in the Lonesome Valley. Newsletter.

And remember when at Harkins. tell them I saw you.

MOTHER'S MAIL BAG

Dear mother: How about a picture of you to go with your column and all of the great information that you give. I assume you're a real person, so how about it?

I've been reading your column almost from day one and I always enjoy it. However, this last issue of the news letter, with all of the great information on HYDROGENATED OIL in our food supply, kept me glued to your column. Do you know anything about Triglycerides? Mine are pretty high and I'm trying to understand what are they and how to lower them, etc. I sure hope you can give me a little insight on the subject as my doctor isn't much help when it comes to nutrition. He tells me to eat right but my Triglycerides level is around 300 to 400. Thanks for any information you can give me and I'd love to see a photo with this column.

Waiting for a Face

Dear Waiting for a face: You're very sweet and I've been asked about a photo before. I'll see what can be done for future issues.

I get so busy answering my e-mails but only one problem or question goes to print each month. TRIGLYCERIDES is a great subject to write about this issue and I'll try to make it as clear as possible for you.

TRIGLYCERIDES are fats in foods, like butter, vegetable oil and margarine. They are also the FAT stored in your body When your TRIGLYCERIDES are too high, it means your eating foods way too high in fat or eating too many calories. Another cause can be the consumption of alcohol, as it causes your liver to produce more TRIGLYCERIDES. Keep in mind that extra fat and calories are stored in your body as TRIGLYCERIDES.

You stated that you're between 300 to 400 and that's pretty high. Good levels are less than 200 -- 300 to 400 is as the doctor's say, borderline. When your levels read 400 to 1000 MG/dl that's very high and the term for that is HYPERTRIGLYCERIDEMIA and that's not good. You're in a bit of trouble. I'm no doctor, but I have a few very good ones in my personal family and if you're levels are between 300 to 400 you better start changing what you put on your plate, as of yesterday.

First, give up everything with SUGAR in it and I mean everything! Read every label on every package and every can, before you even think about putting it in your shopping cart. Look for the hidden SUGARS in products like mayonnaise, pickles, salad dressing and even in packaged lunch meat under the word "DEXTROSE" on the back of the package. It's there on packages of name brand sliced turkey breast and I'm sure turkey breast is not the only package meat having "DEXTROSE". I'm only telling you this to make you aware of the really hidden sugars in the foods we eat each day.

You may want to give up WHITE BREAD and buy only WHOLE WHEAT and check the label for fat content and anything else that you know you shouldn't have. Butter is a big one and it's not easy to decide what to do. Parson, T. Therapeutic Management of Triglycerides in the American Journal of Cardiology in 1992 stated that "DIET MARGARINE is recommended if you have high TRIGLYCERIDES" I can do battle over this one, as we all know MARGARINE is only one molecule from being PLASTIC. Oh, yo[illegible] UTTER is a high fat NATURAL KILLER. So there you have it. And as they say, it isn't easy to decide what to do.

I can write for hours on this subject and I don't have enough space in my column to give you all of the information you need, so I'll touch base with you by e-mail and give you tons of information to help you get on track.

Just remember folks, give up the sweets, junk food, white bread, egg yolks, soda, most red meat, bad oils, cheese, bacon, gravy, whole milk, fried foods, canned creamed soups and the list goes on and on. What it comes down to is a complete change of diet for the rest of your life. I know about now everyone reading this column is cringing, but all is not lost. Next Month I'll do more on this subject and I'll give you some great ideas on what to eat and how to prepare some simple meals with great flavor Until next month, HAPPY AND HEALTHY EATING.

What: "How to Achieve Maximum Savings at the Grocery Store"

This FREE workshop uncovers the secrets to saving money at the grocery store. Store marketing, store savings cards, meal planning, how to use coupons, where to find and organize coupons will be covered to help consumers drastically cut their grocery bills.

There will be giveaways, free coupons, coupon swap, and tons of information to help you achieve financial freedom. Childcare will be provided.

Where: Prescott Valley Christian Church, 7655 E Long Look Drive, Prescott Valley, AZ

When: Monday, January 31, 2005, 9:00 a.m. OR 6:30 p.m. (2 sessions to choose from)

Contact: Kara Rozendaal at (928) 775-2717 to sign up or with questions

Why: Housing and fuel prices have left consumers scrambling to earn extra money. Grocery savings is being overlooked as an instant solution to the payday blues. Efficient grocery shopping is the same as earning a paycheck every trip to the store. Everyday we are tempted by slick advertisements for the latest and greatest products on sale for the most amazing prices (or so the stores want us to think). The bottom line is, there is only a limited amount of money to spend on groceries. Shoppers need instruction on how to allocate money toward "great sales" and not "hyped up" advertisements. A practical shopping strategy "earns" extra money and fills the cupboards at the same time.

Who: Speaker: Kara Rozendaal, Financial Planner and Author Kara Rozendaal has been in Personal Financial Planning since 1989. She has taught all ages at financial workshops and speaks at women's organizations giving consumers the tools to live within a budget. Kara is the founder of Practical Saver, a company focused on "Helping People Achieve Financial Freedom" with realistic advice on living with what they have been given. According to Kara, "we need to live within our means and enjoy the process at the same time."

Your Family Disaster Plan, Are You Ready?

Disaster can strike quickly and without warning. It can force you to evacuate your neighborhood or confine you to your home. What would you do if basic services-water, gas, electricity or telephones-were cut off? Local officials and relief workers will be on the scene after a disaster, but they cannot reach everyone right away.

Families can-and do-cope with disaster by preparing in advance and working together as a team. Follow the steps listed in this article to create your family's disaster plan. Knowing what to do is your best protection and your responsibility.

Where will your family be when disaster strikes? They could be anywhere-at work, at school or in the car.

How will you find each other? Will you know if your children are safe?

4 STEPS TO SAFETY

1. Find Out What Could Happen to You
2. Create a Disaster Plan
3. Complete Checklist
4. Practice and Maintain Your Plan

OTHER SAFETY THINGS TO CONSIDER:

EMERGENCY SUPPLIES
UTILITIES

NEIGHBORS HELPING NEIGHBORS

Working with neighbors can save lives and property. Meet with your neighbors to plan how the neighborhood could work together after a disaster until help arrives. If you're a member of a neighborhood organization, such as a home association or crime watch group, introduce disaster preparedness as a new activity. Know your neighbors' special skills (e.g., medical, technical) and consider how you could help neighbors who have special needs, such as disabled and elderly persons. Make plans for child care in case parents can't get home.

HOME HAZARD HUNT

During a disaster, ordinary objects in your home can cause injury or damage. Anything that can move, fall, break or cause a fire is a home hazard. For example, a hot water heater or a bookshelf can fall. Inspect your home at least once a year and fix potential hazards.

EVACUATION

Evacuate immediately if told to do so:

- Listen to your battery-powered radio and follow the instructions of local emergency officials.
- Wear protective clothing and sturdy shoes.
- Take your family disaster supplies kit.
- Lock your home.
- Use travel routes specified by local authorities--don't use shortcuts because certain areas may be impassable or dangerous.

If you're sure you have time:

- Shut off water, gas and electricity before leaving, if instructed to do so.
- Post a note telling others when you left and where you are going.
- Make arrangements for your pets.

FREE Credit Reports for Consumers Begins December 1st in the West!

Here is the news many of you have been waiting for, about how to access your FREE credit Reports. With the passing of the FACTA act earlier this year The Federal Trade Commission has established a special telephone number, a web site, and a mail to address for consumers to use in requesting the free reports.

Credit reporting agencies WILL NOT HONOR a request for the free reports if consumers contact the directly. ALL REQUESTS for free credit reports MUST go thru the special web site, the special 800 toll free phone number, or the special mailing address.

If you have been following my recent articles, you will recall I have talked about the recent amendment to the Federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA). This is the Fair and Accurate Credit Transactions Act (FACTA) which requires each of the nationwide consumer reporting agencies to provide you with a free copy of your credit report, at your request, once every 12 months. The FCRA/FACTA promotes the accuracy and privacy of the information in the files of the nation's consumer reporting companies.

A credit report contains information on where you live, how you pay your bills, and whether you've been sued, arrested, or filed for bankruptcy. Nationwide consumer reporting companies sell the information in your report to creditors, insurers, employers, and other businesses that use it to evaluate your applications for credit, insurance, employment, or renting a home. There are three nationwide consumer reporting companies-Equifax, Experian, and Transunion.

Consumers in the Western States will be the first to be able to order their free reports under the federal law beginning December 1st, 2004 The law will be phased in during a 9 month period, rolling form the west to the east. Beginning September 1, 2005 free reports will be accessible to all Americans, regardless of where they live.

To order your free report:

The three nationwide consumer reporting companies have set up one central web site, a toll free telephone number, and a mailing address through which you can order your free report. To order, go to www.annualcreditreport.com, call 1-877-322-8228, or complete the Annual Credit Report Request Form and mail it to: Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta GA. 30348-5281.

Do not contact the three nationwide consumer reporting companies individually. You may only obtain you free reports thru the means listed above. You may order reports from each of the three nationwide consumer reporting companies at the same time or you can order from only one or two of them. You may do this only once every 12 months.

The information you will need to provide to get you free report is:

Your Name, Address, Social Security N-

Cox 01042

Date of Birth. To maintain the security of the file each reporting company may ask you for some information that only you would know, like the amount of your monthly mortgage payment. Each company may ask you for different information because the information each one has in you file may come from different sources.

Caution: www.annualcreditreport.com is the ONLY authorized source for your free credit report from the three nationwide consumer reporting companies. This site and the three credit reporting companies will not send you an e-mail asking for your personal information. If you get an e-mail or see a pop-up ad claiming its from www.annualcreditreport.com or any of the three nationwide consumer reporting companies, do not reply or click on any link in the message!- It's probably a scam. Forward any of these ads or claims to the FTC's database of deceptive spam at spam@uce.gov .

The reports generated by each of the three credit reporting companies is different. They don't make these necessarily east to read, and they periodically change the format, making them more confusing. If you have any questions or need help reading or understanding just what these report say, please feel free to contact me directly:

Writing a Check? Understand the Impact of "Check 21"

With the holiday shopping season here, The Better Business Bureau of Central/Northern Arizona cautions consumers who plan to write checks to pay for purchases to be aware of a new law. The law, which went into effect October 2004, shortens the "float time" on the checks you write. The Check Clearing for the 21st Century Act, also known as Check 21, shortens the grace period between the time your check is written and when the money is taken from your account. This means if you write a check at a retail establishment today, chances are the check will be processed electronically and the money could be debited from your bank account on the same day. No more two to three day float time! Under this new law consumer advocates predict that consumers will lose millions of dollars in bounced check fees.

The Check 21 law was designed to enable banks to replace the paper checks they receive with electronic images. Banks can now use electronic-check processing to reduce, by an estimated $2 billion a year, the cost of moving, clearing and returning paper checks.

What does this mean for consumers? The BBB urges consumers to be aware of the following:

· Before you write a check, make sure that your checking account has enough money in it to cover the check. Checks you write now will clear sooner - which means money may be deducted from your checking account faster than you may anticipate.

· You may not gain access to the funds from checks you deposit any sooner than before. While the new law speeds up how quickly funds can be taken out of your checking account, it does not speed up the length of time in which your bank must make funds available from the checks that you deposit. The new law does not shorten check hold times.

· You may also start to see fewer and fewer of your original checks in your bank statements and more paper substitutes. Many consumers already receive digital images of their checks, a list of their paid checks, or a combination of these items. According to the Federal Reserve Board, Check 21 will have little to no effect on these practices. However, if you do get your canceled checks back in your regular bank account statements, you may notice some changes under Check 21. For example, your bank may start sending you a combination of original checks and "substitute checks" in your account statements. A substitute check is a special paper copy of the front and back of an original check. The substitute check is a legal copy of your check. You can use it the same way you would use the original check.

· Before Check 21, your own bank decided how long to keep your original checks, if they were not returned with your statement. Under Check 21, the bank of the person you wrote the check to may decide when to destroy your check. Neither Check 21 nor any other law requires

IF DISASTER STRIKES

- Remain calm and patient. Put your plan into action.
- Check for injuries
- Give first aid and get help for seriously injured people.
- Listen to your battery powered radio for news and instructions
- Evacuate, if advised to do so. Wear protective clothing and sturdy shoes.
- Check for damage in your home...

➢ Sniff for gas leaks, starting at the water heater. If you smell gas or suspect a leak, turn off the main gas valve, open windows, and get everyone outside quickly.

- Remember to...

➢ Check on your neighbors, especially elderly or disabled persons.

➢ Make sure you have an adequate water supply in case service is cut off.

➢ Stay away from downed power lines.

The Federal Emergency Management Agency's Family Protection Program and the American Red Cross' Disaster Education Program are nationwide efforts to help citizens prepare for disasters of all types. For more information, please contact your local emergency management or civil defense office, and your local American Red Cross chapter. Start planning now.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT FOR THE STATE OF ARIZONA

) ss.
County of Yavapai)

SHEILA M. CAHILL, having been duly sworn upon her oath, deposes and states as follows:

1 I am over eighteen (18) years of age and have personal knowledge of the matters set forth herein.

2 I have personal knowledge of, or am otherwise competent to testify as to, each and every fact set forth in this Affidavit.

3 I am a licensed private investigator for Palmer Investigative Services where I have worked since June, 1985.

4. I have been a licensed private investigator for 27 years

5 I was hired by the Defendants in the above-referenced cause to investigate the conditions of properties, and the existence of business and commercial activities, in what is commonly referred to as Coyote Springs Ranch, which is located along Highway 89A in Yavapai County, Arizona ("Coyote Springs"), and which is allegedly governed by the Declaration of Restrictions for the Coyote Springs Subdivision that were recorded on June 13, 1974, at Book 944 Pages 752-754 ("Declaration").

6. I originally performed my work in this matter in 2004 I now understand that the above-captioned case still has not yet resolved and was asked to update my efforts from 2004.

7. After again reviewing the Declaration, my staff and I visited each and every one of the more than approximately 400 properties in the Coyote Springs and took photographs of all of the properties that appeared to violate various provisions of the Declaration. Copies of those photographs are attached as Exhibit "1" attached hereto. These photographs were taken between February 22, 2012, and March 7, 2012. Each photograph was marked with the parcel number.

8. Many of the properties in Coyote Springs are "vacant" according to the records of the Yavapai County Assessor. In our canvas of the neighborhood, we found that the records of the Assessor are not accurate. Many of the properties showing as vacant are not vacant.

9 In all of Coyote Springs, we were only able to find 30 non-vacant properties, which is less than ten percent (10%) of the total properties in Coyote Springs that we viewed, that do not appear to have a violation of the Declaration. Thus, approximately 90 percent (90%) of the properties we viewed in Coyote Springs appear to violate the Declaration.

10. During my investigation, my staff and I observed numerous apparent violations of paragraphs 6, 7(a), 7(b), 7(c) 7(e), 8, 9, 12, 13 and 16 of the Declaration. Almost all of the properties have a propane tank in open view Others have other violations such as trash receptacles being in open view; junk and abandoned vehicles being on the property; dwellings on the property without a residence being erected; travel trailers or campers on the property; two residences on the same property; or they have more than one violation on the same property. On some of them, the residences themselves are falling apart and are unlivable. Below is a listing of specific examples of violations of the Declaration noted and observed that in our view were obvious based upon our visual inspections:

Parcel 401-01-134	-	This property has a residence and a rental house on the same property

Parcel 401-01-040A	-	Lots of trash, trailers and tanks
Parcel 103-01-083F	-	Trash, trucks and a possible refrigerator outside
Parcel 103-01-150C	-	Two houses
Parcel 103-01-186E	-	There is a big garage and two travel trailers, but there does not seem to be a residence, which is in violation

Parcel 103-01-072J	-	Two houses

Parcel 103-01-101J	-	Two houses, trailers, propane tanks
Parcel 103-01-057F	-	Numerous trailers, tanks and other items

11. I also noted numerous properties where business and commercial activities are being conducted in apparent violation of paragraph 2 of the Declaration. To determine whether businesses or commercial activities are being operated on the Coyote Springs properties, we searched the records of the Arizona Secretary of State, the Arizona Corporation Commission, the Arizona Registrar of Contractors, and the Yavapai County Recorder's Office. Our search covered the period from January 1, 1970 to February 12, 2012.

12 Specific examples of business and commercial activities identified included the following:

Parcel 401-01-042B	-	There are several horse trailers on this property showing "Alvey Racing Diane Darrel Darcey" and "Saunders Racing Stables", along with the extra residences and all of the horses.
Parcel 103-01-084D	-	According to the Arizona Secretary of State, Bruce Friss-Pettitt, the owner of the parcel, has an active trademark under the name of "Round Logo, Red, Navy and Cream Colored with All New Again Paintless Dent Removal, Windshield Repair, Interior Repair, Paint Touchup". His address is listed in the corporate records as 8750 E. Faraway Place, in Prescott Valley, which is in Coyote Springs.
